

5 June 1925 – George T. Wolk, proprietor of the Gift Shop, has opened for the season. During the past winter he operated a similar business in Denver.

5 June 1925 – Ira E. Knapp [sic, Ira O. Knapp] of Fort Collins has opened the Glen Haven store in Devils Gulch for the season.

5 June 1925 – F.R.C. Rollins has purchased Fairview cottage on Fish Creek from Dr. George Best Crissman. The property consists of seven acres facing the country club.

5 June 1925 – Miss Elizabeth M.A. Foot has returned to the park for the summer – She is associated with a large real estate firm in Los Angeles. She is an old-timer in the Park and her many friends hope that she will remain

5 June 1925 – Headline: Sister of Estes Park Man Passes Away. Miss Lena B. Dreamer of Longmont passed away at 12:15 on 2 June 1925, after an illness of several months at the age of 20 years, 4 months, and 3 days. The deceased is survived by two brothers, Harvey Dreamer and Clyde Dreamer of Estes Park, three sisters – Mrs. M. Derr of Portland, Oregon, Mrs. Hester Clark of Pioche, Nevada, and Irene Garvin of Casper, Wyoming – and her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Dreamer of Estes Park. Miss Dreamer came to Longmont in 1905 [essentially when she was born, so she probably didn't come herself], and had since made her home there [when Lena Dreamer's father died in 1922, his obituary said that she was living in Lyons, which another 1922 article about her returning from a summer at the Hewes-Kirkwood Inn confirms, and that her sister Mrs. Will Derr was living in Estes Park.]

5 June 1925 – Headline: The Rocky Mountain School of Musical Art. The Rocky Mountain School of Musical Art which was established in Estes Park last summer announces the second term beginning 24 June 1925 and lasting until 1 August 1925. With the coming of the school to Estes Park, the community has undoubtedly reached the heights of musical interest, and to Mrs. Maud Biard of Waxahachie, Texas, founder and director, this region is indebted to a movement so artistic and instructive. Mrs. Biard is a teacher of both piano and voice of wide experience, and is also founder and directory of the Waxahachie School of Music. She has unusual ability as an executive, and her sincerity of purpose combined with a pleasing personality bespeak success in this undertaking. The faculty is unsurpassed in the southwest, every member being an artist of international fame. David Guion, head of the piano department, who is an American and a native of Texas, is a nationally known composer – his arrangement of the old fiddlers breakdown “Turkey in the Straw” being one of his best-known compositions. He maintains a private studio in Dallas, Texas, and is a member of the faculty of the Waxahachie School of Music. Mr. Guion is not only a pianist and composer, but he is a thoroughbred horseman. Last summer in one of the famous rodeo events in Estes Park which was given by cowboys and horsemen known all over the states, Mr. Guion won first prize in a cowboy race. William E. Jones, a tenor and teacher of singing, is a native of Wales, and was reared in the atmosphere of the "Eisteddford" which has made Wales famous as the land of song. The school is very fortunate in having a man of Mr. Jones' qualifications as a member of the faculty. He is director of music at the Texas State College for Women, C.I.A., in Denton, Texas. Grace Freeman, violinist, also has unusual ability as a teacher and a performer. She was reared in California, and has toured the country giving concerts in all the larger cities of the north and east. Miss Freeman has just returned from France after four years of study in the Paris Conservatory. Neil Guion, experienced as a supervisor and teacher of public school music will conduct classes in this branch of musical art. For several years, she was supervisor in the El Paso, Texas, schools. She is a member of the music faculty of the public schools of Dallas, Texas. Miss Guion is a sister of David Guion, and was in the Estes Park school last summer. Pearl McCarter Clift and Nanlou Biard will be in charge of the junior department. Special courses for children and beginners have been arranged. Mrs. Clift is a member of the Waxahachie School of Music. Miss Biard is a teacher of piano at the Simmons College at Abilene, Texas. The teachers of this department have had special preparation for this branch of work. Both are artist pupils of David Guion. Studios, practice rooms, and recital hall which are equipped with new Parkard pianos will be located in the school building. The students will live at Prospect Inn, and faculty headquarters will be at the Lewiston Hotel. The Texas party will arrive in Denver by special train of five Pullmans and observation over the Rock Island 23 June 1925. Registration will begin in Estes Park the day following.

5 June 1925 – Headline: School of Expression and Dramatic Art. The summer school of Expression and Dramatic Art of the Rocky Mountain Artists Colony is becoming a center for people who desire an educational recreational summer. The interesting faculty numbers on its list [include] some of the leading teachers of the country. Oliver Hinsdell who is an expert in Little Theatre work recently won the David Balasco loving cup for the second successive season in New York City, and is generally acclaimed an authority in his line of work. Ethel Priscilla Potter of Boston, Massachusetts, will head the Literature Department. Miss Potter lectures for the Browning Clubs of New York City, and gives a course of reading each year at Columbia University. Eugene Pilot, playwright of New York City, will teach playwriting. Mr. Pilot belongs to the younger generation of writers, and has had several plays presented on Broadway. Aloha Harrington of Boston, Massachusetts, will have charge of all campfire and social affairs. A very interesting program is being worked out for the pleasure of the students and townspeople. Another interesting diversion will be the handcrafts department, this will include basketry weaving, the making of jewelry and trays. The dancing department will be under the direction of Miss Alva White from Ned Wayburn's School of New York City. She will give both classic and ballroom dancing. The teachers from this school came highly recommended. The Wayburn School of Dancing prepares Florenze Ziegfeld's girls for the Follies, and is the leading school of dancing in New York City. The faculty will include twelve teachers. We are glad to know that among those who will return are Mrs. Cheatham, Jessie Millsaps, Rebecca Schofield, Olivia Hobgood, and Bernard Szold. Mrs. Harry Fugate, director, is very optimistic over the outcome, and states that the school is becoming nationally known as letters have come from every state in the union concerning the courses of study. Mrs. Fugate has had a special field representative who has organized parties to come from St. Louis, Missouri, New York, and Boston, Massachusetts. The School of Expression and Dramatic Art will be located at the Craggs Hotel, and all classes will be held there. These courses are open to all interested in this line of work, and it is hoped that there will be a large enrollment from Estes Park and the surrounding country. This is an ideal location, and the officials of the school and the citizens of Estes Park feel that it will be a mutual benefit.

5 June 1925 – Advertisement: Electrified Ice Cream is demanded by discriminating people. We have just installed a 40-gallon capacity iceless electric ice cream machine. Patrons buying our cream, who are familiar with this modern equipment, have not fear of getting ice cream that is not in the very best of condition. When you want brick ice cream, remember electrified bricks are in condition to carry out on trips. We have exclusive right in the village on Eskimo Pies at 5 cents. We also carry five kinds of ice cream and sherbets, in addition to the bricks for you to select from. Sunday chicken dinners. Don't forget our Sunday chicken dinners, and our weekday merchants' lunches at popular prices. Sandwiches and lunches at all hours, in addition to the three regular meals daily. We are proud of our chef, and invite you to give him a trail. Bulk and box candies. Excellent selection of bulk and box candies of best qualities. We expect soon to carry a very nice line of homemade candies, made in our own candy kitchen. Curtis and Agnew, formerly Tallant's.

5 June 1925 – Headline and byline: Estes Park in 1874 by Mary B. Holcomb. (Editor's note – The following article was written by Mary B. Holcomb, for whom Marys Lake, south of the village, was named. She was a resident of Estes Park in 1874, and was related to Griff Evans, another pioneer of the region. Mrs. Holcomb now resides in Los Angeles, California. We are indebted to Mrs. Byron Hall for the article.) Dear Mr. Harris: This letter telling of the naming of Marys Lake was sent to Mr. Byron Hall's aunt, Mrs. Clark, who sent it to me to be passed on to you. If she was not so feeble, I am sure she could write many interesting things of the early days. You need not return the letter. You will notice that part of the letter is Welch, and the lady herself is Welch. Mrs. Byron Hall. Not long ago, some views of present day Estes Park were sent to me, also some views of Lake Mary (shall I call it my lake?). On 22 May 1874, Lake Mary was named in honor of my birthday. A month later, I was married to John Buchanan. The old scout, Mountain Jim, named the lake [which begs the question, what was it called prior to 1874, since it clearly existed prior to 1874?]. Mr. Buchanan and myself had been for a horseback ride toward Longs Peak. When we returned to the ranch, Jim was there. He asked us where we had been, and Mr. Buchanan said, "We have been up to the lake for a ride to celebrate Mary's birthday." Jim's reply was, "The lake has no name [again, I am somewhat skeptical], we will name it Lake Mary in honor to her birthday." I had forgotten all about it until the postals [i.e., postcards] were sent to me. My uncle Griffith

Evans lived at the ranch there. Miss Bird, who was there when I was [well, if Mary Holcomb was there in the fall and winter of 1873], wrote “[A Lady’s] Life in the Rocky Mountains.” I have the book and have read it over many times. We secured one quarter section of land half a mile south of the lake after we were married and built a log house on it. It was called Buchanan Ranch, and all who went up Longs Peak called on us. Bierstadt, the artist, was with us often, and a fine painting of sheep rock was made from our porch. The happiest days of my life were spent there. We also met many noted people there. The deer, elk, and mountain sheep were plentiful then. One day, we scattered some salt around the lake, and they would come down and lick it up. Strange, too, they seemed to know that I would not hurt them, and would come around if I was alone. My uncle, Griffith Evans, and family were the first family to make their home in Estes Park [after Joel Estes and family]. James McLoughling [sic] came next. When the Earl of Dunraven came up there, he taught me how to play whist, always selecting me for his partner. The reason was, I never forgot what was the trump. It made him made when anyone asked, “What is trump?” I went up to Estes Park in June 1873, where my uncle and family lived at that time. Marys Lake was named 22 May 1874. Mr. Buchanan and myself were married 21 June 1874 at Longmont by Rev. Richard Jones Williams.

5 June 1925 – Headline: “Hotel Mountainside” Newest Hotel in Estes Park. Situated upon the crest of a ridge running from the peak of Green Mountain to the Glacier Creek Rapids, and at an elevation of approximately 8700 feet, is a beautiful structure called Hotel Mountainside. Hotel Mountainside is a new hotel among the 30 hotels of the Estes Park region, and is of the exclusive type. It was built on a 53-acre tract, and was formerly the summer home of Dr. John Timothy Stone of Chicago, Illinois. From the roof garden of the hotel, which is reached after climbing two flights of pretty, rustic stairways, one has a magnificent view of all the peaks of the entire snowy range from Longs Peak on the south to Hagues Peak on the north, a weep of twenty miles, and of the valleys below and the mountain peaks on the eastern side of the Continental Divide for miles and miles. Below may be seen the YMCA conference grounds, and farther over may be seen the Stanley Hotels. To the east of the roof garden one may step onto the open-air roof dining room, where dinner parties will hold forth on pleasant summer afternoons and evenings. Hotel Mountainside is approached by either the road through the YMCA conference grounds or by the road from the head of Glacier Creek Hill. Upon entering the hotel, one is ushered into a pretty stone reception room and lobby that is complete and harmonious to the minutest detail. Looking over your left shoulder, you gaze through the plate glass windows upon one of the most rugged sections of the Front Range in the neighborhood of Bear Lake. At the other end of the room is a large and very beautiful rustic fireplace, and all about the room are magnificent mounted game heads, among which are represented the American buffalo, bear both brown and polar, deer, antelope, and others. The other portion of the lobby is entered through an artistic and rustic stone archway, and all about are found comfortable seats and window settees and other comforts. Each of the guest rooms have tiny little rustic fireplaces to combat the slight chill of the early spring mornings. Guests who desire to have a cottage by themselves are provided for in several nice cottages conveniently located on the hotel grounds and nestling cozily among the thick groves of lodgepole pines. The hotel this year will accommodate 30 guests, and manager Charles H. Woods is busily engaged in putting the final touches to the marvelous picture of a dream that has come true in his fine new hotel, owned jointly by himself and Mr. B.E. Paige, a wealthy Chicago, Illinois, manufacturer. The hotel opens 15 June 1925 for the season.

5 June 1925 – Dr. George B. Crissman, dentist, will be in Estes Park this summer. He has taken offices with Dr. Peckham, the osteopath, in the former real estate office of Dr. Homer E. James, next door west from Francis' Art Store.

12 June 1925 – Headline: Three National Organizations Have Conventions Here Soon. Three mammoth conventions will be held in Estes Park during the latter half of June 1925 and the first part of July 1925. Three national organizations have chosen this place as the most suitable and desirable to hold their annual meetings in, and hundreds of delegates will come here for these meetings. The organizations are the Colorado-Wyoming Laundry Owners Association [hard to see how this is a national organization], The Sigma Chi Fraternity, and the Union Central Life Insurance Company. The first convention, that of the Colorado-Wyoming Laundry Owners Association, will be held at the Stanley Hotel, and the dates for the meeting of the convention are 18 June 1925 and 19 June 1925. Two hundred delegates will attend this convention, and these people will come from all parts of Wyoming and Colorado. Four days after this convention has been dismissed, the Sigma Chi Fraternity, a college fraternity of national nature with chapters all over the country, will have its delegates gather at the Stanley Hotel, and begin a convention which will last for four days, lasting from 23 June 1925 to 26 June 1925. Between 400 and 500 members of the fraternity, delegates from all parts of the nation, will attend. The Union Central Life Insurance Company will start its convention on 29 June 1925 and it will continue until the evening of 2 July 1925. This will be the largest convention of all three mentioned, for about 700 delegates will make up the convention, and the largest part of this number of guests will be guests at the Stanley Hotel, while the overflow will be guests at the Craggs Hotel and Lewiston Hotel.

12 June 1925 – Headline: Airplane Delivered Oxygen Futile in Aiding Influenza Victim. At 5:00 p.m. Wednesday evening, there roared into Estes Park, out of the eastern sky, an airplane, just 45 minutes after having left Denver, and in his machine were two tanks of oxygen which were rushed here in a futile effort to save the life of Mrs. Marxer of Detroit, Michigan, who was suffering from influenza, and who died last night at the Stanley Hotel at 8:40 p.m. Dr. Reid, who had been attending the case of Mrs. Marxer, realized that the condition of his patient demanded drastic measures, so he communicated with F.C. Butterfield and Son, 1632 Court Place, Denver, dealers in medical supplies, and asked that two tanks of oxygen be sent here as fast as possible. A taxicab was first engaged to bring it here, but on second thought, an airplane was engaged to deliver the oxygen here. The tanks were carried by automobile to Hogan Field where pilot Earl Parker was waiting with his airplane. The tanks were loaded into the airplane and the airplane immediately took off for Estes Park, and it arrived here, a distance of over 70 miles, in less than 50 minutes. The oxygen on being received in Estes Park was immediately taken to the Stanley Hotel and used by Dr. Reid, and an improvement was noted, but later complications arose and Mrs. Marxer died last night. Mr. H.C. Wade, father of the patient, is to arrive in Estes Park today. The airplane that delivered the oxygen returned to Denver on Thursday morning.

12 June 1925 – Headline: Dynamite, Steam Shovel, and Manpower Strive to Clear Fall River Pass. First was used hundreds of pounds of dynamite, then they brought in a steam shovel, and now a crew of men have gone up to the Fall River Road to try and get the snow out of the way, so that it will be open by 15 June 1925, next Monday. The storm of last Saturday and Sunday nearly ruined all of the efforts that had been expended the week previous to open the road, for the 12 inches of snow that fell during the storm, and the wind that blew and drifted so much snow, filled up a great deal of the cut made by the use of dynamite, which was layed last fall and exploded this spring, and the use of the steam shovel. Men armed with shovels were taken up Thursday, and it is hoped that the road will soon be open. The use of the dynamite was a new innovation, as has been the employment of the steam shovel. A new scoop, especially designed for scooping up snow, has been taken up to the scene of operations, and it is hoped that better results will be obtained from it, than were gained in the use of the dirt scoop that was standard equipment on the shovel. The dirt scoop held three-quarters of a yard of snow, and such was its construction that the wet snow stuck within it, and it had to be shoveled out by men with shovels. With the new scoop, a double amount of snow can be gotten at each load, a yard to be exact, and it is hoped that the snow will not have the tendency to cling to it, as had been the case with the dirt scoop.

12 June 1925 – Headline: Wild West to Live Again Within Estes Park on Three Occasions. The old west is to invade Estes Park three times between now and the Fourth of July. This reappearance will manifest itself in the form of cowboy races, bull dodging, bronc riding, trick roping, fancy shooting, fancy riding, and all of the rest of the things that used to form the spectacular side of life in the west. On 24 June 1925, the wild western men and animals will unloosen all of the high life that is in them especially for the benefit of the Sigma Chi fraternity, who will be attending a convention at the Stanley Hotel on this date. And then on 1 July 1925, after having several days of rest and time enough to accumulate a lot of vigor, these same men and animals will started the visiting delegates of the Union Central Life Insurance Company, who will be in convention at this time. On the national holiday, the Fourth of July, the members of this same group of performers will blow the lid off, for the benefit of all who will be in Estes Park on that day. Men will take part in these days of action who are famous in the annals of Cheyenne, Wyoming, and Pendleton, Oregon, for the records that they have made in riding, roping, and shooting. Frank Miller, famous for his ability in fancy shooting, will do uncanny things with his guns. Among the famous horses that will try to unseat all who are foolhardy enough to mount them are Pendleton Bob, Drifter, Funeral Wagon, What The Hell, and Feather Bed, and other notorious outlaws of the equestrian species. This should be a big drawing card for Estes Park, and because the events are coming at intervals, it will mean that more people will be able to attend. Mr. R.P. McClelland has contracted for the appearance of all those who are to perform in the rodeos. Mr. G.M. Hodnette of Denver, and old-time Texas cowmen, negotiated with Mr. McClelland for the performance that will be given on 1 July 1925 for the Union Central Life Insurance Company convention. Mr. Joslyn made arrangements with Mr. Hodnette to put on a real old-time western show to entertain the delegates of the Sigma Chi Convention on 24 June 1925.

12 June 1925 – Headline: Cottage Directory to be a Park of Regular Estes Park Directory. The Estes Park Trail is making preparations to print a new directory of Estes Park and the Estes Park area. This is the first directory to be published in two years, and it will be a decided improvement over any that have been produced in the past, and will be ready for distribution about 25 June 1925. Some of the special features of the new directory will be the two-page map of the Estes Park area, with a legend so that it will be possible for anyone, stranger or otherwise, to find his way about the intricate roads that traverse Estes Park. A cottage directory will be an added feature of the directory, and in this will be listed all the names of the owners of the cottages, and the cottages that they have to rent, and it is hoped that all people who have cottages to rent will leave their names and the cottages that they have to rent at the Estes Park Trail office. The names of permanent summer occupants of rented cottages will be included in the directory. The directory will contain the telephone numbers of all residences and business houses that have telephones, and the addresses of all the houses and cottages throughout the Estes Park region. About 1500 copies of the directory will be printed so that there will be plenty for everybody, and be sure and get your copy when it comes off the press.

12 June 1925 – Headline: Ashton Cabin Burns Sunday Evening, is Total Loss. The Willard H. Ashton cabin burned to the ground last Sunday evening at 8:00 p.m. The cabin was constructed of logs, and was located in Horseshoe Park, near the north end of High Drive [when High Drive ran all the way around Deer Mountain]. It was located in a dense grove of trees, and it was feared for a time that a forest fire of serious nature might result, but thanks to the storm of the same day, the foliage and timber surrounding the cabin site was so wet that it didn't burn to any extent, just two or three trees being destroyed. The fire was seen soon after it started by Mr. Bechtel, proprietor of the Deer Ridge Chalet, Dave Stirling, and several others at the road camp nearby. They rushed to the scene of the conflagration, but were powerless to do anything to stop it. The cause of the fire is unknown, and it has been unoccupied for some time.

12 June 1925 – The Riverside Amusement Park will open for the season on Saturday, 20 June 1925. Quite a few changes have been made to the dance floor. The orchestra pit has been moved from the center of the floor to the east side of the floor. A new baby grand piano has been permanently installed. The swimming pool is to be improved by having the stone abutments covered and trussed. A roof has been placed over the pool so that the swimmers will not be exposed to the sun. A box ball alley has been installed (I don't know what a box ball alley is) and will form part of the amusements of the park. In addition to this a shooting gallery has been inaugurated and will be under the care of Finn Rogers [the use of the word "inaugurated" makes it unlikely that the mention of a Mr. Rodgers opening a shooting gallery in the 1914 Estes Park Trail is the same individual, or the same location]. Mr. Jelsema has built six cottages for his employees to reside in while they are in the Park this summer.

12 June 1925 – The picture show opened for the season on Saturday.

12 June 1925 – The Horseshoe Inn has relocated and installed a new light plant that is run by water power [I think they relocated the light plant, not the entire Horseshoe Inn]

12 June 1925 – Muriel MacGregor graduated from Colorado College last Wednesday. [She began attending Colorado College in the fall of 1921]

12 June 1925 – Dave Stirling has his studio in a cottage adjacent to Horseshoe Inn. His wife, daughter, and little son that was born Christmas Day will arrive Friday.

12 June 1925 – Magers and Dawson are building a new hotel at the entrance to Horseshoe Park. [This is the Cascade Lodge.] It will contain twenty sleeping rooms in addition to the kitchens, dining rooms and other rooms. It will be ready about 4 July 1925. Magers and Dawson were the former owners of the Sherwood Hotel.

12 June 1925 – Dr. H.E. Peckham, the osteopath, is making his residence at the Log Cabin on the main street next door west from the Estes Park Water Company. [See the 30 January 1925 article where the Water Company was moving into the former Rocky Mountain National Park administration building, and the 24 April 1925 article where this building had been moved around the corner to Riverside, and both Bond & Company and the Water Company were planning to occupy one of the new buildings in the Boyd Block]

12 June 1925 – Evan Edwards, of Lawrence, Kansas, came into Estes Park the first part of the week to take charge of Filling Station No. 2, by the camp grounds. Myriell Boreing will arrive about 20 June 1925 to take charge of Station No. 1. He has been employed by Mr. Rollins for the last four summers.

12 June 1925 – Dr. George Best Crissman's dental office is almost completed and will be modern and sanitary and a credit to Estes Park. He is located on the Main Street, opposite the Presbyterian Church. He has been practicing for the last 30 years. Dr. H.E. Peckham, the osteopath, has completed the furnishing of his office in the building where he was last year and will be glad to meet his old patients at any time. He is located on the Main Street opposite the Presbyterian Church.

19 June 1925 – Headline: Noted Chappell School of Art Having Summer Session Here. The Estes Park summer school of the Chappell School of Art is now in progress. It started on 15 June 1925, and will continue in session until 15 September 1925. Studies of landscape, figure painting, composition, lectures, handcrafts, and juvenile classes will be held. In announcing the first summer school of Estes Park, it is believed that something beyond the usual study of art is being offered. This applies not only to the excellent qualifications of the instructors directing the work, but also in the choice of location and unlimited material at hand; here amid all that which is most beautiful in nature, those studying will indeed find inspiration. From June to September marks a season in the Rocky Mountains particularly appealing to the lover of nature. The splendor of color, grandeur of titanic peaks whose summits are crowned with eternal snow, the silent brooding canyons, spruce and pine-clad slopes whose moods are legion from dawn to dawn, and with each mood a corresponding change of color, mountain torrents rushing and leaping or cascading over granite boulders that vainly strive to stem the mad plunge, glaciers whose myriad hues are the delight and despair of the artist's brush, lakes and ponds fed by melting snow and ice from glaciers, valleys carpeted with a profusion of wildflowers, evergreen and aspen trees gathered together in nature's brotherhood – all these form a perfect ensemble, yet each fragment is complete and satisfying a thing of beauty. The class in drawing, painting, landscape, figure, composition, and lectures is under the instruction of Mr. Birger Sandzen, Litt. D., who is a noted painter, etcher, water colorist, lithographer, and pupil of Stockholm's Artists' League under Zorn and Bergh. He has studied under Amen-Jean in Paris, France, and came to the United States in 1894. He was teacher of painting at the Broadmoor Art Academy during the summers of 1923-24. He is a member of N.Y. W.C.C., California W.C.S. He has won the following awards: First Moore prize, Kansas City, Missouri, 1917, and Philadelphia W.C.C. prize 1922. His work is to be found in the National Museum of Stockholm, Sweden, LUnd Museum of Sweden, Library of Congress in Washington, D.C., Chicago [Illinois] Art Institute, New York Public Library, Yale Art Museum, Art Museum of Santa Fe, New Mexico, Art Museum of Los Angeles, California, and many other public art collections. He also has the distinction of being one of the 30 American painters that were invited to exhibit at the International Art Exhibit in Rome, Italy. The subject sent by Mr. Sandzen was a Colorado mountain scene. Mr. Sandzen is an artist whose excellent training and background recommends him to all serious students. The vigorous and powerful conception of his subjects has made him known as the greatest exponent of the western rugged wilderness. He works equally well in oil, watercolor, wood block, and lithograph. Instruction will be for the beginner as well as the advanced student. The students will work out of doors, but in case of inclement or stormy weather, studios have been engaged in the high school building, room 4, where the work may be carried on without interruption. Two morning field criticisms will be given weekly. Individual indoor criticisms will be given each Saturday morning, following a general class of criticism and lecture. The Chappell School of Art is located in Denver, and is acquiring national fame. It also has a branch established at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

19 June 1925 – Headline: Convention Auditorium for Estes Park is Given an Impetus by Generous Gift. At the meeting of the Estes Park Chamber of Commerce at the Estes Park Chalets Monday evening, matters looking toward the erection of a convention auditorium for Estes Park took a turn that practically assures Estes Park of a convention auditorium within the next two years of ample size to care for the needs of Estes Park for a number of years to come, when Mr. J.D. Stead offered to give from 10,000 to 20,000 running log feet of logs for the building of it on the rustic order. The meeting was the largest ever held in Estes Park by the Chamber of Commerce, with nearly 135 men and their wives present, and the sense of the community seemed to be unanimously expressed in favor of putting up the building without delay. This meeting of the Estes Park Chamber of Commerce at the new Estes Park Chalets was the first to be held in the new building just completed and elegantly appointed, and could be termed a housewarming party. The nearly 150 guests sat down to well-laden banquet boards at 7:30 p.m., and did full justice to the well-prepared meal. Following the dinner, Dr. John R. Bell, extension director of the State Teachers College at Greeley, delivered a very fine, timely, and interesting talk on “Selling Colorado.” Dr. Bell told something of his early experiences in Estes Park when it was necessary to ride into Estes Park on horseback. He stated that it was a joy for the leader class and world explorers to visit Estes Park, but that it was our job to recreate the masses [perhaps in the sense of providing recreation for them]. Dr. Bell stated that Estes Park was the finest city in the United States for conventions, and that when we were ready for them, they will flock here. He said that from the three we will have this spring, that in ten years we will be entertaining them by the score. He said, “We of Estes Park can, if we will, make this the supreme convention center.” He also said Estes Park can be the center of a great educational program. “Here it is easy to find truth and to live pure. People love to grow spiritually and intellectually in this environment.” He told of the work of Camp Olympus, the summer school that is made use of by the State Teachers College at Greeley, and predicted that in ten years, Estes Park will each year have from 5000 to 10,000 students studying and recreating in Estes Park. He said that here nature has something to teach that has not and cannot be put in books. He laid considerable stress on the necessity of keeping the environment in Estes Park up to a high idea, that if we want Coney Island we cannot expect to gain the other things with it – that we may be and have what we will to have. He also told of the unique position that the State Teachers College at Greeley enjoys in having twice the enrollment in its extension department of that of any other educational institution in the country. Walter J. Spray, president of the Denver Tourist Bureau, was present, and offered many valuable suggestions to the chamber, and expressed his surprise in finding so many in Estes Park members of its Chamber of Commerce, and stated that had Denver the same proportionate interest of its businessmen in its Chamber of Commerce, there was little that it could not accomplish. He told something of the work of the Denver Tourist Bureau, and stated they were maintaining ten branch offices in various parts of the country. Mr. Steele of the Denver Real Estate Board of the Denver Chamber of Commerce was present, and presented the possibility of obtaining their next national convention for Estes Park in June of 1927. He stated there would be 3000 delegates, and that a hall of that capacity should be provided, and that they would be here for nearly a week. Upon motion, a cash fund of nearly $250 was raised to defray the expenses of a delegate to the National Real Estate Men's Convention in Detroit, Michigan, this month, to invite the next convention to Estes Park, and the Denver Real Estate Men promise to do all they can to assist in landing the convention for Colorado. Mr. Cotsworth of Omaha, Nebraska, of the Burlington System was present, and contributed $25 to this fund. Mr. A.D. Lewis was chosen to attend the convention. The matter of obtaining the help of the Larimer County Commissioners in building a road into Big Elk Park was taken up and passed. This road will open a large and new territory to Estes Park and Boulder County, and the National Forest Service has already promised $12,000 if the Larimer County officials will supply the remaining $4000 necessary. A committee on entertainment to look after the Congressional party that will visit Estes Park on 11 July 1925 was appointed, with Claude Erwin Verry as chairman and Rocky Mountain National Park Superintendent Toll and Mr. Levings as committee members.

19 June 1925 – Headline: Estes Park People Go on Hotel Owners Outing. Seven people of Estes Park attended the Rocky Mountain Hotel Association Outing that was held throughout southern Colorado from 5 June 1925 to 8 June 1925. This outing was held in conjunction with the annual convention of the American Hotel Association at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs on 5 June 1925. Those people who attended the outing from Estes Park are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haberl of the Stanley Hotels, Mrs. Enos Mills of the Longs Peak Inn, Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Lewis of the Lewiston Hotels, and Mr. and Mrs. E.O. Brown of the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company. The outing of the Rocky Mountain Hotel Association took place in the form of an automobile tour from Denver to Pueblo, through all of the important cities between those two towns, and through some of the finest mountain scenery to be seen anywhere. A program for the whole time was scheduled with enjoyable occasions, and the outing was worthwhile in every respect.

19 June 1925 – Headline: Fall River Road Open Two Days Early. The earliest date in the history of the Fall River Road [which has a long five-year history of being open] marked its opening when the first car went over from Estes Park to Grand Lake on Saturday, 13 June 1925. The official opening date of the road is 15 June, and this earlier date is gratifying to everyone. There are drifts on the road for a distance of two miles east of Fall River Pass, and for a distance of four miles west of the pass. The deepest drift to be found along the road is immediately east of the pass. This drift is 17-1/2 feet deep at the place where the deepest accumulation of snow is to be found. It is estimated that this snowdrift will not disappear until the latter part of July, and at the present time it is 1500 feet in length. It is said that the road will be somewhat difficult to travel over for the first two or three days, on account of the snow and mud, but by the middle of the week, the road should be in good condition. In opening the road this year, a variety of methods have been used. Dynamite, a steam shovel, horses, and men were used, and an added effort was made to insure the road being opened on the official opening date, and in spite of the two storms that nearly destroyed all of the work that had been done, the road was opened two days before the official date.

19 June 1925 – Headline: Card of Thanks. Mrs. Harris and I wish to thank publicly all those who have made our work so much more possible by presenting us with a motorcycle. The machine was ordered today and will be on the field when we arrive next January. Without your help it would have been an impossibility. Signed, Earl George Harris.

19 June 1925 – Headline: Somer's Dainty Shop Opened Saturday. The Somer's Dainty Shop opened for business last Saturday, 13 June 1925. This firm will remain open for the rest of the season.

19 June 1925 – Miss Elizabeth M.A. Foot has purchased the A.L. Cobb property near Fall River on Elkhorn Avenue.

19 June 1925 – F.E. Brainard, proprietor of the Estes Park Market Company, and family have arrived in Estes Park for the summer.

19 June 1925 – Willard H. Ashton, of Rockford, Illinois, is spending a few days in Estes Park. Mr. Ashton is one of the early homesteaders in Estes Park and is the founder of the Horseshoe Inn.

19 June 1925 – A large amount of curbing and gutters have been installed this spring by property owners along Elkhorn Avenue. Several of them have laid lighting conduit also for ornamental lighting of the street. This good work will be finished in the fall.

19 June 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hupp were in Estes Park over last Tuesday and were callers at the Estes Park Trail office

19 June 1925 – The cabin owners on the canyon from Camp Olympus to Baldwin Inn are again agitating the electric line extension. There are about 160 cabins and certainly need light; here's hoping.

19 June 1925 – Chester Hall, proprietor of the Estes Park Creamery, came up to Estes Park with his family last Friday and they will reside here for the season.

19 June 1925 – The large Hotel Stanley opened last Wednesday, and registered guests at that time. This is the earliest that the main hotel has opened and forecasts a good season to come, when such large hotels open up so early in the season.'

19 June 1925 – The celebrated artist and portrait painter, Irving Allen Fox, who lives in Denver, was a guest at the Stanley this last week. Mr. Fox plans to open a studio in Estes Park soon, which will be open for the remainder of the summer. In this studio, he will display some of his work, and also paint.

19 June 1925 – Headline: Twins born to Mr. and Mrs. Frances Persons. Mr. and Mrs. Frances Persons are the proud parents of twins, and by the way, said to be the first on record in Estes Park. [This seems unbelievable, where among U.S. Caucasians, twins are born approximately once every 100 births, but I wouldn't know how to prove it incorrect until Colorado birth records are digitized, and made available to the public. Maybe Estes Park had only a few hundred births between 1875 and 1925, but in 1925 there were 10 other births, and this is a 50-year period.] The twins are a boy and a girl [fraternal twins of opposite sexes are the most common], and were born last Monday, and the mother and babies are reported as doing nicely. Mr. Persons is employed at the Stanley Hotels, and the family resides in Estes Park.

19 June 1925 – The Green Roof Tea Room opened Thursday, 18 June 1925 and will remain open for the rest of the season. This establishment is under the management of Georgia S. Holbert and Harriet S. Peters. It is their aim to make a specialty of breakfasts for golfers as well as luncheons and afternoon tea parties. The Tea Room and Breakfast Shop is located one mile out on the Country Club road. [I don't know how long Georgia S. Holbert remained involved. Harriet S. Peters was definitely involved when the property was sold at a sheriff's auction in 1928.]

19 June 1925 – A herd of 25 mountain sheep have been coming down to Sheep Lake at midday for the last several days. They are the genuine big horn mountain sheep and make a pretty spectacle. It has been requested that no one chase them, for if anyone attempts to follow them, they will become frightened and will not allow themselves to be seen for the rest of the season. The sheep are easily visible from the road, and it is not necessary for people to get out of their cars and attempt to follow them to see them. Sheep Lake is located in Horseshoe Park, not far distant from the Horseshoe Inn, and is adjacent to the auto road.

19 June 1925 – The Colorado Agricultural College truck was in Estes Park last Tuesday, and it brought up a large water tank that is going to be installed at Lory Hi. Other building materials were brought up, and these are to be used in repairs for the various cabins and buildings at Lory Hi. These preparations are being made for the benefit of the summer school students attending the Agricultural College at Fort Collins, many of whom spend their weekends at Lory Hi and other points in the Rocky Mountain National Park. At the last report, over 300 students had registered for the work that will be given this summer.

19 June 1925 – Mount Ypsilon, 13,507 feet in height, was scaled for the first time this season by a party of three from the YMCA camp on Monday, 15 June 1925. The party on arriving at the top found by looking into the registry that they were the first to scale the top at so early a date since 1916. Those comprising the party were Howard Taft of Trinidad, Colorado, Frank Guittard of Waco, Texas, and Leland Hascall of Topeka, Kansas. These people walked the entire distance to the top of the peak in one day and found the registry to be frozen in eight inches of ice. The ascent was made under difficulties because the party was unable to see over a hundred feet ahead on account of fog. The accomplishment is made all the more important when it is known that the party had only once before been in that part of the Rocky Mountain National Park region.

19 June 1925 – [DID THIS EVER HAPPEN?] Headline: Clatworthy Starts Work on New Art Center in Estes Park near National Park Office. [Would this be where the Big Slide is now, near the Big Thompson River?] Work has started on getting out the building logs for a new and novel art center that will be built on property owned by F.P. Clatworthy located on the river bottom between the National Park Office and the Craggs Hotel. The plans have been drawn for landscaping the entire property on both sides of the road from the National Park Office to the river bridge. Drives about the grounds are to be laid out connecting with the Moraine Park Road near the Narrows and extending through the grounds to Riverside Drive between the river and the Jones property [could this have been lot 20 of the Riverside subdivision?]. Moraine Drive will also be straightened so that there will be no bend in the street from the bank [assume the Estes Park Bank] to the bridge over the Big Thompson River below the Craggs.

26 June 1925 – Headline: Artists' Colony a Prophecy of Estes Park's Future as an Art Center. The Denver papers realized the true significance of the arrival of the Rocky Mountain Artists' Colony in Colorado. They realized that this year's organization is a forerunner of the great numbers that will come to Colorado and Estes Park in the future to study art during the summer. That is the reason that the special train that brought up the Texas artists as met in Denver by a battery of photographers, reporters, and representatives of the Knight-Campbell music company. That the Rocky Mountain National Park is the ideal place for students to pursue their studies in all forms of art during the summer months is manifested in a very striking manner when a special train is chartered to bring a group of people here to study. The Artists' Colony is made up of two groups. One division is that of the Rocky Mountain School of Musical Art, and should not be confused with the School of Expression and Dramatic Art, which is conducted by a different faculty than is the School of Musical Art. They are both a part of that organization known as the Rocky Mountain Artists' Colony, and both had members on board the special train that arrived from Texas last Tuesday in Denver, and who were brought up the same day to Estes Park in buses. The Rocky Mountain School of Musical Art is located at the Prospect Inn, where both faculty and students are staying for the five weeks that the school will be in session. The Craggs Hotel is the residence of the School of Expression and Dramatic Art, where the students and faculty are both to be found. The studios of the School of Musical Art are located in the school building, and new Packard Pianos are in all of the studios, and there is a Chickering Grand for use in the concert hall. Enrollment of the School of Musical Art is over double that of last year, and all of the students have not yet arrived. A school orchestra will be one of the outstanding features of the term, and all of the boys and girls of Estes Park who are interested in orchestral work are invited to become members of this orchestra, any sort of an instrument may be used. The direction of the orchestra will be in the hands of Miss Niel Guion [presumably related to David Guion]. In addition to this, a choral society is being organized, to which all interested in singing are invited to join. This will be under the direction of Mr. William E. Jones. Various concerts and recitals will be given during the season. Miss Grace Freeman of the violin department is playing at the Stanley Hotels during the evenings. Mrs. Maud Biard is the founder and director of the Rocky Mountain School of Musical Art, and to her is due much credit for showing the courage and foresight to bring this group of artists to Estes Park. The School of Expression and Dramatic Art has over one hundred enrolled. Courses are offered in all lines of dramatic work and expression, and the faculty is made up of people who are nationally, even internationally, known, as artists in their lines. Courses in vocal expression, public speaking, storytelling, playwriting, play production, pageantry, interpretive dancing, teaching methods, modern literature, handcrafts, and individual courses are given. The faculty is composed of Oliver Hinsdell, Bernard Szold, Priscilla Potter, Ivy Cheatham, Eugene Pillot, Jessie Millsaps, Mrs. Harry Fugate, Rebecca Schoffield, Mabel Harrington, Olivia Hobgood, Alona Harrington, and Alva White. Mrs. Fugate is the director of the School of Expression and Dramatic Art.

26 June 1925 – Print: Birger Sandzen print entitled “Arroyo with Trees”, signed and dated 1925.

26 June 1925 – Headline: Estes Park Chappell Summer School of Art Now in Session. The above drawing is by Birger Sandzen, director of the Estes Park Summer School of the Chappell School of Art, which is now in session. At last reports, the school is progressing in a very satisfactory manner, and a small group of earnest students and at work painting, sketching, and in other ways portraying the beauties of the Rocky Mountain National Park. Mr. Sandzen announces that he will hang some of his canvases for exhibition in the near future in the Stanley and Elkhorn Hotels. Mr. Sandzen’s work is of especial interest to the west, because it has been said of him by a critic that he is an artist of strong, uncompromising creative vision, a pioneer interpreter of the wonders of the great west. M.E. Marsh Buff, in “The International Studio,” says, “Taken as a whole, the artistic growth of this artist has been honest and fine. Starting with a love of nature such as in the heritage of the Scandinavian people, and a temperament capable of seeing beauty anywhere out in the so-called West, Sandzen has created a simple, personal, and wholly American Art. He has not borrowed either viewpoint or technique, but these interesting and vital canvases grew out of the necessity for expressing the feelings he has had before primitive nature.”

26 June 1925 – Headline: Californians Charmed with our Scenic Wonders. Mr. Henry Finch Burmester, president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Burmester spent eight days in Estes Park, leaving for Chicago and other points east last Sunday. Mr. Burmester has visited Yellowstone, Yosemite, Zion, and practically all the national parks. “All have charm, but here is the true wonderland, with that something that reaches out and grips one and makes you wish to linger,” said Mr. Burmester. The Estes Park golf course appealed to these visitors very strongly, where they enjoyed many hours. Under Mr. Burmester’s leadership, the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce has made a remarkable growth and developed a community spirit which is enviable. An arrangement was made with the office of the Estes Park Chamber of Commerce for the distribution in Long Beach of all literature bearing upon this region, furnished the Long Beach Chamber. [There were quite a few Estes Park residents spending their winters in Long Beach at this time, so I wonder if this visit was purely coincidental.]

26 June 1925 – Headline: Denver Community Players to Welcome Rocky Mountain Artists’ Colony. A group of nine players from the Denver Community Players will present “A Night at the Inn” by Dunsaney at the Craggs Hotel Saturday night, to honor the Rocky Mountain Artists’ Colony. The play will be given at the Music Hall, and the public is cordially invited. There will be no admission charge.

26 June 1925 – Headline: The Burlington’s First Tour Passes through Estes Park. Sixty people, comprising the first of the Burlington Tours, passed through Estes Park Sunday afternoon on the way from Grand Lake and to Loveland, where they caught a train that evening that took them on to Yellowstone Park. This was the first of a weekly series of tours conducted by the Burlington Railroad Company in which people from all parts of the east are routed through Denver by rail. From Denver, they were given the circle tour by auto through Idaho Springs over Berthoud Pass to Grand Lake. From here they were taken over the Fall River Road to Estes Park, and from here were taken to Loveland. At this town, they boarded the Burlington train that took them to Yellowstone Park, where they took a tour of that place. They were then routed back by rail to their eastern homes. These tours are very conscientiously conducted, and all precautions are taken to insure the comforts of the members. Most of the people who made up this particular tour were from Illinois and states nearby. The tour through Yellowstone starts at Cody, where they go through Yellowstone Park in buses, coming out of Yellowstone Park at the northern entrance, Gardner, Montana, from where they travel over the main line of the Northern Pacific through Montana, North Dakota, and Minnesota, where they again take the Burlington to Chicago.

26 June 1925 – Headline: Huge Rock Crusher to be Used on Fall River Road. Another step toward improvement of roads within the Rocky Mountain National Park was seen when a large rock-crushing machine was delivered in Rocky Mountain National Park last week. This machine has been purchased by the National Park Service, and is now being assembled at the upper end of Horseshoe Park, about nine miles from Estes Park. The machine made quite an imposing sight on the truck which brought it up to Estes Park. Most of the roads in the Rocky Mountain National Park are well supplied with surfacing material of good quality, there being plenty of surfacing material near at hand in nearly all localities. The eastern side of the Fall River Road is an exception to this rule, however. It is located high on the slope of the canyon, and is in many places cut through solid rock. Hence, gravel and other surfacing materials are scarce here, and it has been necessary to get a rock crusher to supply material to cover this road in the way it should be. The road will doubtless be improved by the use of this plant. The power for the operation of the plant is supplied by a gasoline engine. This engine has not arrived as yet, and it may be some time before it does arrive, so in that case it may be several weeks before the plant is in operation.

26 June 1925 – Headline: Nebraskans Open for Season at Riverside. Last Saturday night, the Nebraskans Orchestra played for their first dance of the season at the Riverside Amusement Park. A full capacity crowd attended, and it looks like a good season for the amusement company. The Nebraskans will play every night this season until 5 September 1925.

26 June 1925 – Attorney H.H. Hartman [who advertised in the 1923 Estes Park Trail] and family of Fort Collins have taken the F.P. Stover cottage in Prospect Heights for the summer.

26 June 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. F.W. Crocker have come up to the ranch for the summer from Denver, where they have spent the winter.

26 June 1925 – A roof of canvas has been erected over the swimming pool of the Riverside Amusement Park. This marks an improvement, for in the past the pool has been exposed to the open sky and incidentally to all of the changes of temperature concurrent with this state of affairs. A new boiler has been installed in order that the water of the pool may be kept at a temperature of 84 degrees instead of the 72 degrees as has been the custom in past years.

26 June 1925 – Residents of Estes Park last Friday, both those in the village and outside the districts heard the new fire siren that is being installed at the fire station. The siren is a large, water driven affair, that can be relied upon to make a noise any time that it is wanted provided water pressure is up, and rarely is it not so. This will be an improvement over an electric driven siren, for there are times when the power, by necessity, is off.

26 June 1925 – Mr. Walter Early of Fort Collins is spending the summer at the Craggs Hotel.

26 June 1925 – Overnight parking is strictly forbidden on Main Street. Local cars will not be allowed to park longer than two hours at a time anyplace on Main Street, from the Post Office corner to the Fall River Bridge.

26 June 1925 – Classified advertisement: Wanted – A large second-hand ice chest.
Curtis & Agnew

26 June 1925 – The Riverside Amusement Park opened to one of its most enthusiastic crowds in its history last Saturday evening. The feature of attraction at Riverside is the “Nebraskans” orchestra of nine pieces. The swimming pool, which will be under canvas this year, will open to the public 27 June 1925, remodeled and modern in every respect.

26 June 1925 – Mrs. Busch and son Bobby of Lafayette spent Sunday with Mrs. Haws at Dome-View cabin.

3 July 1925 – School of Expression and Dramatic Art has 135 people enrolled.

3 July 1925 – Headline: 60-Year-Old Man Climbs Longs Peak without a Single Stop for Rest. Up Longs Peak without a single stop for resting was the climbing feat of Mr. William Williams, 60 years of age, of New York City, New York, and for many years the head of the Immigration Department of that city. He finished a nine-day pack trip throughout the Rocky Mountain National Park region under the guidance of Shep Husted. The scaling of Longs Peak by these two men was accomplished on Saturday, 20 June 1925, and Mr. Williams, who has climbed mountains the world over, declared that the view from the top of Longs Peak was the fifth most scenic he had ever witnessed. Mr. Williams has traveled for many years in the company of C. Conway, now 77 years old, who is the world’s recognized living peer as a mountain climber. The travels of these two men have taken them all over the world, and they have scaled peaks as high as 22,000 feet, and it is much to the credit of the Longs Peak region that it should arouse such enthusiastic comment from one who has seen so many mountain districts. Mr. Williams, in company with Shep Husted, made a trip over Storm Pass to Bear Lake, and from there to Fern Lake, they being the first over these trails this year. They then went to Specimen Mountain over Trail Ridge, and from here to Camp Wheeler, thence to Thunder Pass in the Never Summer Range, where they visited the flower gardens. Here they found an amazing profusion of alpine flowers at their best. Mr. Williams said that of all the alpine regions he had ever visited, here was the most beautiful assemblage of flowers he had ever seen. So thick were the high mountain blossoms that it was impossible for the horses to make a step without crushing some underfoot. The dogtooth violet, one of the lily family, was the most abundant. An interesting incident of the trip was that Shep Husted broke a small bone above the ankle in his right leg the second day out. He bandaged and splinted the injured leg himself and continued the journey, and rode eight days with his leg in this condition. After returning to Estes Park, he had the leg put in a plaster cast and is now wearing it. His leg will be as good as ever in a short while, it was stated.

3 July 1925 – Headline: Congressional Appropriation Committee will be Visitors in Estes Park Wednesday. The congressional party comprising members of the Appropriation Committee will arrive in Estes Park from Grand Lake on 8 July 1925. The party will be entertained by the Estes Park Chamber of Commerce at a dinner at the Stanley Hotel at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, 8 July 1925. The Chamber of Commerce extends the invitation for this dinner not only to its members and their ladies, but also to all members of the community. Dinner is $1.50 per plate. Reservations must be made at the Stanley Hotel or at the Chamber of Commerce office on or before Tuesday, 7 July 1925. The congressional party includes several ladies, and one or two department officials, in addition to the members of the committee, and the party numbers about 15 persons. Hon. L.C. Crampton is Chairman of the Sub-Committee on Interior Department Appropriations. The party will stop at the Estes Park Chalets. Mr. Joe Mills will show some of his autochrome photographs of Rocky Mountain National Park.

3 July 1925 – Headline: Nature programs Given Every Friday Night by Rocky Mountain National Park Naturalist. Entertainment of the highest nature is being presented to all who attend the Estes Park school building every Friday evening. Talks and moving pictures concerning things of interest in the Rocky Mountain National Park are the things presented by Mr. P.A. Smoll, Rocky Mountain National Park naturalist. Talks illustrated with beautiful pictures in natural colors on the birds, animals, trees, and flowers of Rocky Mountain National Park are given by Mr. Smoll, and also there are shown moving pictures of winter sports, tobogganing, snow shoeing, snow bathing, and other things in the Rocky Mountain National Park during the winter sports season. These entertainments have been arranged especially for the benefit of the summer visitors to Rocky Mountain National Park, and everyone is more than welcome. Last year, the same sort of arrangements were made, and over a thousand people attended. The purpose of the talks is to give to every visitor authoritative information on wildlife, to help every visitor to understand and appreciate what he sees. This will add to the pleasure and success of the visits made by people to Rocky Mountain National Park. It will help clear away any illusions that the visitor may harbor concerning things in Rocky Mountain National Park. Mr. Smoll has been giving a number of lectures on nature subjects lately, and will continue to present them throughout the Rocky Mountain National Park region for the remainder of the season. When the Girl Reserves were in session at the Conference Grounds, Mr. Smoll lectured to 450 of them, and accompanied 75 of them on a field trip. A week ago Wednesday, he talked at Fall River Lodge, and a week ago Friday he talked at the Elkhorn. While the Olingers, 700 of them, were encamped at Bartholf Park, he addressed them on things of natural interest. Mr. Smoll is glad to give these lectures at prearranged dates, whenever enough of an assemblage can be gathered together to make the talk worthwhile.

3 July 1925 – Headline: Nature Trips down Fall River Road to be Made Soon. A nature study trip, void of hard climbing, will now be possible when P.A. Smoll, official Rocky Mountain National Park naturalist, will conduct parties that will ride to Fall River Pass, on a hike down the Fall River Road, to Chasm Falls, a distance of five miles. These trips will only take one day, and all of the zones of life, from above timberline down, will be studied, as they are found along the roadside. The same material will be found at hand which could be obtained on a trip to Longs Peak, which is a much harder trip. Buses will meet the returning party at Chasm Falls, and return be made to the village the same evening. Special attention to the following things will be paid on these trips: Alpine flower gardens, birds and mammals of the alpine zone, the birthplace of rivers, timberline, what it is and why, and study of peculiarities of timberline trees. The exact dates for these trips have not as yet been scheduled, but those desiring information may see or call Mr. Smoll at the Rocky Mountain National Park office.

3 July 1925 – Dr. C.J. Hamilton, dentist, and family are up from Denver for the summer. This is the third successive season for Dr. Hamilton in Estes Park.

3 July 1925 – W.H. McCreery writes letter to Estes Park Trail, says the 4th of July was first celebrated in Estes Park in 1876. The celebration planning occurred on 1 July 1876 at the polling place for voting on the proposed state constitution. The polling place was in a little out-building close to the “Ranch House”, then occupied by Griff Evans and family. Mr. McCreery was “doing time” on the McCreery Ranch under the pre-emption law. Twenty-five to 30 people assembled for the 4th of July at a grassy spot on level ground a little way up the Fall River from the Elkhorn, above the first “Adams” cabin and just below where a spur of the mountain juts in from the north and crowds the present road to the river’s edge, just below the present Rocky Mountain National Park gateway. “Doc” James confesses to being about eight years old at the time. John T. Cleave was also in attendance.

3 July 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Norris, formerly of Longmont, arrived in Estes Park for the summer. Mr. Norris will be remembered as the desk clerk at the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company two years ago.

3 July 1925 – Grand Lake News: Mr. Francis is the manager of the Grand Lake Lodge, he used to be the manager at the Chalets in Estes Park.

3 July 1925 – Main Street was given and thorough dragging and grading last Tuesday morning by the Fordson grader. The work started at about 5:00 a.m. when traffic was not heavy enough to bother the grader, and continued until about 8:00. A good job was done and most of the bumps and rough spots that were becoming rather numerous in the roadway were smoothed out.

3 July 1925 – Headline: Street Lights Installed on Main Street. The main street of the village has been improved immensely in the way of lighting, due to the installation of the strings of lights that span the streets at intervals. They range from three to four spans to the block, and when lighted give the street a lively and brilliant appearance. This is the first time the lights have been used in the summer months. They have been used in the past during the winter when the winter outing occasions were in progress, but this marks a new innovation in the way of summer street lighting [this means that this strings of lights that appear in photographs of downtown Estes Park first appeared in 1925, not in 1928].

3 July 1925 – Advertisement: East Estes Park Confectionery, Soda Fountain Service, Candy, Cigars, School Supplies, Stationery, New Service Block opposite Camp Grounds, Mertie Shields

3 July 1925 – A surveying party, from the General Land office of Washington, D.C., is in Estes Park to determine the east boundary of the Rocky Mountain National Park exactly and to relocate some lost section corners. The party is under the supervision of Anthony C. Kimmell, a United States Surveyor, with headquarters in Denver. The surveying is mostly confined to Townships 4 and 5 North, Range 73 W. The eastern boundary of the Park has never been definitely located and it is the job of the party to lay it out exactly.

3 July 1925 – Mr. Freelan Oscar Stanley, with Miss Mabelle Butler, arrived from Newton, Massachusetts last Friday.

3 July 1925 – Glen D. Baird, who recently sold his residence property near the Manford place, is building a four-room cottage in the same neighborhood.

3 July 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. Arne Oldberg of Evanston, Illinois, who have been making Estes Park their summer home for many years, arrived last week for the season. They visited Mesa Verde before coming here, and were much interested in it, although they say it does not begin to compare to Estes Park for beauty and grandeur. They state they have now seen every part of the Colorado Rocky Mountains.

3 July 1925 – The Rev. Dr. C. Wesley Boag, Mrs. Boag, and their two children, Elizabeth and Harold [see 7 January 1938 mention, as well as 2 May 1941 article], arrived in Estes Park Thursday from Dilaran [sic, suggest Delavan], Wisconsin. This is their ninth annual visit to Estes Park. They are occupying their own home in Woodland Heights, just off the High Drive. Dr. Boag is pastor of the Dilaran [sic, suggest Delavan] Methodist Church.

3 July 1925 – Semi-advertisement: Did you know the Estes Park Filling Station and Camp Store remains open all night for your convenience?

3 July 1925 – Advertisement: J.E. Macdonald store selling Budweiser at 20 cents a bottle, also “Virginia Dare” wine at 50 cents a bottle. [This is during Prohibition, so it must have been no alcohol or low-alcohol. As far as “Virginia Dare” wine, histories available on the internet in 2008 seem to suggest it wasn't produced during Prohibition. So either it was, but in a low- or no-alcohol version, or it was marketed as a medicinal tonic to get around the Volstead Act, which seems unlikely, since it is being referred to in the advertisement as wine.]

3 July 1925 – The new fire siren that was received last week is being installed on top of the firehouse. A cupola was constructed on top of the firehouse to protect the siren from the weather, and a ditch was dug from the fireplug in front of the post office in order to lay a pipe to carry water in sufficient quantities to operate the siren, which is operated by water power.

3 July 1925 – Headline: Fire Siren Tried out with Noisy Results. An uncanny noise filled the air last Friday afternoon. People rushed out of their homes to see what it was all about. They thought it must be the new fire siren, and it was. Only there was no fire, it was just being tried out, and it seemed to work all right.

3 July 1925 – Alberta Stopher is entertaining with a house party several of her schoolmates from Loveland, at her home near Spragues. Those enjoying the outing are Miss Margaretta Chalfant, Miss Alva Chalfant, Miss Ethel Moon, Miss Pauline Barnes, Miss Lucille Huston, and Miss Ruth Pratt of Loveland, and Miss Anna Lory of Fort Collins. A hike to Bear Lake, Loch Vale, and other points of interest is on the program. On Friday, they were entertained at a luncheon at Spragues, and in the evening some of the boys were present for a dance. What the young people will do on the Fourth of July remains to be seen.

10 July 1925 – Harold Dunning climbed Longs Peak on 5 July 1925, this was his 30th time climbing Longs Peak

10 July 1925 – Doris Baldrige was operated on at the Longmont hospital for appendicitis Wednesday. Her mother is staying with her, and her condition is very satisfactory.

10 July 1925 – Advertisement: Shoe Repairing Right Now, the New Electric Shoe Shop, between Ford Garage and Log Barn [here is my best guess: On the south side of West Elkhorn, between the original Johnson garage and the livery building to the west]

10 July 1925 – Rollins Knott has taken a position with his uncle, Frank R.C. Rollins at No. 2 Filling Station.

10 July 1925 – Mrs. Lambright who two years ago conducted the home bakery east of the post office will open for the season at the Baird Taxi headquarters. Get a fresh cherry pie at the Home Bakery at Bairds Auto Service Station, third door west of the bank. [So somewhere close to what would become Ball's jewelry store, perhaps one door west of it?]

10 July 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. A. Mead of Greeley are in Estes Park at their summer home in the Boulder-Greeley Colony. They have been coming to Estes Park for more than a decade.

10 July 1925 – The Reverend George Elton Harris, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, and family of Kansas City, Missouri, is visiting for a couple of weeks with his brother, Arthur B. Harris [editor of the Estes Park Trail], at their residence. Reverend Harris is preaching for the City Park Baptist Church of Denver while he is in Colorado. The family expects to go back to Kansas City, Missouri, by way of Mesa Verde National Park.

10 July 1925 – Mrs. T.R. Morgan and her two grandsons, Master Rufus Shriber and Master Tom Shriber of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, and Miss Kate Field of Lincoln, Nebraska, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Roseborough.

10 July 1925 – Classified advertisement: For Sale – Butterkist popcorn machine, newly finished in white enamel, see William Tallant in the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company office.

10 July 1925 – The Huntington Cottage on the High Drive was opened on 1 July 1925. Mrs. Huntington was accompanied to Estes Park by her sister, Miss Bugh, who will remain until fall, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Bowman of Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Huntington will arrive the middle of August, and will stay until the first of October.

10 July 1925 – Grand Lake News: Mr. Ish is a justice of the peace, performed a wedding on the Rapids Lodge front porch. Mr. Francis, manager of Grand Lake Lodge, reported that the lodge had 262 guests last Saturday. Mary Ellen made $13.65 in tips.

10 July 1925 – Estes Park Woman's Club, sponsor of the Estes Park Library, switching from entertainments and ticket selling for raising money to a yearly budget. The Budget committee is asking for yearly subscriptions in sums varying from $5 on up. Checks should be made payable to the Library Budget Fund and mailed or delivered to Mrs. Albert Hayden, Jr., Mrs. Ralph R. Macdonald, Mrs. Arthur K. Holmes, or with Mrs. Cornelius H. Bond at the library.

10 July 1925 – Column title: Loveland Heights News. Little White Store in Loveland Heights mentioned.

17 July 1925 – Headline: Denver Group of Colorado Mountain Club will Climb Longs Peak on Coming Sunday. The Denver group of the Colorado Mountain Club schedules a trip to the summit of Longs Peak about once in two years. This year, the party will arrive on the afternoon of Saturday, 18 July 1925. They will camp on the flat above Hewes-Kirkwood Inn close to Alpine Brook. An early start will be made on Sunday morning, and the party will climb Longs Peak of foot from their camping place. For most people, the climb of Longs Peak is a full day's occupation, but for those who have any surplus energy, the return trip will be varied by descending from the southeast edge or the Boulder Field down the steep slope to Chasm Lake and thence toward Timberline Cabin, where the regular trail will be rejoined. This descent is not often made because of its precipitous appearance, but there is a safe route which can be taken without difficulty by any qualified climber. Any members of the Estes Park group of the Colorado Mountain Club who wish to participate in this trip should notify Roger W. Toll not later than Friday, 17 July 1925. The Denver group will be led by Mr. George Rogers. It is expected that the party will number at least 20 people.

17 July 1925 – Headline: Artists' Colony will Move to YMCA Grounds. The Rocky Mountain Artists' Colony has had such a heavy enrollment with the many new students that have been arriving within the last ten days that they are moving to the YMCA for the remainder of their term. This move is made to relieve the crowded conditions at the Craggs that is caused by the influx of late July guests. An interesting program is being planned for the last ten days which will be open to the public. The details of this will be announced later.

17 July 1925 – Headline: New Trail up Longs Peak has been Completed – has Many Improvements. The trail crew of the National Park Service under the direction of Jack C. Moomaw and Curtis S. Skinner has completed the reconstruction of the upper end of the horse trail to Longs Peak. Some years ago, Mr. Dean Babcock laid out and constructed the trail from the foot of the mountain to Timberline Cabin. This year, the trail has been extended from that point by a new location for practically the entire distance to the Boulder Field. Upon living Timberline Cabin, the trail runs to the crest of a moraine overlooking the Roaring Fork and the Chasm Lake region. It then climbs on an easy grade along the northeast slope of Mount Lady Washington and across Granite Pass at the same point used by the previous trail. From Granite Pass to the Boulder Field, a number of switchbacks have been built so as to improve the grade of the trail. Instead of ending at the terminus of the old trail, where horses were tied to rings in the stones, the trail has been extended for about half a mile to the center of the Boulder Field. A hitching rack that will accommodate 25 or 30 horses has been built at the end of the trail. The telephone has also been extended to the center of the Boulder Field, where it will prove of great value in case of emergency. From the present terminus of the trail, the Keyhole may be reached by a walk of half a mile. The southeast edge of the Boulder Field overlooking Chasm Lake may also be reached within half a mile of the end of the trail. Storm Peak, which lies on the western edge of the Boulder Field, is not often climbed, but the view from its summit is remarkably grand and extensive, and repays the effort, as the climb is easily made. The great basin in which Chasm Lake is located, and which is hemmed in by the cliffs of Longs Peak, Mount Meeker, and Mount Lady Washington, presents one of the most spectacular views in Rocky Mountain National Park. The view from the Keyhole down into the depths of Glacier Gorge is most impressive, and amply repays the trip to this point, even if one does not expect to go further to the summit of Longs Peak. One may now take horses from the Longs Peak district, and in an easy day's trip secure both of these remarkable views. The trail is now open to travel for its entire length, and will enable many hundreds of people to see the wonderfully rugged scenery that surrounds Longs Peak. More than a thousand people climb Longs Peak each year, and it is believed that several thousand people will annually make the trip to the Boulder Field. This trail offers one of the finest one-day trips to be had in Rocky Mountain National Park, and will be appreciated by everyone who enjoys an intimate view of superb mountain scenery.

17 July 1925 – Headline: Dangerous Forest Fire is Narrowly Averted on Monday Night. A forest fire of serious proportions was narrowly averted when one of unknown origin started on the mountainside back of Stead's Hotel last Monday evening. Fortunately, one of the men at Stead's noticed the start of the fire, and immediately men were rushed to the scene of the fire, and it was extinguished. Only a small area, not over a hundred square feet, was burned. Due to the extreme dryness of this area, as are all the forest districts in Rocky Mountain National Park, the situation was decidedly dangerous, and should serve as a warning as to the care that must be taken to prevent any more fires.

17 July 1925 – Editorial: Why do automobiles have the privilege of running up on the sidewalk area in front of the post office? True, there is no concrete walk there, but aren't pedestrians entitled to the same rights that they have in other parts of town? Maybe the double doors of the entrance into the office should be swung wide open and the center post removed so that indolent motorists may be enabled to drive right up to the window and get their mail.

17 July 1925 – Bide-a-Wee Cottage on the High Drive opened with its first bridge on Monday, 13 July 1925. Bridge parties will be held on Mondays and Thursdays throughout the season, time 2:30 p.m.

17 July 1925 – Mrs. V.D. Hurrel and her new son returned home from the Longmont hospital last Sunday.

17 July 1925 – E.J. Walsh and wife of St. Louis, Missouri, came in last Wednesday and will remain for the rest of the season.

17 July 1925 – Mr. John A. Craig, who was the first tourist to register at the camp ground this season, has bought the Spainer place and has moved the Smith Cabin that was on the campgrounds out to his new property.

17 July 1925 – Headline: Mrs. J.E. Macdonald has Unfortunate Accident. Mrs. J.E. Macdonald was the victim of a very unfortunate accident early this week when she, in some manner, slipped and fell on the cement walk just in front of the Macdonald store, and broke her hipbone. Just how the accident occurred is not quite certain, but it seems that Mrs. Macdonald turned her ankle and fell. She was immediately taken to the Boulder Sanitarium where, at the last reports, she was doing splendidly, and resting well.

17 July 1925 – Headline: Rodeo to be Held Every Sunday from Now on. A rodeo will be held each Sunday at the Stanley Aviation Field, in which a group of wild horses and cattle will participate. These animals have been collected from all parts of the west, and a real effort is made by those in charge of the rodeos to make them seem as much like the old west as possible. Some of the best riders of the region endeavor to stay on the upper half of these animals, and then there are cow-pony races, bulldogging, fancy roping, and all of the things that usually compose a rodeo. Miss Trixie, owned and ridden by Archie Hunter, is one of the chief attractions of these occasions. Miss Trixie is a beautiful horse, and is well trained by Mr. Hunter, so that she does all manner of things that a horse seldom does.

24 July 1925 – Prospect Valley Subdivision is the name of a new real estate area, according to J.F. Liebman, who is the owner of the 40 acres on the east side of Prospect Mountain that has been divided into large lots, and with a lake and park in the northeast corner of the tract which themselves cover seven acres. The new residence area is only 1/4 mile from the village, and water, electric power, and all modern public utilities are available to this new district.

24 July 1925 – Rocky Mountain Boys Camp members went to Cheyenne [Wyoming] Frontier Days by horseback, trip took two days, the boys were under the care of Mr. Higby and Mr. Primrose, who are the directors of the camp.

24 July 1925 – Grand Lake News: Last Sunday Mrs. Maud Biard, of the Rocky Mountain School of Musical Arts, Estes Park, came to Estes Park with her niece, Miss Nanlou Biard, of Waxahachie, Texas.

24 July 1925 – The Dave Stirling studio in Horseshoe Park near the Horseshoe Inn is an attractive and interesting place to spend several hours.

24 July 1925 – Camp Olympus notes: On Tuesday, 14 July 1925, a party of 37 Kansas City teachers who were completing a month's study of Ornithology and Botany under Professor A.E. Shirling left Camp Olympus for an ascent of Longs Peak.

24 July 1925 – Advertisement: The Guy C. Caldwell prints of Rocky Mountain Flowers are available at the following locations: L.E. Grace Art Shop, What Not Shop and What Not Inn, Longs Peak Inn, Hewes-Kirkwood Inn, Big Owl Tea Room, Donjon Grocery. [The first location is on West Elkhorn, What Not Shop is PERHAPS one mile south of Hewes-Kirkwood Inn according to separate advertisement, I believe everything else is similarly somewhere along the road to Allenspark. However, it should be noted that in March 1923 there was a What-Not Shop on West Elkhorn, and in the 31 July 1925 issue, the almost EXACT SAME ADVERTISEMENT appears, but instead of "What-Not-Shop", the advertisement says "What-Not-Inn". So I'm not entirely sure where the What-Not-Shop is in 1925.]

31 July 1925 – The sportsmen of Estes Park have organized a chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America, a national organization whose sole purpose is to preserve what is left out-of-doors. Three years ago the League was conceived by Will H. Dilg at a meeting of 54 Chicago, Illinois, sportsmen. Since that time the Izaak Walton League has organized active units in 2000 cities and towns throughout the United States.

31 July 1925 – Estes Park will be the scene of a wrestling match to determine the heavyweight champion of the world on 16 August 1925, when Joe "Toots" Mondt and Ed "Strangler" Lewis will meet in an arena to be constructed in Carl Sanborn's field, east of the village. [The bill would change to Mondt and Munn]

31 July 1925 – Hailstorm causes over $500 of damage to Estes Park Chalets roofs, the Carl Sanborn cottage, just built last year, had its roof completely destroyed.

31 July 1925 – Dr. and Mrs. W.A. Willard of Omaha have as their guests at their cottage in University Heights, Professor and Mrs. J.P. Ryan and family of Grinnell, Iowa.

31 July 1925 – William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Kansas Gazette, was in Estes Park last Wednesday and stated he would return to Estes Park in a few weeks.

31 July 1925 – Semi-advertisement: In the unique and attractive studio at Deer Ridge Chalets at the summit of the High Drive is to be found a rare treat in the collection of beautiful oil paintings by W.A. Knapp of Denver.

31 July 1925 – Last season, lettuce growing was given its first trial on a commercial basis and it was found to be successful as far as quality was concerned but unfortunately it was also found that deer and elk were especially fond of the dainty, crisp heads of lettuce. Last season, however, Albin Griffith had such excellent success with a small patch, and also in keeping the deer away, that he planted much more of it this season, and is shipping many cases of it each day to Denver and elsewhere.

31 July 1925 – Grand Lake news: Leslie Ish reports that six of the rooms in the Pine Cone Annex will be ready for occupancy early in August.

31 July 1925 – The Rocky Mountain School of Musical Art and the Artists' Colony have come to a close after a very successful season for both of them. Mrs. Biard of the Music School left for Texas Wednesday. Mrs. H.H. Fugate, director of the Artists' Colony, left for Texas on Friday. The Colony will return next year, she said, and added that the season had been most successful.

31 July 1925 – Ralph Quinby of the K and B Produce Company cut his left hand badly, required stitches

31 July 1925 – “Rocky Mountain Echoes” is the name of an eight-page newspaper that was published by the Rocky Mountain Artists' Colony. It contained news of the work that the Rocky Mountain Artists' Colony has been doing for the last five weeks. One thousand copies of the paper were printed and it will be sent all over the nation as an advertisement for the Rocky Mountain Artists' Colony.

31 July 1925 – Advertisement: The Estes Park Directory can now be obtained at the Estes Park Trail office. They are free.

31 July 1925 – Advertisement: A hearty invitation is extended to you to visit Cascade Lodge, 5-1/2 miles from Estes Park on Fall River Road. Enjoy one of our tasty dinners in a most pleasing dining room overlooking the waters of Fall River.

31 July 1925 – Advertisement: Estes Park Produce, fresh fruits and vegetables and strictly fresh eggs and poultry, 1/2 block east of post office, telephone #169 [I though Mr. Schwilke operated the produce store in the summer, for example see 11 July 1924, but the telephone number is different from that below, and from that given in July 1924]

31 July 1925 – Advertisement: Coal, freight and hauling of all kinds. Albert Schwilke, telephone #197

3 August 1925 – Larimer County records, book 443/page 394: Gayle Barnett, minister of

Estes Park, certifies that on 3 August 1925, he married Stanley M. Winterbower of Estes Park and Carolyn James of Estes Park. The witnesses were Orville Coons and S.R. Winterbower [this may be Stanley's younger sister, according to a 1910 Kentucky census which lists Clarence S. Winterbower age 28, his wife Lena E. Winterbower age 26, to whom he had been married for 9 years, and children Stanley age 8, Richard age 7, and what appears to be Sadie R. or Sudie R. or Sydie R. age 3, along with Susan Stith, Clarence Winterbower's mother-in-law. I find no mention of this marriage in the Fort Collins, Loveland, or Estes Park newspapers, and the first indication the Estes Park Trail gives of Stanley Winterbower's marriage is obliquely, in a 27 November 1925 article. I also find no Estes Park Trail mention of the birth of Stanley and Carolyn Winterbower's daughter Barbara, which should have occurred in 1926, according to her age in the 1930 census.]

3 August 1925 Loveland Reporter-Herald – The opening of the Allen's High Drive Lodge, of which E.S. Allen is owner, was held last Thursday with appropriate ceremonies. Mr. Allen gave a short speech, and music was furnished by Otto Krotz. Twenty-five guests were present at the housewarming. The location of the new lodge and seven cottages is in a scenic spot on the High Drive, and under the management of Mr. Allen, will be an ideal place for a vacation.

3 August 1925 Loveland Reporter-Herald. Headline: Will Hays Comes to Estes Park for Visit Monday. Will Hays, who is the director of the moving picture industry, is coming to Estes Park next Monday for a vacation. Young Billy Hays and his mother and aunt, Miss Martha Hays, have been in Estes Park for over a month now, and they are staying at the Elkhorn Lodge.

5 August 1925 Loveland Reporter-Herald – Courthouse Doings: Stanley M. Winterbower, aged 23, and Miss Carolyn James, aged 20, both residents of Estes Park, secured a marriage license at the county clerk's office Monday [3 August 1925]. Miss James is a daughter of Miss Carrie James, and a sister of Mrs. Granville Elmer Wright, the latter postmistress at Estes Park.

5 August 1925 Loveland Reporter-Herald – Headline: Chaney Makes Fast Run to Estes Park with Kibbey Ambulance. C.C. Chaney was called to Estes Park Saturday by Carl W. Kibbey, owner of an ambulance in Loveland, who happened to be in Estes Park on that day. Mrs. V.D. Hurrel, wife of an electrician there, became violently ill, and the ambulance was summoned to take her to the hospital at Longmont. In one hour and twenty-eight minutes after the call was received by C.C. Chaney of Loveland, the woman was loaded in the ambulance at Estes Park and was on her way to the Longmont hospital.

7 August 1925 – J.F. Liebman of the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company, who was taken to the Longmont hospital last Tuesday, is much improved according to the latest reports.

7 August 1925 – Many thousands of wrestling fans will be coming to Estes Park to watch the upcoming match on 23 August 1925 between “Toots” Mondt and “Big” Munn. Ralph Mondt, brother of the big Colorado wrestler, and J.W. Norcross are promoting the show for a group of businessmen in Estes Park and are now busy getting the arena fixed up in the field to the east of town, where the meet is to be held. Tickets for the bout will be on sale at the Curtis and Agnew Confectionery in the near future.

7 August 1925 – Another place of interest has been opened in Estes Park with the announcement of the establishment of the Sunny Valley silver fox ranch, owned by L. Estes Osborn, which is to be found on the Moraine Park Road, and then turning to the right for a distance of about two miles. The foxes that mark the nucleus of those that are to be raised here were brought from the Rocky Mountain Fox Farm, on Lookout Mountain near Denver. A number of chinchilla rabbits have been imported from England and these animals will be raised for their fur.

7 August 1925 – F.H. Tully has bought and 11 acres tract on the Devils Gulch road and he is building a winter home on it. He intends to also build a paint shop on Riverside Drive.

7 August 1925 – High Drive Inn opened by E.S. Allen of Loveland. E.S. Allen and son have opened the High Drive Inn, located on the High Drive. Besides (or beside?) the Inn there will be cottages to rent. Meals will be served to any who care to take them there, regardless of whether they are guests at the place or not.

7 August 1925 – James Newton Lott of Chicago, Illinois, has been suffering from severe bruises sustained when his horse fell with him recently. He is able to be about. [According to an interview with his son Davis Lott in January 2009, James Newton Lott hit a rock, and his worst injury was a ruptured blood vessel in his leg. Davis said the extravasated blood in his father's leg took a year to resorb, and made an unsolicited comment that his father never rode a horse after this, although as one of the later founders of the Summer Residents Association, how could he have avoided that activity?]

14 August 1925 – Airplane industry may be upset by invention of Estes Park man. James A. Horne, who has lived here for a number of years, is the inventor of an airplane propeller that is destined to revolutionize the science of flying, in the opinion of some of the world's leading aircraft authorities. In a recent issue of the New York World and also in the Los Angeles Times, there appeared front-page articles telling of this man's invention. Horne has worked on his invention for 14 years and believes it is ready for commercial use and production. [All of this is fantastic, so why is he advertising in the classified ads of the Estes Park Trail for investors?]

14 August 1925 – Walter Kiener, working in the fire lookout on Twin Sisters Mountain, is considered the hero of a January tragedy on Longs Peak which claimed the life of Agnes Vaille, and has had numerous visitors this summer. He has photographs that were in Miss Vaille's camera which it was found several days after the tragedy, some were taken by Miss Vaille shortly before she became exhausted. Timberline Cabin was so near, yet so impossibly far from the shoulder above the Keyhole, where Kiener was forced to leave his fellow hikers last January. Only a short distance it was – two or 2-1/2 miles – with a fair trail between. But in the face of that blizzard it was a thousand miles, Kiener will say. Government workers are installing telephone lines up the peak, the lines are to run to the top of Boulder Field, an attempt on the part of the government to forestall a similar tragedy as occurred to Miss Vaille.

14 August 1925 – Dr. James A. Atchison of Chicago is spending his vacation at his summer home, Windvale Ranch

14 August 1925 – Mrs. Harry Fugate, director of the Rocky Mountain Artists Colony, is spending her vacation at the Lodge at the YMCA. Mrs. Fugate expresses pleasure over the outcome of this term of the Colony and is making extensive plans for next year.

14 August 1925 – A fire of serious proportions was averted Friday when a rapidly growing conflagration was discovered in the loft of Grubb and Kilton's log barn, just across from the city library. The cause of the fire is supposed to have been the wind carrying a burning paper from a pile of burning magazines in an area in back of the barn.

21 August 1925 – Wayne Munn, who will wrestle with “Toots” Mondt here Sunday will give a talk on “Clean Living” to all the boys and young men who care to hear him this Saturday at 3:00 at Riverside Park. Munn is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he played football, was on the track team, and wrestled. He weighs 265 pounds and is 6-1/2 feet tall. Because he is a college man and an advocate of clean sports it means that the art of wrestling may see better days than the ones that it has experienced during the last few years.

21 August 1925 – The wrestling match between Mondt and Munn will be held in Carl Sanborn’s field east of town in the natural arena that is to be found there.

Phinney of Sand Point, Idaho, will move his farm here and will place his foxes for the winter with Mr. Estes Osborn and move them to his own farm in the Park that he will prepare in the spring. Mr. Phinney will move here with his family in September.

28 August 1925 – Headline: Many Photographs of Estes Park are to be Had Now in Special Estes Park Trail Magazine. An opportunity to take home a complete story of the beauties of Estes Park is offered in the form of a 46 page magazine that is published by the Estes Park Trail, and which contains six full-page rotogravure photographs and 112 smaller ones. All of these photographs are artistic, and show all parts of Estes Park and Rocky Mountain National Park in many of its moods. There are full-page pictures of the South St. Vrain, Mount Ypsilon, Dream Lake, Copeland Lake, Longs Peak, the Little Matterhorn, and then there are scores of smaller pictures of all different views and scenes, too numerous to tabulate. These magazines are on sale at the Estes Park Trail office.

4 September 1925 – Mrs. John Hamlin and daughter of New Raymer, Colorado, returned to their home Sunday after spending two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Earl Rinehart and family.

4 September 1925 – Headline: New Trail up Longs Peak Completed. The new trail laid out by Walter Kiener up the north face of Longs Peak was completed Wednesday, and the first party was guided to the top over the trail Thursday by Robert Collier, Jr. There were four women and two men in the party. The new trail up the north face has been made safe by placing cables at difficult places. There is need, however, for car in not starting stones that lie loose all along the trail, as they would endanger those of other parties coming up from below. Those who have made the trip up the new trail are very enthusiastic over its scenic attractions. The Collier party returned over the regular route.

4 September 1925 – Headline: Eight-Year-Old Boy Scales Longs Peak. For the third time, Longs Peak has been conquered by an eight-year-old child, this time by Earl David Ducat of Loveland, Colorado. Earl was accompanied on the trip by his father, David D. Ducat, and Mrs. Roy Young of Cleveland, Ohio. They made the trip from Hewes-Kirkwood Inn to the top in nine hours, Mr. Ducat insisting on plenty of rest and leisurely travel. Fred Clatworthy, Jr., of Estes Park is the only other boy of that age that the Estes Park Trail has any record of making the trip. Miss Harriett Peters, proprietor of the Green Roof Tea Room on the Country Club road, is the only girl to make the trip at that age, she going to the top with Enos Mills. Mr. Mills tells of the trip in one of his books.

4 September 1925 – Headline: What Last Year's Graduates have been Doing this Past Summer. With the approach of the time for school to open up, it will be of interest to the people of Estes Park to know what those students that graduated from high school last spring have been doing for the past summer. Miss Helen Byerly has been working at the National Park Hotel for her mother, Doris Baldrige has been working at the Electric Shop, Dorothy Ellis has been employed at Curtis and Agnews [confectionery], Esther Griffith spent the vacation at her home, as has Charles Griffith. Dorothy Jesser has been employed at the Lewiston Café, while Guy Plumb has been working at Patterson's Garage. Lucy Schwilke has been spending her time by working for her folks part of the time, and also at the Clatworthy Studio. Don Wiest has been head caddy at the Country Club, while Ruth Wright [daughter of Granville Elmer Wright and Beulah James Wright] has been employed at the post office [where her mother was the postmaster].

4 September 1925 – Headline: Plans for Art Colony are being Made for the Cext

Summer. Mrs. Harry Fugate left Tuesday morning for Texas after a vacation spent at the lodge at the Association Camp. Mrs. Fugate will return next year, and tentative plans are being made for complete fine arts school. Mrs. Fugate will add several interesting new members to the faculty, and many students from throughout the country express themselves as delighted with the summer's work, and even now are planning to return. Eugene Pilot, playwright of New York City and a member of this year's faculty, writes that much interest is being awakened in this project there, and that there seems to be much enthusiasm regarding Estes Park as a place for summer study. For this reason and many others, plans are being made to make this the nation's art center.

11 September 1925 – Headline: Travel to Rocky Mountain National Park Smashing All Records. The report of Superintendent Toll to the Park Service of the department of the Interior for the week ending 9 September 1925 shows that all records of Rocky Mountain National Park are being shattered this season. For the season to 9 September 1925, there were 53,209 more visitors to Rocky Mountain National Park this season than last to the same date, which excess surpasses the total attendance of the entire year in many of the national parks, some of which secure appropriations equal to or in excess of that allowed Rocky Mountain National Park. There is every indication that Rocky Mountain National Park will again this year far surpass in total visitors any other national park, leaving it still America's most popular park.

11 September 1925 – Headline: Brass Tacks Uncovered at Chamber of Commerce Meeting. The necessity of the chamber of commerce obtaining the wholehearted support of every businessman and businesswoman of the community if the organization is to do the work there is for it was uncovered and gone after vigorously at the first meeting of the fall, held at Stead's Hotel Tuesday evening, at which there was an attendance of 50. The organization has 85 paid up memberships, but is short $900 of the necessary budget to care for the expenses that must come before the beginning of the new year. With the idea of providing for the amount still necessary, it is hoped that several who have not yet subscribed to the budget will do so. Mr. C.L. Reed of the Brinwood headed the list of those who have already subscribed, by increasing his pledge by 25%. Those following his action at the meeting were Dugald Floyd Godfrey, Dr. Homer E. James, F.E. Williamson, Elijah R. Rivers, James D. Stead, Hayden Brothers, F.J. Francis, Stanley Hotels, G.R. Wyatt, and Robert Lindley. Curtis and Agnew [of the confectionery and restaurant] increased their subscription 40%. Homer E. Smith and Dr. George Best Crissman made original pledges. The fact that the chamber of commerce has established permanent headquarters, furnished and equipped same, and employed a full-time secretary and spent more money for literature than ever before without the necessity of asking for any greater amount than was raised for its activities last year is a remarkable feat. New constitution and by-laws were adopted which provide that the annual election shall be held the third Tuesday in each September. Accordingly, President Haberl named a nominating committee of Albert Hayden, C.H. Bond, Robert Lindley, F.J. Francis, and F.E. Williamson. The men placed in nomination for consideration at the meeting Tuesday evening, which will be held at the Lewiston Hotel, were, for president, C.L. Reed, Sr., and Frank Haberl, for directors (six) Julian Hayden, Joe Mills, Sam Service, Dr. Roy Wiest, Charles Levings, A.K. Holmes, C.H. Alexander, Charles Hix, Joe Liebman, C.E. Gooch, C.E. Verry, and J.D. Stead. The present officers are president F.J. Haberl and directors J.D. Stead, C.H. Alexander, C.E. Verry, A.K. Holmes, and William B. Tallant. The reading of the minutes revealed the fact that the directors had given much of their time during the rush summer season to matters of the organization, and a vote of thanks was extended them. The need of a permanent home for the chamber of commerce was mentioned by Mr. Stead, and some discussion was given to this suggestion which will likely be acted up favorably soon. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the members and those who desire to become members at the meeting at the Lewiston Hotel Tuesday evening of next week.

11 September 1925 – Headline: Seventh District Rotarians Hold Two-Day Convention at Craggs. The officers of the Seventh District of International Rotary met this morning at the Craggs Hotel for a two-day conference to discuss plans for the entertainment of the international convention of Rotary in Denver next June. There will be delegates from thirty countries at the June convention, and there is much preliminary work to be done to properly care for the hosts that will be in the city at that time. International Rotary has at this time 110,000 members. The Seventh District in conference here this week comprises the states of Colorado, Wyoming, and New Mexico, and the conference is attended by approximately 90 representatives.

11 September 1925 – Headline: ICC Hearing Now on in Estes Park. Commissioner Henry C. Hall of the Interstate Commerce Commission is holding a hearing this week in Estes Park at the Stanley Hotel. The hearing has to do with rates on Portland cement, and many industrial corporations and railroads of the middle west are represented at the hearing. There is a possibility that some testimony will be taken on some coal rate matters that are to come up this winter.

11 September 1925 – Headline: Sister of Mrs. Gooch Dead. Mrs. Grace Johnson, sister of Mrs. E.C. Gooch of this city, was found dead in her home, at 3430 Race Street, Denver, Colorado, by her husband, Dr. W.H. Johnson, on Saturday afternoon, 5 September 1925. She had been subject to severe fainting spells for 15 years, and it is thought that she fainted after turning on the gas heater preparatory to taking a bath. Requiem High Mass services were held at the Annunciation Church in Denver Tuesday, 8 September 1925, and burial was held in Loveland that afternoon. She was born in Loveland and graduated from Loveland high school in 1906. She has many devoted relatives and friends who will miss her greatly.

11 September 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Booth spent the weekend in Estes Park.

11 September 1925 – Headline: Estes Park Beauties Win in Fashionable Horse Show in Denver. Two of Estes Park's fine horses won ribbons at the Denver Polo Club horse show in Denver Saturday. The horses were the property of Grubb and Kilton, and were taken to Denver by Don Kilton, who will take the horses to several other shows in various parts of the state. At the Polo Club Show on Saturday, there were nearly 100 horses representing the leading stables of the state. Grubb and Kilton made two entries and won first with Goldie's Chief, their fine saddle stallion, and third with their Edna May in the five-gaited saddle horse class. There were 15 entries in this class. Grubb and Kilton will show in Colorado Springs at the Broadmoor Show and at the Cherry Hills Country Club at Denver on 26 September 1925. They are stabling at the W.L. Petriken stables in Denver.

11 September 1925 – Headline: Reception for Teachers. The Sunday school of the Estes Park Church will tender a reception to the teachers of the day school on Friday evening, 18 September 1925 at 8:00 p.m. at the church. All members of the Sunday school, church, and community are invited to be present at this reception.

11 September 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Preston and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brinkley are spending a few days visiting Yellowstone Park.

11 September 1925 – Headline: Ancient Bones and Tusks Found near Vineland. Evidences of prehistoric animals near Pueblo have been unearthed by workmen near Vineland, ten miles east of Pueblo. Semi-petrified bones of enormous sizes have been found by workmen in a large gravel pit half a mile north of Vineland. One of the specimens has the appearance of a large buffalo's head. With it was found a tusk four inches in diameter and seven feet long. The tusk tapers to one end and has a hollow core. James Collins of the Strange-McGuire Construction Company turned the unusual specimens and skeletons over to James D. Bell, division engineer of the state highway department. Sand was being removed from the pit for building shoulders to the new concrete paving on the Santa Fe Trail. The pit is part of the high bluff on the south side of the Arkansas River. Persons who have viewed the curiosities are unable to identify them. It is probable that Bell will turn the tusk and skull over to the museum of the State Historical Society.

11 September 1925 – Miss Dora Stecker of Cincinnati, Ohio, who has been spending several weeks in Estes Park, has returned to her home.

11 September 1925 – Clifford Higby left this week for Skyline, Wyoming, where he has a homestead. He will make final proof on it this winter.

11 September 1925 – Headline: Hallett Glacier Trip now Unusually Fine. Dr. Woods and party of State Center, Iowa, George Nichols, leader of the Rocky Mountain Boys' Camp, and Clifford Higby, guide, made the trip to Hallett Glacier [now known as Rowe Glacier] Tuesday, and found the glacier in unusually fine condition for observation. Dr. Woods, who has made most of the trips in Rocky Mountain National Park and who has climbed Longs Peak several times, pronounced the trip to Hallett as the most interesting in Rocky Mountain National Park. The snow of the past winter has completely disappeared from the crevasses and the party found caverns and crevasses that were 80 or more feet deep. Due to the great depth and the unusually straight sides of the crevasses and their limited stay, they were unable to get into the ice caverns. The party made the trip in one day from the village and return. Parties desiring to explore the glacier should plan to spend two or three days on the trip with camping equipment in their luggage. It is also advisable to sound a note of warning to those planning to make the trip that they have several in the party, and that they be well equipped with ice picks for sounding purposes to prevent getting into blind crevasses, and that they carry plenty of rope and exercise great care while on the glacier, to avoid the pits that are crusted over by snow. Many fine pictures of the glacier and its ice caverns are possible at this time, probably the best opportunity since 1913, when they were well opened up. [I wonder if Clifford Higby was there in 1913, else who would have this year as a reference?] Guides should be employed for the trip due to the danger to those not accustomed to glaciers.

11 September 1925 – Headline: Preparing for Christmas. To those not accustomed to making early preparations for the Christmas holiday season, it might seem premature to be purchasing Christmas cards and folders for the coming holiday season. But there are a number of people who have already made their Christmas purchases of cards and folders at the Estes Park Trail office for deliver to them in November or December, after seeing the original and exclusive lines at the Estes Park Trail office. On 31 August 1925 alone the Estes Park Trail booked orders for cards and folders to the amount of 96 – four months before Christmas. The Estes Park Trail will gladly send returnable samples to responsible parties.

11 September 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. D.M. Parton have moved to Boulder, where the boys will enter school and Bob will enter the university.

11 September 1925 – M.S. Magers of Cascade Lodge is enjoying a visit from his father and mother, who live in Brighton, Colorado.

11 September 1925 – A wrestling match between Mondt and Munn was held in Estes Park on Sunday [23 August 1925], the match, and wrestling as a professional sport, was criticized by the Boulder Daily Camera

11 September 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. H.B. Osborne, proprietors of the Bake Shoppe, have returned to their home in Denver 11 September 1925 – Semi-advertisement: Candy sale at Dr. Murphy's commencing Monday, 14 September 1925 and continuing for one week only.

11 September 1925 – Semi-advertisement: Can save you money on staple fancy groceries, well known brands, closing out stock. Estes Park Filling Station Camp Store.

11 September 1925 – Dave Stirling, one of Estes Park's artists who is rapidly coming to the front, has opened a temporary studio in one of the buildings of the Boyd Block.

11 September 1925 – Dave Stirling has purchased the Julian Foss Schwartz residence property and will make it his home and studio. The Schwartz's will make their home in Longmont. [Julian Foss Schwartz owns the lumber company]

11 September 1925 – Estes Park's famous newsboy, Charlie Clapham, the man with the big black cigar and a fund of information about the scenic attractions of the Park, has sold 1800 Estes Park Trail newspapers in twelve weeks.

11 September 1925 – Grand Lake News: Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ish gave a farewell party at the Pine Cone Inn for all those who have made the Pine Cone their summer amusement rendezvous. The Ishes plan to stay in Grand Lake all winter.

18 September 1925 – Headline: F.O. Stanley Makes Generous Gift to Estes Park Schools. F.O. Stanley, the man who saw a future for Estes Park and who built the first automobile road into Estes Park [this is patently false] and then presented it to the county, has made a very generous gift to the Estes Park school district that will be the means of placing this district on a par with any and all of the best schools of the county excepting none. For some time, the school board has been casting about for means of providing adequate accommodations for the increasing schools, going on the assumption this district, the third richest district in the county, was entitled to the best educational facilities. Dr. Wiest, president of the board, laid the situation before Mr. Stanley with the result that he offered the property opposite the present school building and which is valued at $8000 as a gift to the district if it would erect thereon a suitable building and one that would be a credit for years to come to the community. The school board has had an excellent set of plans for the building prepared that provide for the necessary classrooms and also for the school auditorium and gymnasium requirements. A diagram and detailed description of the proposed building will probably be ready for publication in the Estes Park Trail next week. It is planned to hold the necessary bond election within the next three or four weeks to authorize the erection of the building by the taxpayers of the district. There is little question that the voters of the district will accept the generous offer by Mr. Stanley, and go ahead with the building that will be of inestimable value to the district, and provide the education that others in the past have been compelled to leave the district to obtain. The Estes Park schools are now accredited, thus enabling its graduates to enter the colleges or universities on the same par with the graduates of the best high schools of the west. After the bond issue has been authorized by the taxpayers, the board will start construction as quickly as possible.

18 September 1925 – Headline: Mrs. Griggs Sings over Radio. Tuesday evening, 22 September 1925 at 8:00 p.m., Mrs. A.P. Griggs, well known to many Estes Park people and who assisted Mr. David Guion in his recital here the past summer, will sing over WOC radio broadcasting station. No doubt, many Estes Park radio fans will be pleased to tune in and hear Mrs. Griggs, who possesses a beautiful contralto voice. The Griggs' have a summer cottage near the YMCA.

18 September 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. F.W. Byerly expect to leave in about 10 days for a five-week trip through the Grand Canyon and on the Kaibab National Forest for a deer hunt, and then return by Zion and Bryce National Parks and Mesa Verde.

18 September 1925 – A reception will be tendered the schoolteachers at the church this evening at 8:00 p.m. Everyone is invited.

18 September 1925 – Headline: Patriotism Runs High and Charity Wins Cash. President Verry and Manager Boswell of the Estes Park Chalets always try to see that there is not a dull moment at the Chalets for their guests, and one of the favorite “stunts” is to arrange for a “community sing,” in addition to other forms of entertainment and amusement. One of the recent Union Pacific tours, numbering about ninety, enjoyed one of these sings, and among the numbers sung was one verse of “America.” In the party was Mr. A.E. Jessurun of the firm of A.E. Jessurun & Company, importers and manufacturers' agents of Chicago, Illinois. On the completion of the verse, it occurred to Mr. Jessurun that he would be safe in making a wager than none could sing three verses of “America” correctly without the words of the song before them. Promptly following the impulse, Mr. Jessurun rose to his feet and offered to give $5 to ever person in the room who could sing correctly from memory the three verses. At once, 28 persons filed to the front of the room, and Mr. Jessurun realized at once he had a much bigger task than he imagined possible, and he stated that he could not give $5 to each, but that he would give $5 to any charity President Verry might select if they proved their claim. The proof was promptly forthcoming, and the crisp five dollar bill promptly changed hands, and reached the Estes Park Trail office this week marked by Manager Very “For the Library Fund.” And so the patriotism of practically one-third of the entire party enriched by the fund that is being sought by the Estes Park Woman's Club for the maintenance of the library for the ensuing year. And Mr. Jessurun is now convinced that Americans are familiar with their national hymn.

18 September 1925 – Headline: Chamber of Commerce Elects Officers. At the annual election at the Lewiston Hotel Tuesday evening, which was attended by more than 50 person, officers for the year were elected as follows: Frank J. Haberl president, Dr. H.E. James vice-president, Albert Hayden, Dr. Roy Wiest, A. Holmes, J.D. Stead, C.H. Alexander, and C.E. Verry were elected directors. Mr. Levings proposed a yell for the Chamber of Commerce and it was indulged in several times during the evening. The secretary, Miss Eunice Anderson, read a report of the summer's work that gave a good insight of the work accomplished the past summer. This report will be published elsewhere in the Estes Park Trail. Miss Anderson was given a rising vote of thanks in appreciation of her untiring services rendered as secretary. A letter was read from the Chappell School of Arts stating they were confident of a student enrollment at their summer term in the next season of 75, or twice the enrollment of the past season coming from 15 states. The Chamber of Commerce is greatly interested in the development of the various summer schools that are coming to Estes Park. The secretary's report showed that there were at the present time 94 memberships held in the organization. Three or four have been dropped from the roll because of failure to pay dues the past year. During the past week, several have paid their 1924 dues and pledges who were reported delinquent at the meeting previous. The school board reported its proposed plans for a new school building which were discussed at considerable length and endorsed unanimously. The body pledged its united support to the school board in the proposition and will work to the end that all shall understand the necessity for additional classrooms and a gymnasium being provided. Mr. Stanley, who has made a gift of $8000 worth of property to the school district for the site of the new building, spoke of the necessity for a balanced education and of the fact that all schools of any worth now had their up-to-date gymnasium. He stated that in his day, no thought was given to the systematic development of the body along with the development of the intellect, but that now much thought was given to balancing the two, and that Estes Park would make no mistake in keeping in the front rank educationally. All others who spoke on the proposed additional school facilities expressed their delight that the board of education was alert to keep abreast of the times and that they had worked their plans so nicely that the district in the end would pay so little for the cost, as the building will be so constructed that it may be the source of considerable revenue. Mr. Stanley stated that he had examined the plans drawn very carefully, and found them admirably drawn, artistically and permanently designed, and the most artistic building likely to be built in Estes Park in many years.

18 September 1925 – Headline: Sherwood Hotel Sold to Lyons Hotel Man. A deal has been made through the Bond & Company agency whereby H.C. Hill, Lyons hotel man, becomes owner of the Sherwood Hotel in Estes Park, owned and operated the past year by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fulton. [Walter Fulton had been a driver for the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company. The Fultons must have purchased it from Josephine Hupp sometime after October 1924, because she was still advertising herself as the proprietor up to that time.] In the deal, the Fultons took the Burlington Hotel of Lyons, and immediately disposed of it to Mrs. Fulton's mother. The deal was made this week, and possession will be given Saturday. Mr. Hill has been in business in Lyons for about a year, and is said to be a good hotel man, being in the business before coming to Lyons.

18 September 1925 – Headline: Skeleton Causes Excitement. A party of tourists recently stumbled onto the grave of a Mr. Chitwood, who lost his life on Tyndal Glacier on Flattop Mountain, and gave out the story in one of the nearby towns that lead to some of the papers devoting considerable space to the supposition that the remains of Dr. Sampson of Texas, who disappeared ten years ago while traveling on foot and alone from Grand Lake to Estes Park, had been discovered. He did not reach Estes Park, and searching parties scoured the mountains for a month looking for him, but no trace has ever been discovered.

18 September 1925 – Headline: Community Fete Day Planned for All Day Thursday. Thursday, 24 September 1925, is to be a red letter day in the community life of Estes Park, when the whole community will turn out and enjoy an old-fashioned community picnic day with baskets building with good things to eat, and the men will pitch horseshoes, play ball, golf, etc., the women will play golf and indoor baseball out of doors [sic] and see that all the hungry members of the family are well fed, and the children will participate in the various sports that are being provided by the committee in charge. And one of the generous citizens of Estes Park has provided a host of prizes for all the various events that will be staged. For several years, there has been more or less talk of having a community day after the busy season was over each year, at which time all can get together and make new acquaintances and renew old ones, and at last it is to be – and everyone is urged to make a real holiday of the occasion and brush up on the old pioneer spirit of sociability for which the west became famous decades ago. It is planned for all business houses and the schools to close at noon Thursday, and remain closed until 4:00 p.m., and it is hoped that everyone in any part of the Estes Park district will consider himself invited to attend, and take part in the festivities of the day. The events of the day will start with two nine-hole handicap flag golf races, one for the men and one for the women, beginning at 10:00 a.m. The same generous citizen who is supplying the prizes for the children's events is also providing prizes of a dozen golf balls for the winners of these events. At 12:00 noon, the school children will arrive, and families will open the basket lunches and partake of the good things provided for the occasion. Coffee will be served on the grounds – Country Club grounds – and you have been wondering where it was to be; yes, all these events are to be staged at the Country Club grounds a mile east of the village. Mr. Stead will provide cream for the coffee from his dairy. After the picnic dinner, the sports will begin with a baseball game between the high school boys and a town team. The high school girls also want to play ball and will challenge the ladies of the community to a game of indoor baseball to be played out of doors [again, sic]. A series of athletic contests for the school children will complete the arrangements of the day. Other plans will be worked out for the pleasure of the day that cannot now be announced. The important thing, now that you know of the plans for an annual fete day for Estes Park, is that you determine that you and your family if you have one, shall attend and do your part in making the day an enjoyable one. For the convenience of those few who do not have means of conveyance, and for the school children who may need it, the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company has generously offered to run buses to accommodate them at no charge, if they will make their needs known.

18 September 1925 – Advertisement: Guy C. Caldwell, naturalist-entertainer, will leave in October on the annual Eastern Tour. Seven nature programs illustrated by autochromes, motion pictures, and hand-painted slides

18 September 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. H.R. Plumb and son Guy have gone to Golden where Guy has entered the State School of Mines as a freshman.

18 September 1925 – Mrs. F.O. Stanley, accompanied by Miss Butler and Miss Doris Baldrige, left Saturday for Newton Center, Massachusetts. Doris Baldrige will enter Simmons College for women there. Mr. Stanley will remain in Estes Park for two or three weeks before returning home.

18 September 1925 – Walter Kiener, the hero of Longs Peak and for the past summer fire lookout at the Twin Sisters ranger station, left Saturday for Lincoln, Nebraska where he will matriculate in the university as a journalism student.

18 September 1925 – Mrs. Henry Hupp came up to Estes Park this morning on business. She brought a lovely bouquet of dahlias into the Trail office that is greatly appreciated. There are nearly a dozen varieties, all coming from her flower garden in Loveland.

18 September 1925 – Mrs. J.E. Macdonald, who suffered a broken hip in falling to the sidewalk several weeks ago, is now able to ride about in a car. It will require considerable time yet before she will be able to walk freely.

18 September 1925 – Mrs. M.E. March entertained a number of her friends at Fall River Lodge Tuesday afternoon

18 September 1925 – We wonder if the folks who live on Riverside Drive are not getting tired of their bumpy trip to town? Since we have been in Estes Park this road has been given practically no attention. One team and two men could put this road in excellent shape in one day for a year or more. This is the easiest road in the village to maintain and should therefore be the best rather than the poorest one in town.

18 September 1925 – School notes: New teacher Miss Marie Farmer will teach history in the high school, also geography and grammar in the junior high school. A course in elementary physical education is to be added to the junior and senior high school curriculum for the first time Monday morning, 21 September 1925. Details regarding the nature of the course will be given later. Beginning with next week's issue of the Estes Park Trail, the name of the ranking classman in each grade will be published. The standing will be determined by striking an average of all the grades made by the student in the various subjects he is studying. Under the able direction of Miss Helen Sargent, our high school teacher, detailed school notes will be furnished each week regularly to the Estes Park Trail from now on, until school closes next May.

18 September 1925 – Grand Lake news: The Dead Man on Flattop. When Virginia Graeber, Hazel Martin, Dwight Remley and Earl Howie hike over Flattop last Wednesday they had a rather gruesome experience. They met two physicians who had just found the skeleton of a man in an obscure place on top of the mountain. The skeleton was dressed and had been buried in a shallow grave. Supervisor W.R. Kreutzer of the Colorado National Forest recalls a case of a preacher who left Grand Lake in the fall several years ago to hike in Estes Park and was never seen again. He was a friend or acquaintance of President Wilson, and the Forest Service took an active part in searching for him. Supervisor Kreutzer has asked Ranger Carr to investigate.

18 September 1925 – Toots Mondt was declared the winner of the wrestling match with Wayne Munn at the stockyards stadium in Denver. The referee was Don Kilton, wrestling coach at the University of Colorado.

18 September 1925 – The National Park Service has recently completed a stone building east of Fall River Pass near the timber trestle. The building will be known as the Timberline Road Camp, it is 16 feet by 32 feet in size and provides space for cooking and eating, as well as double-decked bunks for 16 men. The building is of masonry construction. The roof is weighted down with heavy stones placed on a log framework, following the Swiss custom.

25 September 1925 – Advertisement: Sherwood Hotel, reopened under new management, W.E. Cole, Manager

25 September 1925 – The new school building (auditorium) will provide for eight classrooms

25 September 1925 – Lengthy article on Mary Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. A typical day's requests include: Installing kindergartens throughout the U.S., reforming the moving picture industry, foundation a national university, getting a homestead boundary rectified, sponsoring a national movement to have married women retain their own names, establishing a peace plan that will settle the Riffian ruffian right away (no idea what this means), including women instructors in the war college, demanding decent dressing, establishing national traffic and road regulations, teaching birth control in colleges, offering prizes for large families, abolishing poverty, and plans showing how to be good, yet have a good time.

25 September 1925 – Mr. W.E. Cole of Trinidad has taken charge of the Sherwood Hotel as manager. Mrs. Cole accompanied her husband to Estes Park. They plan to keep the hotel open for some time at least this fall, if not all winter

25 September 1925 – Mr. Painter is having a Hot Air Pipe Furnace installed in the Riverby Rooms.

25 September 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. F.H. Secord left Tuesday noon for a trip that they plan will take them through Europe before they return to Estes Park next summer

25 September 1925 – The Teckers, proprietors of Forest Inn, left Tuesday for their home in Parks, Nebraska [near Benkelman]. They are planning many permanent improvements at the inn in the spring. One cottage was built this fall and logs are out for a number of buildings as soon as they arrive in the spring with the carpenters 25 September 1925 – Miss Harriet S. Peters and Mrs. Georgia S. Holbert, proprietors of the Green Roof Tea Room, left Thursday for Miles City, Montana, where Mrs. Holbert and children will join her husband on their ranch for the winter. Miss Peters will return to Estes Park in about a month.

25 September 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Patrick, proprietors of Horseshoe Inn, drove to their home in Fort Collins Wednesday for the winter. Mr. Hupp will be caretaker at the Inn this winter.

25 September 1925 – F.H. Tully is building a house on Riverside Drive. Roy Smith is building a garage on his property and Walter A. Gray is well along with a nice new cottage he is building on Elkhorn Avenue just beyond the Miss Foot cottages. [The latter would be almost to the Elkhorn Lodge.]

25 September 1925 – Robert A. Becker, wife and daughter, will leave Monday on their trip to Oregon and the Pacific Northwest where they expect to locate.

25 September 1925 – Mrs. Stella Spanier, proprietor of Prospect Inn, returned Thursday from a thousand mile trip through southern Colorado in which she visited the San Isabelle Forest and many other places of interest. She was gone on the trip ten days, going by way of the Fall River Road.

25 September 1925 – Sankey West had his Fordson tractor road machine out to the McGraw ranch this week putting the road to the ranch from the public highway in first class condition. This machine does wonderful work and much more rapidly and better than it is possible for horse-drawn machine to do it. We trust the day may soon come when the county can provide us with such a machine, as it covers far more territory thoroughly in one day than several men and several teams can do in several days. We believe its use would give us better roads at less cost of maintenance.

25 September 1925 – Claude Stevens had the honor of purchasing the first new model

Ford to be received by the local agency.

25 September 1925 – Grand Lake news: Leslie Ish is completing the rooms adjoining the Pine Cone Inn. International Harvester Company tried out a 90-horsepower, 18-passenger vehicle over Fall River Road, stopped or stayed overnight at the Corner Cupboard. [An earlier article in the same issue says it is a 24-passenger vehicle.] The follow-up on the Flattop skeleton is that it is NOT Reverend Sampson who had been lost several years ago. Fred McClaren, the forest ranger, said: “I wish they’d let that poor man on Flattop sleep in peace. He’s been dug up three times now. In the fall of 1919 a man from the ditch camp [Chitwood] above Squeaky Bob’s equipped himself with a pack horse and a saddle horse, and in company with his collie dogs started over. He was caught in a blizzard, his horses fell over Tyndall Glacier, and he was frozen to death on top of the mountain. The following spring, I buried the old man, when I found his body near the glacier.”

25 September 1925 – Where the Estes Park high school graduates are studying: Helen Byerly will complete her senior year at East Denver High School, Harry Grubb will complete his senior year at the Longmont High School [this is interesting, because Helen Byerly is listed as graduating in May 1925 from Estes Park high school. Apparently, she needed an additional year. Harry Grubb is not listed among the nine graduates in the 22 May 1925 article]. Doris Baldrige has gone to Simmons College in Boston, four people are attending the University of Colorado.

25 September 1925 – Mrs. Sherman was elected [General Federation of Women’s Clubs] president of the 1924 biennial convention at Los Angeles. She immediately established the Department of the American Home.

25 September 1925 – Andy Archer won the men’s long distance golf drive and Mrs. A.K. Holmes won the long distance drive for ladies at the community celebration day. Dr. James won the old settlers race, with Carl Piltz second. Mr. Piltz says foot racing does not agree with corns.

2 October 1925 – The Godfrey Store has begun making extensive improvements. The store room immediately to the rear and facing on Riverside Drive has been made into a part of the Godfrey store by removing the partition between, thus enlarging the store by 50% and easily doubling its usefulness and attractiveness. The addition also doubles the show window capacity.

2 October 1925 – The town of Estes Park is advertising for bids on a new sewer to replace the present inadequate sewer from the Service corner to the Estes Park Filling Station.

2 October 1925 – An organizational meeting for the winter bowling league will be held at the schoolhouse 6 October 1925 at 7:30. The alleys at the Stanley have been offered with the only stipulation that they be properly cared for and the league provide heat for their own use.

2 October 1925 – The community picture show, provided for a number of years by the school board during the winters, is again on for this winter. Children will be charged 10 cents and adults 35 cents.

2 October 1925 – Salthouse Brothers have rented Higby's store, next door to the National Park Outing Company, for a term of years, beginning 1 October 1925, where they will continue their usual business of shoe repairing. The building has been given some repairs, and the family will live there during the winter months.

2 October 1925 – Babies born in Estes Park to the following fathers/parents: Albert Laycook, Robert Church (4-1/2 pounds), Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perry James, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Preston.

2 October 1925 – W.B. Powhatan of Tucson, Arizona, has purchased a four-acre tract just north of the Big Thompson Hotel, in the Summer Villa tract.

2 October 1925 – Complaints and criticisms heard by the Chamber of Commerce this past year: Lack of proper rest room and comfort station facilities, lack of benches in the civic park for those waiting for mail, lack of trees and shrubs in city park, lack of road maps giving mileage, muddy streets and unattractive approaches to the village, unsightly signs and buildings along Big Thompson and North Saint Vrain, rock in road too numerous for enthusiasm of visitors, incorrect information given tourists before they enter Estes Park, unsightly and unsanitary conditions around cottages from garbage thrown on ground or place in gunny sacks, lack of adequate bath tub facilities, complaints of the high cost of food and short weighting.

2 October 1925 – Mary Jane James had perfect attendance at Sunday School for the months of April, May, June, July, August, and September

2 October 1925 – Dr. Henry S. Reid left Thursday for Hawaii, where he expects to spend the winter in Honolulu.

2 October 1925 – Mr. J.E. Macdonald is painting the roof of his residence this week.

2 October 1925 – Ralph Richmond of Longmont replaces Garrett Casey, who has gone to Florida, as the new manager of the Schwartz Lumber Company yard. Mr. Richmond worked in Estes Park when the Lewiston Hotel was built 2 October 1925 – Mrs. March has closed Fall River Lodge for the season.

2 October 1925 – Legal Notices: Final Settlement of Estate of William T. Parke, deceased

9 October 1925 – Rocky Mountain National Park led all western parks in 1925 for attendance, with 233,912 visitors during the summer season.

9 October 1925 – Mr. Walter White, president of the White Motor Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and Mr. Roe Emery of the Rocky Mountain Lodges, Inc., arrived in Estes Park

Tuesday and spent the night at the Stanley Hotel. They visited the Estes Park office of the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company and left for Grand Lake Wednesday afternoon.

9 October 1925 – Three deer poachers in Rocky Mountain National Park pay $175 fine.

9 October 1925 – Mrs. Fairbairn of Beaver Point has been quite ill but is doing nicely now.

9 October 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. Homer G. Smith will close the National Park Cleaners this week. They are then going to Boulder and Denver, but will come up to Estes Park several times during October.

9 October 1925 – At the annual meeting of the Estes Park Golf and Country Club, Dr. Roy Wiest was elected president and Samuel Service vice-president.

9 October 1925 – Charlie Clapham sold 1800 copies of the Estes Park Trail in 12 weeks on the village streets. He says he will make it 3000 next year.

9 October 1925 – Mr. E.R. Rivers was called to Dillon, Montana, on account of the death of his father, John R. Rivers, at the age of 74.

9 October 1925 – Land from William Cheney, deceased, for public sale 24 October 1925 includes parts of sections 26 and 27 in township 5N, range 73W.

9 October 1925 – Headline and byline: Kiener's Lookout by John Dickinson Sherman. Kiener's Lookout is not really its name at all. It is merely a fire lookout station on the top of Twin Sisters Mountain in Rocky Mountain National Park, and Walter Kiener is the man on watch for forest fires. Nevertheless, Walter Kiener's Lookout is unique. For right across Tahosa Valley looms the dark, sheer east face of Longs Peak, "King of the Rocky Mountains". And it is here that was enacted last winter [meaning January 1925] the grim struggle between man and mountain that thrilled the mountaineers of the world. That dread East Face [of Longs Peak] did not stop Agnes Vaille and Walter Kiener. But altitude and storm killed Agnes Vaille after the summit was won, crippled Walter Kiener for life, and did to death Herbert Sortland in an attempt to rescue. And from his lofty eyrie in the Twin Sisters, Kiener looks out day after day and night after night on these very places. Rocky Mountain National Park is the most popular of all the national parks. Tahosa Valley, at the foot of Longs Peak, is its south entrance. The Twin Sisters rim Tahosa's cup on the east, the crest of the vast granite heap is the Rocky Mountain National Park boundary. Hundreds each season climb the Twin Sisters for the magnificent view, the alpine flowers, the fantastic timberline. This season, thousands instead of hundreds have worn deep the steep and narrow trail. It is the Twin Sisters plus Walter Kiener. Man and women of prosaic lives are fascinated by the tragic and thrilled by the heroic. Tahosa – Land of the Dwellers in the Mountain Tops – is 9000 feet up in the Colorado Rocky Mountains. The south peak of Twin Sisters rises 11,384 feet, its twin to 11,436 feet. If your eyes are good, you can just see from Tahosa Kiener's Lookout on the bare granite summit of the north peak of Twin Sisters. His sheltered cabin is hidden from sight. Longs Peak rises 14,255 feet [sic, 14,249 feet]. Its slopes are deeply scarred by ancient glaciers. It was not ascended until 1868- and then with great difficulty from the west and by way of the Notch. Finally was found a comparatively easy rail form Tahosa Valley, which able-bodied men, women, and youngsters can safely travel with competent guides. About a thousand visitors a year make the ascent. But not more than six winter ascents have been made. The famous East Face of Longs Peak rises 2455 feet from Chasm Lake in East Gorge. It is mostly sheer. It was believed by all mountaineers to be impossible of ascent. In 1922, a Princeton [University, in New Jersey] professor made the ascent. Since then, it has been climbed several times by experts. All of these ascents were in summer. It was this winter ascent of the East Face that challenged Agnes Vaille. The daughter of a wealthy Denver man, she had chosen a business career, and was secretary to the Chamber of Commerce. Mountaineering was her avocation, and she could justly boast that no man in the Colorado Mountain Club could outdo her. Walter Kiener is a Swiss who had established a reputation in the Alps before coming to Denver about two years ago. He has done much climbing in the Colorado Rocky Mountains, and had frequently been the companion of Miss Vaille. Agnes Vaille, Elinor Eppich, and Kiener left Denver Saturday, 10 January 1925. Sunday at 3:00 a.m., they reached Timberline Cabin (11,300 feet up on the regular trail). At 9:00 a.m., the two climbers left for Chasm Lake, and Miss Eppich returned to Tahosa Valley. Darkness found the two climbers only partway up the East Face. After a favorable day, the thermometer had dropped to 14 [degrees Fahrenheit] below [zero] and the wind had risen. They decided to climb up rather than down. They reached the summit at 4:00 a.m. Monday. There is no shelter there, they had to keep moving. The regular trail down is on the west slope. They chose a shorter route down the north slope. Few have been over it even in summer. They had both used it. There is no trail. By 9:30 a.m., they had descended about 750 feet. At the point, the most difficult of this dangerous route, Miss Vaille lost her footing and slid down over rocks and snow for 150 feet. She assured Kiener she was not hurt. But it was found that her feet and hands were partly frozen. With Kiener's help, she went on a hundred feet or more. Then she was exhausted, though unbroken in courage. Kiener left her for help at 10:30 a.m. He reached Timberline Cabin at 1:00 p.m. There he found a relief party of four men: Herbert Sortland, Jacob Christian, Hugh Brown, and his son Oscar Brown. Leaving Oscar Brown to keep the fire going, Kiener led the others back up the mountain. Just above timberline (11,500 feet), Hugh Brown had to drop out [Timberline Cabin was said to be at 11,300 feet, so he dropped out after 200 feet rise in elevation]. At 11,800 feet, Herbert Sortland, 23 years of age, could not keep up, and was sent back. Kiener and Christian – he had given up hope of returning alive – reached Agnes Vaille at 4:40 p.m. She was dead – and had been for hours. The two men got back alive to Timberline Cabin at 7:30 p.m. Then at intervals struggled in men whom the drifts and gale and flying snow and bitter cold of the winter night could not keep back.

Each had started as the news reached him that Agnes Vaille was in danger on Longs Peak. By 10:00 [p.m. on Monday?] had arrive Tom Allen, assistant superintendent of Rocky Mountain National Park, and Jack Moomaw and Walter Finn, Rocky Mountain National Park rangers. At 4:30 a.m. Tuesday morning, Rocky Mountain National Park Superintendent Roger W. Toll (cousin of Agnes Vaille) arrived from Denver, with Edmund Rogers, George C. Barnard, William F. Ervin, and Carl Blaurock, veteran mountaineers of the Colorado Mountain Club. Daylight found them all trying to keep from freezing about a fire kept burning on top of the cabin stove. To recover Agnes Vaille's body was impossible. At 9:30 [a.m. Tuesday morning?] all descended to the valley. Then it was discovered that Herbert Sortland was missing. Volunteers – Casey [i.e., Clayton Newell] Rockweel, John Sherman, Ed Andrews, Jack Dillon, Warren Rutledge, and others – risked their lives in the vain search that was made below timberline. Not until Thursday could Agnes Vaille's body be reached. It lay at an elevation of about 13,300 feet on the north slope, 200 feet back of the edge of the East Face, and about 50 feet above the perpetual snowdrift on the edge of Boulder Field – which is in plain sight from the valley, suggests a flying bird, and is sometimes called “The Dove”. Two skis were placed end to end, and a third leashed across the joint. The body was strapped to these skis and carried with the aid of ski poles. Eight men carried the body across Boulder Field, relays taking part at frequent intervals. Further down, a toboggan could be used. At Timberline Cabin fluttered the American flag, worn and frayed from the winter storms. Agnes Vaille had done patriotic service overseas during the world war [World War I]. They took down Old Glory and laid it across her body. And so came back Agnes Vaille from Longs Peak to Tahosa Valley. Walter Kiener, badly frostbitten and snow-blind, was driven to Denver for medical treatment, several operations were found necessary. Agnes Vaille's father paid the hospital bills. The National Park Service gave him the lookout station. The body of Herbert Sortland was not found until 25 February 1925 – in the Tahosa Valley, within a stone's throw of the main road and of shelter. Kiener's official gaze must pass over the spot several times a day. And he cannot look at Longs Peak without seeing “The Dove”.

9 October 1925 – Reprinted from the Literary Digest: Headline: Fire Fighting. 72 hours without sleep while fighting a forest fire – such is the endurance record of William R. Kreutzer, supervisor of the million-acre Colorado National Forest. And the surge and ebb of such a fight, we are told, is as full of thrills and of dramatic suspense, and as subject to a species of almost military science, as any orthodox battle, whether with Native Americans or a [warning: ignorance follows] civilized enemy. A sample piece of Colorado firefighting is sketched by Alfred Pittman, who introduces us to Kreutzer and his crew, and also to the daughter of one of them, herself a “handyman” in a forest blaze. Writing in the American Magazine, he continues: 2:00 p.m. in the afternoon came, and Kruetzer was still at work with his measuring instruments, though he was continually looking up and away, expecting every moment to see a terrifying but familiar sight. And finally, he did see it – a column of pitch-black smoke, rising swiftly into the air. Immediately he gathered up his instruments and hurried down the mountainside to the nearest telephone. There, the operator gave him the exact location of the fire, and told him what men were on the way to fight it. A few brief orders for the operator to carry out, and Kreutzer was in his car again, racing over the mountain roads. He arrived at the fire, and found key-man Mosch already there, with five other men. Mosch had been nearest the fire when it started. He had heard it first at his pool hall, in Tolland. Trained in firefighting by the ranger, authorized to hire men and take charge of fires till a forest officer could arrive, he had started with five men – and his daughter Elsie. Subhead: Girl speeds away for assistance. Elsie was 17, and not forest-reared for nothing. She had hardly reached the fire when she knew that six men weren't enough, not nearly. Calling to her father where she was going, Elsie unharnessed a wood hauler's horse, swung up on it bareback, and disappeared upon the road. Two miles away, she commandeered an old car. A mile farther on, the car broke a spring and collapsed, and she ran half a mile to a sheep camp. She took a horse from a picket there, hitched its rope around its nose for a bridle, and finished the ride to the tunnel. The tunnel timekeeper said he had already sent eight men. "That's not enough," she said. And she went back with 20! Kreutzer had taken charge of the fire as soon as he arrived – and it was a real fire! It had started at the bottom of a steep, heavily wooded slope, and was climbing rapidly. Above was one terrific mass of fire, stretching out for hundreds of feet through the crowns of the pines and spruces, and drawing a pitchy gas from them and igniting it. And over all sounded the dreadful, deafening roar of the forest fire. Mosch, as soon as he arrived, began a trench warfare against the flames, and Kreutzer carried it on. Some little distance from the "flame line" a swath of timber was felled and removed, thus forming a "control line". The first crew was closely followed by another with shovels and mattocks. These men dug a continuous trench about two feet wide into the matted needles on the ground. It was a flanking strategy. Turn in on the flames, close the line in front of them, put a barrier around three sides of it in the shape of a rude horseshoe, and then close the open end of the shoe. That was the aim from the first. But it was not easy. Subhead: Trapped by flames but are rescued. The men's faces turned black with smoke as they toiled, sweat poured from their bodies, now and then a shirt or hat was flung aside – burning. One young man was pulled out from the line, gassed. Kreutzer went into the flame line to get five others who were reported to have been trapped. These men were brought out safely. "We can't go in there!" cried a crew foreman, in all sincerity, trying a hot place and retreating. But Kreutzer, more experienced, ran in ahead of him, delivering quick blows and falling back. And the foreman and his crew, seeing it could be done, followed suit. Then the men had to be held back. The fire would have outflanked them. A fire had done that with Kreutzer – whipped a great tail of flame around him and shut him in. He had had to be dragged out. Darkness came on while the men still labored. The fire that had been a great cloud of smoke and monstrous furnace in the sunlight became a huge flare in the sky at night, casting weird lights and shadows over all the mountainside. And so it went on until toward 2:00 a.m. in the morning, when there came "a lull brought on by the morning stillness". And the supervisor recognized this as "his chance of 24 hours to check the fire." The narrative goes on: He tried – and failed. Not enough fresh men were available to accomplish the plan. All through the morning hours and the next day and evening, the men toiled on. Only the utterly exhausted dropped out, and Kruetzer was always in the lead. Subhead: Fire under control after fierce battle. At 12:00 midnight the second night came the lull again – and another master effort. The squads on opposite sides of the line turned resolutely inward, faces scorching. They came in sight of each other! They made a desperate last spurt – and closed the line! The fire was under control. But it was not out. It was still a raging furnace that might easily jump the control by burning out along dry roots underground, or sending embers overhead. Kruetzer stationed guards along the line, the freshest men he had, and put them under command. Then he lay down to sleep his first sleep in 43 hours. Six hours later, he was up again, stationing new guards, taking stock of the situation. “What was the longest time,” I asked, “that you ever went without sleep on a fire?” “72 hours,” Kruetzer answered. “That was an eight-day fire altogether, and we fought the whole thing through, with only brief snatches of rest.”

16 October 1925 – Headline: Largest Number Ever Recorded Scale Longs Peak This Season. The world’s seventh-hardest climbable peak, Longs Peak in Rocky Mountain National Park, this season surpassed any previous record for the mountain climbers who were successful in reaching its summit by practically 20%, or a total of 1,456. The record is taken from the register maintained on the summit of the peak by the Colorado Mountain Club. The figures include Mr. Walter Kiener and Miss Agnes Vaille, who made the fatal ascent of the east face of the peak on 12 January 1925. The first trip of the regular season was made 10 May 1925, and from this time until 3 September 1925, eight licensed guides made a total of 62 trips to the summit. Visitors came from far and wide and several countries are represented among those registered on the summit as follows: India, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, Brazil, China, Canada, South Africa, and England. Climbing and hiking clubs represented are Colorado Mountain Club, Colorado Climbers Club, Sierra Club, Swiss Alpine Club, Cleveland Hiking Club, and Green Mountain Club of Vermont. An interesting feature in the history of the mountain is revealed by the register in that 1/4 of the total number of successful climbers making the difficult climb to the summit are women. Of the total 1,456 who climbed Longs Peak this year, 376, or 26%, were women. The men totaled 1080. During the month of May, 10 people were registered. During August, there were 801 registered, and during the first three days of September, 88 registered. While Longs Peak is said to be the seventh hardest climbable peak in the world, it is said to be the fifth most interesting from a scenic standpoint.

16 October 1925 – Headline: The First Touch of Winter. Estes Park got its first touch of winter this week, when snow fell Sunday afternoon very heavily for a time in the village. The snow did not remain on the ground but a few hours. Friday, another storm started that promises to be a real snowstorm, and is likely to cause the enthusiasts to think of winter sports. A number of hotels are still open. Hewes-Kirkwood remains open the year around. Longs Peak Inn is still open for guests, as has been Spragues all fall. The hotels open in the village are the Lewiston, the Stanley Manor, the Sherwood, and the Hupp.

16 October 1926 – Mrs. George Wyatt returned Monday from a brief visit with her parents in Western Nebraska.

16 October 1925 – Headline: How Many Great Grandparents has your Child? In our article “Watch Estes Park Grow,” two weeks ago, we stated the Glen Preston baby had the distinction of having two living great-grandfathers, and he bore both their names. This little statement has started something we don’t care to stop, and now comes “Bobbie” Church forward with the statement that his new boy has three living great grandmothers. This is proving interesting, and we are wondering how many Estes Park Trail babies living in Estes Park or elsewhere have more than two living great grandparents. Just to give a little live interest to the contest of babies under two years of age with two or more living great grandparents, the Estes Park Trail is going to publish each week a list of all such babies. First, those with four or more living [great] grandparents, state whether great grandfathers or great grandmothers, or number of each; second, those with three of each or both, and so on down the list. Where will your baby classify? If it has two or more living great grandparents, send in baby’s name and number of great grandmothers and great grandfathers. The list starts as follows: Jackson Calvin Preston and Robert Raymond Church.

16 October 1925 – Headline: Fall River Road Closed by Snow. The Fall River Road is now closed to travel, as the recent snowstorms have formed drifts near Fall River Pass, where the road reaches an elevation of 11,797 feet. Several cars crossed Fall River Pass on Sunday, 11 October 1925, but there has been no travel over the road since that date. The record for previous years is as follows: In 1924, the road was blocked by snow on 2 October 1924, and remained closed for two days. After that, a few cars made their way over the Fall River Pass, the last one on 5 October 1924. A heavy snow storm on 8 October 1924 definitely closed the road for the winter. In 1923, the road was blocked by snow as early as 17 September 1923, but travel was resumed a day or two later. It was again temporarily blocked [remainder of paragraph garbled, the two subsequent lines are “on October 11 represents about an av-,” which is found later in the article in the proper context, followed by “season crossed the Fall River Pass on 9 October 1923.” My guess is, the last car of the 1923 season crossed the Fall River Pass on 9 October 1923, and one line prior to this line was omitted.] In 1922, the road was closed to travel by snow on 29

October 1922, although one car was hauled across the Fall River Pass by a team on 30 October 1922. In 1921, the road was closed by snow on 24 October 1921. The closing of the road this year on 11 October 1925 represents about an average date. In the two preceding years, it has closed a few days earlier, while in the years 1921 and 1922, it remained open until some two weeks later. It is interesting to note that in every year, travel has been maintained until some time in October. The lower roads in Rocky Mountain National Park are open to travel, and Estes Park is accessible to automobile traffic throughout the year.

16 October 1925 – Headline: Found Five Point Buck. Mr. O.P. Low wishes to take advantage of the Estes Park Trail's offer to locate the owner of lost articles free of charge to the finder. The thing that worries him the most about his find is that he cannot make use of the find, and he does not know to just whom the article may belong. The fact of the matter is that it may not be lost, but that it has simply strayed. Whatever the situation may be, however, Mr. Low would like for the owner to call at his place most any evening, and prove ownership of a fine five-point buck deer that insists on calling every evening and browsing in the front yard. The experience of Mr. Low is not so very unusual this fall, since there have been many deer seen within the town limits this fall, and one party claims to have seen five elk within the town. In returning home late one evening, the Estes Park Trail editor was compelled to slow up his car to let three deer get out of the way just north of the Craggs bridge over the Big Thompson River.

16 October 1925 – Headline: Estes Park Votes to Accept Generous Offer of Mr. Stanley. At the special school bond election held last Saturday at the schoolhouse, the citizens of the district voted overwhelmingly to accept the generous offer of Mr. F.O. Stanley by voting the proposed issue of $71,000. In voting the bonds, the district secures an outright gift from Mr. Stanley that is conservatively estimated to amount to $8000. The gift is the site for the new school building and gymnasium for the Estes Park schools, just across the road from the present building. The gift of Mr. Stanley amounts to 1/10 of the total value of the school building and the grounds, and is given by Mr. Stanley to further the educational opportunities of the children of Estes Park. Mr. Stanley is keenly interested in education, and last winter built a gymnasium and presented it to a college in Maine, of which he is a director. He also is demonstrating his interest in education in other ways that will be revealed when his life's history is written. The Estes Park Trail will this winter print the story of the Maine gymnasium. Details of the building to be erected will be found on page 3 in this week's Estes Park Trail.

16 October 1925 – Headline: Town Lets Sewer Contract. The town let the contract for the new sewer to be laid on Elkhorn Avenue, from Black Canyon Creek below the Stanley gate to the Samuel Service corner, to George W. Johnson of Estes Park. The new sewer will take the place of the present one, which is now too small for proper service. A drain sewer is also being laid, which it is hoped will drain the basements along the street that are troubled with seepage water. Work on the trench has already begun and the tile is being placed on the ground.

16 October 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. Henry Merrell returned last Friday from a trip of a month to their old home in Missouri. They enjoyed good weather most of the time until on their return journey.

16 October 1925 – V.D. Hurrell spent several days in Denver this week purchasing a good stock of the most up-to-date radios and accessories

16 October 1925 – Headline: Bank Statement Reveals Healthy Condition of Local Institutions. The bank statement published in last week's Estes Park Trail reveals the healthy and steady growth that the Estes Park Bank has been making for a number of years. The Estes Park Bank is capitalized at $25,000 and has a surplus and undivided profits in excess of $16,000 net. The deposits are in excess of a half million dollars - $510,962.02. The statement was in response to the bank examiner's call for condition on date of 28 September 1925. At a recent meeting of the board of directors, it was determined to erect a new bank building in the spring that will provide ample room for the rapidly increasing business of the bank. [This never happened, although the bank expanded north in 1929.] The building will be erected on the site of the present one.

16 October 1925 – Headline: Estes Park School Bonds Sold Advantageously. Friday, the school bonds voted last week were sold at auction in Estes Park at a remarkably good figure. There were a number of bidders and the bonds were disposed of above par, bringing $1.0126 at 4-3/4% interest. The firms of Bosworth, Chanute & Company, and Boetcher & Company [sic, wonder if this is Boettcher & Company] purchased the bonds jointly.

16 October 1925 – Headline: Annual Oyster Supper Tuesday. The annual supper of the Estes Park Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Stanley Hotel Tuesday evening. This is one meeting to which the ladies of the members are especially invited, and it is always well attended. The supper will be held at 7:00 p.m.

16 October 1925 – Headline: Superintendent Albright Visits Rocky Mountain National Park. Sunday, Superintendent Roger W. Toll of Rocky Mountain National Park, and Superintendent Horace M. Albright of Yellowstone National Park, arrived in Estes Park from the Park Executives Conference at Mesa Verde National Park. This was the third visit to Rocky Mountain National Park by Mr. Albright since it was created by an act of Congress. The two most interesting features of the trip this time, Superintendent Albright said in visiting the Estes Park Trail office, was the trip over Berthoud Pass and the Fall River Road, and the visit at Grand Lake. This was the first time over this marvelously scenic route by Superintendent Albright. But the most interesting feature of the trip was the conjecture as to whether they would find Fall River Pass open. They made the trip without great difficulty, although the Fall River Pass did close up for the season the following day from the drifting snow that fell on the top of the range Sunday and Monday.

16 October 1925 – Ted Jelsema is making some attractive improvements on the Riverside Amusement Park, and changing the entrance to a more convenient location

16 October 1925 – An auditorium and gymnasium will be erected in Estes Park by school district No. 30 of Larimer County, Colorado. The building site is a piece of ground 100 feet wide and 170 feet deep, facing on MacGregor Lane, 200 feet north of Elkhorn Avenue. The site faces west on the civic center, almost directly across MacGregor Lane from the public school, post office, and library. This land is donated free of all encumbrances by Mr. F.O. Stanley. The building will be 86 feet wide and 133 feet long, covering nearly the entire area of the site. The walls and main floor will be built of concrete, with steel roof and floor supports. The building will have a basement and a main floor. At any time the entire building may be converted into a classroom building. The entrance foyer is 25 by 46 feet in size, on either side of the foyer are four classrooms and two stairways leading to the basement. The foyer connects with the main auditorium by three sets of folding doors. The auditorium room proper is 70 feet by 80 feet with the floor inclined toward the stage. Average ceiling height is 22 feet. The stage platform is 40 feet by 70 feet, of ample size for use as a gymnasium, basketball court, or theatre stage. The seating capacity of the main floor is as follows: Auditorium 837, stage 429, and foyer 152, for a total of 1418 seats for convention purposes. The front portion of the basement will contain a pair of standard bowling alleys, two toilet rooms, and a large storage room for extra chairs. The rear basement under the stage will have two toilets, shower baths and locker rooms for boys and girls, a general storage room and a large general room for school or theatre use. The complete cost of the building will be $70,000.

16 October 1925 – Interesting historical record of the number of people entering Rocky Mountain National Park since 1915.

16 October 1925 – Mr. C.T. Neill of Greeley in Estes Park, leased the room the Boyd Block west of the Estes Park Trail for a curio store. Mr. Neill is in the furniture business. [This will become the Aspen Shop or Shoppe.]

16 October 1925 – List of shares in various enterprises [mostly local] owned by William T. Parke, deceased, that will be sold to the highest bidder 24 October 1925.

23 October 1925 – Loveland National Bank closed its doors Monday, plans to reorganize

23 October 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. R.R. Macdonald went to Denver Tuesday to hear Will Rogers, the famous comedian and writer.

23 October 1925 – Mr. Cesar Tschudin has rented a store in the Boyd Block and will move from his location adjoining Curtis & Agnew's confectionery

23 October 1925 – Dr. George Best Crissman has moved his dental office [from the office shared with Dr. Peckham, the osteopath. The office will now be] across the street next to the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Higby is going to remodel the building for the doctor. This will give a fine reception room and two operating rooms.

23 October 1925 – Ernest B. Bradley is the head mechanic at Patterson's Garage.

30 October 1925 – Claude Stevens is the local agent for the Texas Oil Company.

30 October 1925 – Estes Park will be honored next month by the presence of a distinguished party of telephone officials, chief among them Walter S. Gifford, president of Bell Telephone. In anticipation of their visit, no single detail is being overlooked and tests have already been made between New York City and the Stanley Hotel for a perfect telephone connection. A call which the hotel received from New York Tuesday evening was clearer than any call ever received here.

30 October 1925 – Tuesday evening the summer of Dr. W.A. Duckworth of Loveland at Sylvania, 10 miles down the Big Thompson Canyon from Estes Park, was destroyed by fire. The fire was discovered by Overseer L.U. Long when returning home from the day's work on the road.

30 October 1925 – John K. Sherman and Miss Florine Fleming of San Bernardino, California were married in the Mission Inn in Riverside, California. The two met when Sherman was serving in the United States forces and Miss Fleming was engaged in war work.

30 October 1925 – James A Horne allowed to take "dignified" name. Declaring that he was desirous of having a dignified name, James A. Horne of Estes Park applied to District Judge George F. Dunklee in Denver to change his name to Treet Rockar. The name Horne, its owner told the judge, "lends itself to nicknames and appellations of an insulting and embarrassing nature." A great many of his friends, he said, had been calling him embarrassing names. Horne said he wanted a name that would not lend itself to ridicule and would not permit any nickname of familiarity to be used by any of his friends or acquaintances. Judge Dunklee granted Horne's petition, permitting him to change his name to Treet Rockar.

30 October 1925 – Mr. Mills is having the interior of the Craggs Hotel redecorated throughout. The work is being taken care of by Mr. Charles Robbins.

13 November 1925 – Mr. George Wolk was in Estes Park from Denver Tuesday.

13 November 1925 – Estes Park Chamber of Commerce has over 100 members.

13 November 1925 – Considerable improvement work is being done this winter at the Estes Park Chalets, owned by the Rocky Mountain Lodges, which, when completed, will completely modernize all the older part of the huge building at that place

20 November 1925 – Headline: Sugar Beet Growing Colorado's Biggest Industry. Sugar beets stood first in point of value among individual Colorado farm crops in 1924, and first in manufacturers, according to the State Board of Immigration's Year Book for 1925, just issued. Grown on only 3-1/2% of the state's total cropped acreage in 1924, the sugar beets provided 16-1/2% of the total crop values for that year. With $21,898,620 as the official value given for the sugar beet roots and tops, and 229,000 as the acreage harvested, the average return to the farmers per acre was $95.62. A few vegetable and melon crops on comparatively small acreages returned like values, but the major farm products gross proceeds per acres for the farmers were winter wheat $16.52, corn $8.80, dry beans $10.54, potatoes $72, and tame hay $23.40, while for all crops the average per acres value was $20.54. The total estimated farm returns from 6,427,215 acres of all crops in Colorado in the year 1924 was given as $131,275,383. Some ten or more varieties of wild hay yielded $29,199,200 in 1,248,000 acres, and 1,141,000 of winter wheat brought $18,149,320. From 1/5 of the winter wheat total acreage, the sugar beet crop, including tops, produced over $3,000,000 more in returns for the growers. Agriculture ranked first in Colorado in value of products, manufacturing second, and mining third. Pointing to the relation between these lines of industry, the year book says, "The largest manufacturing industry resulting from agricultural development is the production of beet sugar, which occupies first place among Colorado manufactories, and makes this the largest beet sugar producing state in the Union. Colorado ranked first in the United States in the production of sugar beets, third in production of cantaloupes and snap beans for canning, fourth in dry beans, cauliflower, and commercial cabbage, fifth in alfalfa, sixth in broom corn, grain sorghum, celery, lettuce, and cucumbers for pickling, seventh for spring wheat, barley, and onions, eighth for pears, kraut cabbage, and table peas, ninth for flaxseed, and tenth for wild hay, potatoes, and peas for canning.

20 November 1925 – Mr. Pete McDonald was called to Denver Friday noon, on account of the illness of his sister, who was traveling from her home in New Jersey, to visit her parents in California. She was planning on coming to Estes Park for a visit with her brother, but caught a bad cold en route, which developed into pneumonia, and at the present time she is critically ill.

20 November 1925 – Headline: Mr. Piltz has Thanksgiving Treat for Entire Estes Park. This past summer, Mr. Carl Piltz has spent many hours faithfully and joyfully tending a nice patch of celery in his garden in the village, near the river. We say joyfully, for Mr. Piltz is never quite so happy as when he can get into his garden and show all the neighbors how to grow real and the finest vegetables to be found anywhere. Last spring, he conceived the idea of giving celery a test, and much to his great joy succeeded in growing some of the finest celery one could wish for – crisp as an icicle. And now he proposes to treat the entire community, and asks every housewife, and male and female bachelor, to come to his house on the hill the morning of Thanksgiving and receive one or two bunches, whichever will take care of the Thanksgiving needs of the family. Mr. Piltz wants every person in Estes Park to come without hesitancy and accept the treat with his best wishes for the season, and find out what can really be done with that crop in this altitude. Mr. Piltz has about 250 bunches that he will give away as his Thanksgiving treat.

20 November 1925 – Headline: Fine Snowstorm Brings out the Skis and Toboggans. Last Friday, a fine snow began falling, and before the weather really cleared Monday there had been a total snowfall of eight inches of snow. Saturday and Sunday, the sliding course on Davis Hill was alive with many who were proficient in the use of skis, and others who were on them for the first time. The ski jump on the Elkhorn course was practically complete, and with a few more falls of snow, it will be in the finest condition for use it has ever been in. The Prospect Valley course on the Liebman place is ready for use as soon as there is sufficient snow. The jumping hill known as the Elkhorn course has been built after blueprints furnished by the National Ski Association, and it should establish some new records in the state this winter.

20 November 1925 – Article reprinted from Fort Collins Express. Headline: Skiing Season is now on in Mountains of Larimer County. The skiing season is now on, several groups of enthusiasts having made trips to the mountains Sunday, to engage in the popular Colorado pastime. At Soldier Canyon, many person were skiing, there being sufficient snowfall to make the sport enjoyable in the warm sunshine of early Sunday afternoon. Many members of the local group of the Colorado Mountain Club are among those who are accepting every opportunity to enjoy the wholesome recreation of skiing in the mountains of Larimer County.

20 November 1925 – The National Park Hotel entertained guests from the following places during the past two weeks in November: Shreveport, Louisiana, Lexington, Nebraska, Sharpsville, Pennsylvania, Belvedere, Illinois, and Glacier Park, Montana. Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Wuesthoff of Frankfurt, Germany were guests there on 9 November 1932. They were here on a visit to Mrs. Wuesthoff's sister, Mrs. Riedeburg of Denver. Mr. and Mrs. Riedeburg are former residents of Estes Park, who still spend part of their summers here.

20 November 1925 – Headline: Clatworthy will Exhibit New Autochromes Monday. Mr. F.P. Clatworthy, who made several hundred fine new autochromes this past fall in Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks, will give his new exhibit that will be shown this winter all over the east to the Estes Park people Monday evening at the school house auditorium. Mr. Clatworthy's exhibit this winter will be much different from any he has given in the past, and will also include new views of Bryce Canyon, Zion, and Grand Canyon, in addition to those mentioned above. This showing Monday evening will give Estes Park people the privilege of seeing the exhibit that Mr. Clatworthy will show this winter in the east, on the tour which he will start Thursday of next week. The admission price will be just half what is usually charged for the exhibit, and all the proceeds will go to the church budget.

20 November 1925 – Headline: Colorado Receives Fourth Highest Income in United States from National Forests. The Forest Service, according to Allen S. Peck, District Forester of Denver, has just notified Governor Morley that a warrant in the amount of $107,850 is being forwarded by the Secretary of the Treasury as the contribution from the national forests in Colorado for the fiscal year of 1925, the fourth highest received by any of the 28 states sharing National Forest receipts. This amount is equal to 25% of the total receipts from the national forests of Colorado, and is turned over to the state under the provisions of an act of 23 May 1908, to be spent by the counties in which the National Forests are located for the building and upkeep of roads and schools. In addition this amount, the District Forester has just received an allotment of $43,139.82 for expenditure on roads and trails within the national forests of Colorado. This fund, known as the ten percent fund, amounts to 10% of the annual receipts, and is made available every year for improvement work within the state, where the money has been taken in. These two funds, amounting together to 35% of the total receipts of the national forests, are devoted exclusively to local improvement. In 20 years, the state of Colorado has received $1,415,236.84 from the forest service in the form of the 25% fund. In the 14 years that the 10% law has been in effect, the service has spent $469,983.11 on roads and trails in Colorado. This is in addition to special appropriations by Congress. The distribution in other states is as follows: California will receive $346,133, Oregon $236,326, Idaho $218,278, Arizona $110,561, Colorado $150,989, Washington $138,320, Montana $97,238, Wyoming $113,987, Utah $71,460, New Mexico $68,734, Nevada $34,353, South Dakota $46,005, Arkansas $28,261, Virginia $11,942, North Carolina $8,868, New Hampshire $13,018, Minnesota $7632, Florida $7265, Tennessee $5220, Nebraska $2643, Georgia $2763, Oklahoma $1238, West Virginia $1219, Maine $1031, South Carolina $451, Pennsylvania $21 [sic], Alabama $206, and Michigan $221. Alaska will receive $44,074, a sum larger than the previous year, and almost twice as large as the territory received in 1923, thus indicating a corresponding increase in timber sales from Alaska's two national forests.

20 November 1925 – Headline: Estes Park Sporting Goods Store Holds Formal Opening. The Estes Park Sporting Goods Store, established by Cesar Tschudin, winter sports instructor, held the formal opening of the new store in the Boyd Block Wednesday afternoon and evening. [The proprietors are Cesar Tschudin and Fred Stocker, according to another article in the same issue, and there is a photographic postcard of this business, or at least when Fred Stocker was the sole owner, very clearly located in the Boyd block] The response to the invitations sent out was very generous, and the visitors were treated to ice cream, cake, candy, cigars, and cigarettes. The store has a good stock of all kinds of winter sports necessities and other accessories, and was established in Estes Park last winter, when Mr. Tschudin purchased the stock of Mr. Higby, the one man mostly deserving for the credit of successful winter sports activities in Estes Park. Next to Mr. Higby, we would mention Augustus Denby Lewis, who got behind the proposition and pushed it to a successful conclusion, and did much to popularize these sports with our local people.

20 November 1925 – Headline: Estes Park Music Club Receives Splendid Honors. At a dinner tendered the Estes Park Music Club and their husbands by Mrs. W.E. Graves Thursday evening, it was revealed that the local music club had won signal honors among the clubs of the state. During the previous winter, the clubs of the state took up a study course in music, and later a written examination on the course was given. Five of the local members took the examination, and every member was successful, and the diplomas were awarded Thursday evening. Throughout the entire state, only 25 club members won diplomas, and the Estes Park club was the banner club of the state with five diplomas. Those receiving the honors were Mrs. Clem Yore, Mrs. Gaylord H. Thomson, Mrs. Henry Merrell, Mrs. Arthur B. Harris, and Miss Lois Griffith. The dinner tendered the club members and their husbands by Mrs. Graves was most beautifully appointed, delicious, and in great abundance. Every club member in town at the present time save two were present with their husbands, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The Estes Park club plans to entertain the State Federation of Music Clubs in Estes Park next spring, and they are already laying extensive plans for the occasion.

20 November 1925 – Headline: Olinger Highlanders will Hold Special Thanksgiving Service Sunday. A special Thanksgiving service will be held in Denver Sunday afternoon by the Olinger Highlanders in the city auditorium, and KOA will broadcast the entire program. Those who can attend in person are invited to do so, and bring their friends with them. The program is as follows: Highlander first band in concert, special boy speakers, municipal organ, and Thanksgiving message by Rabbi Rev. Dr. W.S. Friedman. The singing will be led by Freeman H. Talbot.

20 November 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. John K. Sherman arrived in Estes Park Saturday evening, returning from California, where they were recently married 20 November 1925 – Mrs. Charles E. Lester has returned to Estes Park from a visit with her son Elmer in Buffalo, New York. She will remain in Estes Park this winter with Mr. Lester, who has charge of the J.E. Macdonald store during the latter's absence in the Southwest.

20 November 1925 – J.E. Macdonald writes letter from Phoenix, Arizona

20 November 1925 – Wilma Baldrige was elected captain of the high school girls basketball team

20 November 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. T.B. Rogers, father and mother of Mrs. Byerly, arrived Tuesday from Lincoln, Nebraska to spend the winter with her.

20 November 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. O.P. Low plan to spend the winter in Baltimore with their son, Lieut. O.M. Low, who has just been transferred from the Canal Zone to the post near Baltimore [this is Otto Low, according to a 27 November 1925 follow-up].

20 November 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. Stead spending the winter in Long Beach, California

20 November 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Neill of Greeley were Estes Park visitors today. They will open a curio shop and furniture store in Estes Park in the spring.

20 November 1925 – Advertisement: Salthouse Brothers Electric Shoe Shop, opposite Williamson's Toggery

20 November 1925 – Mr. Frank H. Cheley, national known for his work among boys, and who is proprietor of the Bear Lake Trail School for Boys, has just favored us with a copy of the camp monthly called "The Pack Rat".

27 November 1925 – Headline: Students Write their Appreciation of the Estes Park Trail. A number have taken advantage of our special student [subscription] offer of nine months to students for $1.50, and we have received some nice letters of appreciation. Extracts from two of them are printed below: This one from John Preston, who is studying this winter at Missoula, Montana, where he is specializing in forestry: "Dear Mr. Harris: Just three days after the Estes Park Trail is off the press, I have it in my possession. That I consider pretty good, due to the fact that I am almost one thousand miles away. I certainly do enjoy reading it, and find myself waiting for the day when the postman will bring it to my door. My work this year, so far, has been very interesting. The School of Forestry here is one of the best, and I consider myself fortunate in being able to take my last year's work here. Missoula, Montana, itself is a pleasant resident city with a population of 16,000. The surrounding country is a region of mountain ranges, streams, and forests. As a matter of fact, the place reminds me very much of Boulder, Colorado. In last week's paper, I was interested when I read that the Estes Park people had accepted Mr. Stanley's generous offer, and that an auditorium and gymnasium will be erected on the site. Estes Park is fortunate in having such a man as Mr. Stanley pushing her to the front. An improvement of this nature will not only be an improvement to Estes Park, but will bring thousands of people there for their different conventions. Again I say that your paper is a welcome visitor, and that I'm looking forward to next week's issue. Yours truly, John Preston." Walter Kiener, the hero of the Longs Peak episode last January [meaning January 1925], writes from Lincoln, Nebraska, where he is in the university, that he is enjoying the Estes Park Trail, and that he is getting along nicely with his studies and is already getting good grades. He came to America from Switzerland about two years ago. He says he often feels lonesome for the mountains, but expects to be back.

27 November 1925 – Headline: Zion National Park Enlarged. The area of Zion National Park, in southwestern Utah, has been enlarged by the surrender of 40 acres of indemnity school lands by the state, it was announced at the Department of the Interior. The United States government has turned over to the state an equal amount of public land in exchange for these school lands. It is the policy of the Department of the Interior to eliminate private holdings within the national parks by such exchanges whenever possible.

27 November 1925 – Headline: A Golden Rule Thanksgiving Proclaimed by the President. The season approaches when in accordance with a long established and respected custom a day is set apart to give thanks to Almighty God for the manifold blessings which his gracious and benevolent providence has bestowed upon us as a nation and as individuals. We have been brought with safety and honor through another year, and, through the generosity of nature, he has blessed us with resources whose potentiality in wealth is almost incalculable; we are at peace at home and abroad, the public health is good, we have been undisturbed by pestilence or great catastrophe, our harvests and our industries have been rich in productivity, our commerce spreads over the whole world, and labor has been well awarded for its remunerative service. As we have grown and prospered in material things, so also should we progress in moral and spiritual things. We are a God-fearing people, who should set ourselves against evil, and strive for righteousness in living, and observing the golden rule we should from our abundance help and serve those less fortunately placed. We should bow in gratitude to God for his many favors. Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby set apart Thursday, 26 November 1925, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and I recommend that on that day the people shall cease from their work and in their homes or in their accustomed places of worship devoutly give thanks to the Almighty for the many great blessings they have received, and to seek his guidance, that they may deserve a continuance of his favor. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, D.C., 26 October 1925, in the 150th year of independence of the United States of America. Calvin Coolidge. By the President: Frank B. Kellogg, Secretary of State.

27 November 1925 – Headline: Clatworthy Autochrome Lectures will be Witnessed by 15,000 People. The Clatworthy autochrome exhibits will this winter during the next five weeks be witnessed by more than 15,000 people, all the way from Dayton, Ohio, to New York City. Mr. Clatworthy left Wednesday morning on his annual trip through the east that is scheduled with ten major engagements. He was compelled to limit his efforts considerably, that he might take advantage of an offer to go to Honolulu the first of the new year to make pictures in that delightful section of the Pacific. Mr. Clatworthy says that Estes Park friends who have friends in or near the cities where he lectures may see the pictures if they will place the names of these friends in the hands sufficiently beforehand with Mrs. Clatworthy, if he can make the arrangements with them for whom he is exhibiting. He is usually allowed several admission tickets everywhere he goes, and will be pleased to extend the courtesies to those who would most appreciate them. The exhibit carries 17 new and very pretty view of Rocky Mountain National Park, as well as many views of Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks. Mr. Clatworthy's dates are as follows: 28 November 1925 – National Cash Register Company, Dayton, Ohio. 29 November 1925 – National Cash Register Company, Dayton, Ohio. 7 December 1925 – Unity Course, Montclair, New Jersey. 10 December 1925 – Community Club, Newton, Massachusetts. 11 December 1925 – Town Hall, New York City, New York. 15 December 1925 – Carnegie Museum, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. 18 December 1925 – Buffalo Society of Natural Sciences [assume Buffalo, New York]. 20 December 1925 – Milwaukee Museum, Milwaukee, Wisconsin (two engagements). 21 December 1925 – City Club, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. 22 December 1925 – Fourth Presbyterian Church, Chicago, Illinois. [Some of these tour stops have obvious connections to Estes Park summer residents, or to Clatworthy himself. Dayton, Ohio, is Clatworthy's hometown, or close to it. Newton, Massachusetts is the home of F.O. Stanley, and the Fourth Presbyterian Church in Chicago, Illinois, is headed by Dr. John Timothy Stone.]

27 November 1925 – Headline: Travel Increasing to Grand Canyon, Arizona. Travel to the Grand Canyon National Park still continues to increase, according to J.R. Eakin, Grand Canyon National Park superintendent. Since the opening of the present season on 1 October 1925, a total of 11,053 people have visited Grand Canyon National Park, compared to 10,926 for the same period last year. Although the increase has been small, it has been exceedingly gratifying to officials of Grand Canyon National Park, due to the fact that weather conditions the past October were the most severe on record. Advance bookings and other indicators point to a record travel during the coming winter. The principal roads and trails on the South Rim are open the entire year, and the same high standard of hotel service is available at all times. Latest reports indicate the Maine road is in bad shape. However, the Williams road, although rough, is dry and easily passable. During the winter, motorists are advised to use the latter route.

27 November 1925 – Headline: Clatworthy Gives Splendid Exhibit of Remarkable Autochrome Pictures. At the school house Monday evening, Mr. Fred Payne Clatworthy gave an exhibition of the new autochrome pictures secured this fall in Rocky Mountain, Yellowstone, and Glacier National Parks. The value of Mr. Clatworthy's lectures in stimulating travel to the west has been fully recognized by the railroads and others, and every courtesy was extended Mr. Clatworthy during his trip this fall in quest of new pictures. After the exhibit Monday evening, we feel safe in making the assertion that Mr. Clatworthy has outdone himself in his previous work as an autochrome artist. As an autochrome artist, Mr. Clatworthy is nationally known. Mr. Clatworthy Monday evening showed a number of autumn pictures taken in Rocky Mountain National Park that were marvelous and really beyond description. And right here, we might state that every picture shown by Mr. Clatworthy was new and very different from anything we have ever seen before. In Yellowstone National Park, Mr. Clatworthy secured a number of very fine pictures showing the splendid colorings of the national terraces about the hot springs. He also has some excellent pictures of some of the best geysers in action. Many of these pictures in Yellowstone National Park also give glimpses of the autumn colorings. Notwithstanding the fact it rained six of the eight days he was in Glacier National Park, Mr. Clatworthy secured a number of very fine pictures of that region, that causes one who has never visited the region to get an entirely different conception of the Rocky Mountains as they are found in northern Montana. Although the highest peak in Glacier National Park is only a few hundred feet higher than Prospect Mountain, just south of the village and on the side of which is built the Crags Hotel, the mountains in Glacier National Park are extremely rugged and spectacular, and a number of large lakes with passenger steamers on them are found at the foot of many of the peaks. Timberline in Glacier National Park is around 6000 feet, lower than the town of Estes Park, while the timberline here in Rocky Mountain National Park is between ten and eleven thousand feet. The auditorium was well filled, and the expressions of appreciation were many and hearty. The exhibit was a real treat to all lovers of the beauty of nature, and as interesting to those who have attended many of Mr. Clatworthy's previous exhibits as to those who had seen them for the first time that evening. Mr. Clatworthy leaves this weekend for the east on his annual exhibit tour, and will visit many of the largest cities of the east, and appear before many of the travel and geographic clubs. After the Christmas holidays, he will go to Honolulu for the purpose of making pictures in our island possessions of the Pacific.

27 November 1925 – The Rocky Mountain National Park boundaries were enlarged in 1917 to include the Gem Lake Region, Deer Mountain, and Twin Sisters. Government land in the vicinity of Twin Sisters will be transferred to the Forest Service. The federal government does not believe it should pay for construction and maintenance of roads through private property.

27 November 1925 – Mr. Julian Hayden and his mother left Tuesday for Long Beach,

California, where they will spend the winter

27 November 1925 – Ten people took the Civil Service Examination Saturday before Mr. J.A. Shepherd, examiner, for position of postal clerk in the Post Office next summer.

27 November 1925 – The Estes Park school district is now maintaining a school in the Big Thompson Canyon at Glen Comfort. The Avalon, one of the Noel's cabins, is being used. There are five pupils, and Miss Esther Larsen of Loveland is the teacher. When the enrollment drops below five, the school will be closed. There are several in the Big Thompson Canyon who refuse to go to the school and their children are being driven to the village schools.

27 November 1925 – Mr. and Mrs. William B. Simms celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in Longmont on Thanksgiving Day. Miss Nellie Sims and a married daughter from Denver and John Simms [who was convicted of statutory rape in 1917 and sentenced to one to two years in the state penitentiary] were among those present.

27 November 1925 – Bedlam broke loose in Estes Park Monday night following the information that Miss Edna Billings and Mr. Barney Smith, both of Estes Park, had slipped away to Fort Collins Saturday to get married. As a result of the decision of friends, several autos loaded up at Brinkley's Drug Store about 10:00 that evening and headed for the National Park utility camp where Mr. and Mrs. Smith are staying. Arriving at the camp both the newlyweds were loaded into cars and rushed to the village jail where Mr. Smith was locked up and his wife returned to their home. Since several other newlyweds have recently consummated the deal of courtship days, it suddenly occurred to the "Nighthawks" to corral the whole bunch and make a real night of it. Immense electric horns were secured and one after the other of the recent Benedicts were called upon and routed from their homes and escorted to the village lockup and incarcerated, until six were squeezed into the jail that is comfortably built for two. As a joke, Charlie Bast, the blacksmith, had told some of his friends that he was married, and as the crowd passed the drug store after locking up Barney Smith, they spied him inside and he was next in the lockup. Bob Church, who had made a long trip to the Pacific Coast immediately after his wedding, was assisting in the lockup proceedings when it suddenly occurred his case had never been given attention, and a slight shove and the doors clanked between him and liberty. John Sherman, Stanley Winterbower [which suggests that Stanley Winterbower was married by this time, although I can't find an Estes Park Trail mention of his marriage to Carolyn James, daughter of the Loveland postmaster Carrie James and sister of the current Estes Park postmaster Beulah James Wright, wife of carpenter Granville Elmer Wright. A 19 April 1929 Estes Park Trail article says they were married in August 1925, and the Larimer County records indicate there were married on 3 August 1925], and Andy Andrews were the others who rapidly became inmates in the barred section of the town hall, where they were kept until after 11:00. Information had leaked out to two of those who were rounded up that the raid was impending that evening. One of those obtaining this knowledge secreted three hacksaws in the bedding, while one of the others armed himself with a key to the padlocks.

4 December 1925 – Robbery of the Turney store at Loveland Heights in the Big Thompson Canyon leads to arrests, articles stolen from Theodore Schlapfer cabins were also discovered

4 December 1925 – Semi-advertisement: McGrew's Curio Shop will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily until after the holiday season with an attractive Christmas gift line, baby articles, and toys

4 December 1925 – Semi-advertisement: Dr. George Best Crissman, Estes Park Dentist, next to the Presbyterian Church, Wednesday, Thursdays, and Fridays

4 December 1925 – The Ladies' Aid Society met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. H.E. James

4 December 1925 – The latest newlyweds in Estes Park, Mr. and Mrs. Newel Anderson, were feted by the young people and school children. It took quite a bit of noise to bring the victims out of their apartment, and the crowd of young folks was so large that they could hardly all get inside. Confetti was thrown all over, and the youngsters helped themselves to several boxes of candy, and passed around all the smokes they could find. Mrs. Anderson was expecting the crowd, so had a good supply of coffee, hot chocolate and chicken sandwiches to reward the noise-makers

4 December 1925 – Mrs. Nina W. Higby is with her son Reed Higby at Skyline, Wyoming

4 December 1925 – Mr. Theodore Schlapfer has moved from the Ranch House into the Macdonald property on the east end of Elkhorn Avenue, formerly occupied by the Estes Park Trail. He plans to open a milk station there. They are living in the rear, and he plans to put in up-to-date equipment. Mr. F.A. Mack has moved into the Ranch House and taken charge of things there

4 December 1925 – Weather report furnished by the U.S. Weather Bureau at the Estes Park Fish Hatchery

4 December 1925 – Nine teams in the Estes Park winter bowling league, E.S. Close not among names on the National Park Hotel team, or any other team

4 December 1925 – The school at Glen Comfort opened its third week Monday. The teacher, Miss Esther Larson, and the scholars are doing fine work

4 December 1925 – Advertisement: It's not too early to think about that Christmas dinner, Rinehart's Market, telephone #57

4 December 1925 – Light Poles Being Moved From Street. One of the progressive moves made in the village this fall is the work that has been started this week by the Stanley Power Department in moving the light and power poles from the street curbing to the alleys both north and south of Elkhorn Avenue. Now that this work is being undertaken, would it not be well for the Chamber of Commerce and the town board to take action looking to the immediately installation of an ornamental lighting system. The property owners in the block on the south side of the street from the Lewiston Café to the National Park Garage have already installed the conduit for an ornamental lighting system. The regulation of projecting signs is another matter than needs attention.

11 December 1925 – Bear steak to be served at the Mountain Club Winter Outing held at Fern Lake Lodge by the Colorado Mountain Club. The bear was secured by Mr. F.W. Byerly recently on a hunt in the San Juan section. The animal dressed 155 pounds.

11 December 1925 – Norton Billings went to Grand Lake this week to stay about three weeks. He is wiring about 10 houses there.

18 December 1925 – Marjorie Belle Grubb has a miraculous escape from death when she was struck by a rapidly moving automobile and thrown under the car in the road in front of the Grubb residence on the Lyons road.

18 December 1925 – Bright star appeared within the arch of the crescent moon. Before the moon set the star had moved to the outer rim of the moon. This beautiful spectacle was witnessed by a number of grown-ups, and by children who were skiing on Davis Hill at the time

18 December 1925 – L.E. Osborn increasing his fox farm animals by three more pairs from one of the most famous fox farms in the country

18 December 1925 – The U.S. mint at Denver has just finished minting more than $1 million worth of $2.50 gold pieces, according to the announcement of Frank E. Shepard, superintendent. Coinage of the "quarter-eagles" is in response to a Christmas-time demand for souvenir and gift coin on the part of large stores, national banks and industrial organizations. Coins of this denomination are convenient for distribution as gifts to employees and souvenirs on the part of large employing concerns. The coins are much like $5 gold pieces, and about the size of a penny.

18 December 1925 – F.W. Byerly touring the East and South lecturing on Colorado

18 December 1925 – Dr. Herbert E. Peckham, the osteopath, who has been in Estes Park the last four seasons, was elected into full and active membership in the Denver Poetry Circle

18 December 1925 – Word comes from Newton, Massachusetts that the injury to Mr. Freelan Oscar Stanley recently reported in the Trail was not nearly so severe as we were told. While on his way to Maine from his home the car skidded in the mud and struck a stone wall. Mr. Stanley was practically uninjured and the car was run under its own power to a garage and the next day Mr. Stanley drove it home, 174 miles.

18 December 1925 – Instructor Tschudin is organizing ski classes for women, men, and school children

18 December 1925 – Classified advertisement: For sale, men's fur coat, cost $65, will sell for $25, R.E. Rogers, second door south of bridge on Riverside Drive.

18 December 1925 – Cemetery committee formed by Chamber of Commerce. With the increase in permanent residents in Estes Park comes a demand for a location for a cemetery.

18 December 1925 – Estes Park Bowling League reorganized, now eight teams instead of nine.

18 December 1925 – Advertisement: Estes Park Sporting Good Store, Cesar Tschudin, Fred Stocker

25 December 1925 – Rocky Mountain News article about Dean Babcock's wood block prints

25 December 1925 – Mrs. Nina Higby in Glendale, Arizona, reports that she spent one day with the Manfords in Phoenix, Arizona, where they are nicely settled

25 December 1925 – Glen Comfort News: Five pupils attend the Glen Comfort School.

1 January 1926 - Headline and byline: John T. Cleave by Abner Sprague. John T. Cleave was born in Cornwall, England, March 1840, died in Boulder, Colorado, 28 December 1925. Mr. Cleave learned the carpenter trade before coming to America. His coming was in answer to the great need, and call, for workmen in the rebuilding of the city of Chicago, Illinois, after the great fire in 1871. He remained on that work until his coming to Colorado, either in 1874 or 1875, coming first to Boothroyd Ranch, where he worked for a time. In the spring or early summer of 1875, he came to Estes Park to take charge of the building operations being done by the English Company. In that work he helped plan and build the Estes Park Hotel for the company - the first hotel in the state of Colorado built exclusively for tourist travel [this seems unlikely, given the hotels in Manitou and Colorado Springs]. Mr. Cleave filed and proved up on land in Estes Park for a home, not for the English Company, as many others did. This land was located just south and east of the Estes Park Hotel. The need of water and pressure for the Estes Park Hotel caused the English Company to offer in exchange for this land, lands on which the village of Estes Park is located. The exchange was made, and Mr. Cleave built his home on the ground now occupied by the Hupp Hotel. Mr. Cleave was acting postmaster many years while in the employ of the English Company, and after moving to his new location, was appointed postmaster, serving the people in that office until he sold to the townsite company [Estes Park Town Company]. Mr. Cleave was not free - nor could he help his likes or dislikes, but his not liking a person never kept him from being a good neighbor. We do not think there was ever a settler or person in Este Park that Mr. Cleave did not take an interest in and help in case of need, regardless of his feelings. And we, the old settlers knew, had a friend and neighbor in him that we could depend upon in case it was required. When the true history of Estes Park is written, he will be one of the first among the pioneers. Mr. Cleave was married to Miss Margaret May in 1882 or 1883. To this marriage was born Paul Cleave, now in Moffat County, and Virginia Cleave, the wife of John Griffith. Mr. Cleave leaves grandchildren to fill places in the world - Charles Griffith, Esther Griffith, Dennis Griffith, and a baby boy, children of John Griffith and Virginia Cleave Griffith...[comment from the Estes Park Trail editor Arthur B. Harris:] Mr. Cleave was nearly 86 at the time of his death in Boulder where he went with his daughter and family in September 1925. He had been a continuous resident of Estes Park for more than 50 years. His wife preceded him to the next world four years ago New Year's Day, and was laid at rest on the mountainside near the John Griffith ranch home. The remains of Mr. Cleave were laid beside those of his wife by loving hands Wednesday afternoon, 30 December 1925, with very brief services at the grave.

8 January 1926 - Headline: Card of Thanks. We wish to express our gratitude to the friends in Estes Park for the many kindnesses extended during the recent bereavement, and also for the beautiful flowers sent to Mr. Cleave and Mrs. Griffith. [signed] Mr. and Mrs. John Griffith.

29 January 1926 - Headline: Huge Mountain Lion Killed in Big Thompson Canyon. Friday evening, Carl Hyatt, who is keeping John Griffith's lion dogs this winter, received information through the local telephone office from Overseer Barr in the Big Thompson Canyon that a deer had been killed about a mile below Waltonia. At 6:30 a.m. Saturday morning, Mr. Hyatt, C.V. Williams, and Claude West left the village in the West car with the dogs for the scene, near which they were joined by Mr. Barr and his two sons and another young man. They soon found the deer had been killed by two coyotes, and they returned to Quillan Gulch where lion tracks had been seen that morning, finding the tracks at 9:30 a.m. The lion was tracked in the fresh skiff of snow that covered the ground for a distance of four or five miles east over a zigzag trail across several mountains. About 12:00 noon, the dogs were turned loose on the trail, and within 40 minutes their bawling indicated the lion was in a tree. At no time did any of the hunters see the lion until after the dogs had put it into a tree. As soon as the lion discovered the dogs were on its trail, it made a run for an almost impenetrable rocky section of the mountainside, but the dogs soon got him out and on the run again. Soon after he went into a tall pine just over the top of the mountain. About 30 minutes after the lion had been treed, the entire hunting party arrived on the scene, where they found the lion serenely resting in the crotch of the forks of the tree 60 feet from the ground. Carl Hyatt shot the animal, the bullet striking it in the head and killing it instantly. Instead of falling from the tree as they almost always do, its body settled down in the crotch, and it became necessary for Mr. Hyatt to climb the tree and lift the lion from its resting place so that it could fall to the ground. The lion was shot on the mountain about three miles south of the Forks Hotel, and was carried to the road and brought to the village on the running board to the post office, where a large crowd gathered to admire its huge size and unusually beautiful skin. The lion was the fattest ever seen here, and while measuring exactly eight feet from tip to tip, it was not an aged lion. It had not made any recent kills, which accounts for the long chase it gave the hunters. Throughout the chase, Mr. Hyatt says the 11-year-old Barr boy kept up with him, far in the lead of the rest of the party, and that at no time did he show any signs of fatigue. Mr. Hyatt says anyone discovering lion tracks should at once communicate that fact to the local telephone office, who will in turn promptly convey the information to him, and the chase will be taken up at once.

29 January 1926 - Headline and byline: Spruce Destroyed as Pincushions [i.e., porcupines] Girdle Monarchs by Virgil Jackson. Shooting a mean quill is not the only bad feature about a porcupine, take it from G.M. Hunter, federal forest supervisor of Durango, Colorado. The little needle-bespecked animal, commonly believed to be guilty only of the one annoying fault, is regarded by forestry officials as a dangerous enemy to trees and livestock. A report of Hunter's on file in the offices of Colonel A.S. Peck, district forester, emphasizes the damage to timber by porcupines. A 20-acre plantation of Engelmann spruce on Soda Creek in Colorado was partially destroyed by the animals. Tallies made in the lodgepole pine, spruce, and fir type on Elk River and Mill Creek show that 27% of the trees above ten feet and 42% of the trees below ten feet were injured by "porkies" [i.e., porcupines], or an average of 36% of the total number in the stand. Subhead: Livestock damaged. Hunter's article also showed the damage to livestock due to porcupines. In one herd of 40 head on Snake River, an average of five head contracted quills each year. Only timely discovery prevented losses. J.H. Dickens of Walden reported that quills are removed from 1% of his cattle each season, and that two 2-year-old steers died from this cause last fall. Undoubtedly, porcupine quills in the mouths and tongues of many cattle and sheep are responsible for their failure to put on weight, the supervisor reported. E.E. Horn of the United States Biological Survey, in a summary of the studies that he and Dr. Taylor have made at the southwestern experiment station, near Flagstaff, Arizona, states that the breeding season occurs during the fall. The young are born in May or June, and there is seldom more than one to a litter. The young are quite large when born, and have a set of quills that become hard and ready for action as soon as dry. Mr. Horn's studies lead him to believe that the porcupine is a fairly intelligent animal. There are indications that he has definite migrations, instead of wandering aimlessly around. For instance, in the fall, the general movements of the animals are from the higher altitudes to the pinon-juniper type, while in the spring the reverse is true. When there is much snow on the ground, they move very little, and have been observed on the same tree from one month to two months. This is the reason for the almost complete girdling of the upper branches and trunks of large pine trees. The control of the porcupine is difficult, for he seldom pays any attention to poison baits. Moreover, strychnine has little effect on him. This, Mr. Horn believes, is due to the fact that the tannin in pine bark counteracts the strychnine to form a nonsoluble that is passed off. However, strychnine salt has poisoned numerous porcupines where used adjacent to vegetable gardens. In the case cited, the porcupines were undoubtedly living on a vegetable diet exclusively, and the strychnine was effective. One expensive chemical is still in the experimental stage, and the results are not available. Subhead: Rifle recommended. Mr. Horn found the best method of control to be a rifle. During the winter in the yellow pine type from a high point, one can detect the girdled trees with a pair of field glasses. These are then located, and the porcupines are shot. Also, it is fairly easy during the winter to locate the animals by their scent. There is a variance of opinion regarding the reason for the destruction of ax handles and other implement handles, saddles and other leather goods, porch floors and kitchen floors. Theories are advanced that the porkies [i.e., porcupines] gnaw such things on account of the salt or oil present, although one official argues that this was done merely by reason of pure cussedness.

5 February 1926 - Reprinted from the Fort Collins Express: Headline: Exterminate the Mountain Lion. According to the best information available from professional hunters and others with experience in the mountains, the mountain lion live of deer, calves, and mountain sheep almost altogether. It is estimated that every mountain lion kills a deer or mountain sheep every seven to ten days. They follow the bands and take their toll as hunger dictates. If Colorado would wage a war on extermination against the lions, the expense would soon be more than paid back in additional hunting licenses. The lions kill ten times more deer in the state than the hunters get. Extermination of lions would increase the number of big game hunting licenses and permit increase the price, as the hunter would have a better chance to get his buck. There are two methods of exterminating the lions. One is to send government hunters and state hunters in to do the job on salaries and keep them there until the lions are gone, and the other is to put a bounty of $200 or so on each lion, and make the sum sufficiently large to induce private hunters to go after the lions. In hunting lions, poison could be used to some extent, also traps, but the principal way of hunting lions is to track them with dogs, fox hounds especially trained, and tree the lions for the hunter to shoot.

5 February 1926 - Headline: "The Bandolero" Here Next Week is Unusual Film. "The Bandolero", a romance of Spain, in which the vendetta of parents and the love of a boy and girl are woven against a background of bullfights and mountain brigandage, is due at the schoolhouse next Friday. This photodrama, which was photographed in Cuba, and in natural locations in Spain, is based on the novel by Paul Gwynne, and was adapted and directed by Tom Terriss. Pedro de Cordoba has the title role of Dorando, the Bandolero, or brigand chief, who is a Spanish version of Robin Hood. He has been driven to outlawry by his discovery that the Marques de la Torre (Gustav von Seyffertitz) is making unwelcome love to his wife, who is killed in the fight that follows. Dorando sends his daughter (Renee Adoree) away to be brought up by a servant. Then, as the first step in his sworn revenge, he kidnaps the marques' son Ramon (Manuel Granado) whom he hides away in the mountains - but not so far from his daughter's retreat that the young persons do not meet and fall in love with one another. Then the hatred of the fathers and the love of their children work to a dramatic climax. The making of this picture by Mr. Terriss and his company was almost as exciting in spots as the story they were depicting. Once, for instance, Mr. Terriss was surrounded by a herd of bulls he was looking over in order to find a good one for the bullfight, which is one of the important episodes. Everyone else ran when the bulls got curious, but Mr. Terriss stood stone still, and let them sniff at him until reinforcements arrived and drove the bulls away. Manuel Granado, a young Argentine, makes his screen debut in "The Bandolero". Mr. Terriss, who personally selected him for the juvenile lead, had said that he believes Mr. Granado is at the beginning of a career in pictures. Others in the cast are Gordon Begg, Dorothy Ruth, Arthur Donaldson, Maria Valray, and Jose Rueda. It is a Metro-Goldwyn picture. Mr. Terriss wrote the adaptation from Paul Gwynne's famous novel.

19 February 1926 - Column title: Town and Countryside...The mother of Mr. Charles Robbins, aged 89 on 8 February 1926, died last Friday night, 12 February 1926, in Loveland. Mr. Robbins left Sunday night, taking her body to her old home in Siam, Iowa. Mr. Robbins is expected back some time next week.

26 February 1926 - Column title: Town and Countryside...Mrs. James Boyd and son Edward Boyd returned from Idaho, where she was with her father several weeks previous to his death...Semi-advertisement: Headline: $50 Reward. The Colorado State Fish and Game Commissioner will pay a $50 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who killed a deer in Estes Park Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning. 47-tf.

26 February 1926 - Headline: Julian A. Johnson. Born 5 December 1841 near Stanton, Virginia, on the same homestead where his father was born 150 years ago, which bore a colonial grant from the King of England, and was in the family to the end of the Civil War. Died 10 February 1926 at Parma, Idaho. He was an officer in Company E of the famous Black Horse Cavalry of Virginia, which was among the first troops to reach Harper's ferry. He served on the staffs of General J.E.B. Stewart, General Stonewall Jackson, and General Fitzhugh Lee, and was with the two former at the time they were killed. Although he saw active service throughout the entire period of the war [Civil War] and saw his company with an enlistment of over 250 men dwindle to less than 25 in active service at the end, and having had three horses killed under him, he came through without a scar. Like every true soldier, some of his warmest personal friends in after years were among the men he fought against, and their passing was of real sorrow to him, and as year after year their ranks grew thinner and thinner, their respect turned to true brotherly love. He left his native state shortly after the close of the war [Civil War], and with his wife, who was Lucy Ella Kennerly, to whom he was married 22 February 1866, he came into the new west. He pioneered in several western states, later going to Colorado in 1880, and coming to Idaho nearly 20 years ago. In his active years, he played a leading part in the development of his community, especially church and religious work. He is survived by his wife, one daughter Mrs. Fanny Boyd of Estes Park, Colorado, and three sons, Julian S. Johnson of Parma, Idaho, Edward C. Johnson of Raton, New Mexico, and F. Lee Johnson of Parma, Idaho.

5 March 1926 - Column Title: Nature News Notes. Headline: Woodchucks Have Spread and Do Much Damage. Woodchuck control was an important part of the work of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture during the past year. Originally confined chiefly to rough, stony land, where they did relatively little damage, woodchucks have invaded areas devoted to orchards and grain and root crops, and have established themselves along levees, hedgerows, and other favorable retreat. By girdling orchard trees and feeding upon the products of the farm, these rodents have become a pest of considerable importance. In the banks of levees their burrows frequently make costly breaks in time of high water, and flood adjacent farms and destroy crops. They are responsible also for serious washouts in road at bridge abutments and along culverts. Practical methods of fumigating woodchuck burrows with carbon bisulfide or calcium cyanide have been worked out. In Indiana, Illinois, New York, and Maryland, 329 demonstrations were attended by approximately 5000 land owners. In 24 countries in Indiana, 92 demonstrations were attended by more than 2000 farmers, and as a result, 20,000 pounds of calcium cyanide were used in poisoning campaigns against the pests. In the Rocky Mountain states and Pacific Coast states, woodchucks consume considerable quantities of forage about mountain meadows, and locally invade orchards, alfalfa and other farm, truck, and garden crops. The use of poisoning methods demonstrated by the field representatives of the United State Biological Survey has put a stop to much of the damage.

12 March 1926 - As a deadener of the senses of respectability, the cigarette is a hummer. We no more than get our office floor nicely cleaned up when a cigarette walks in with a human hanging onto it, and in a moment its remains, neatly ground in by the heel, grace our floor. And ere the day is done, a half-dozen or so are neatly parked about as attractive and loving reminders of the fine sense of respectability of their former owners.

19 March 1926 - Column title and byline: On the Trail of Good Books by Alice Lindsey Webb... Here are two "wild west" novels that are particularly good to tuck into a traveler's bag for a tiresome journey, for they will make time flit by unnoticed. They are M.M. Bower's "Black Thunder" (Little, $2), and "Hopalong Cassidy's Protégé" by Clarence E. Mulford (Doubleday, $2). Those who remember past prowess of the redoubtable red-headed Cassidy will welcome this story, though he appears here as a minor character, the wild boy he has taken under his wing being the center of attraction. He is Mesquite Jenkins from Texas, with a mighty disregard for law and its minions, bred of his familiarity with the political machinations of those who bent and twisted legal rulings to serve their own selfish or criminal purposes. Cassidy, whom Mesquite adores, is ambushed and shot down by a bunch of a dozen badmen near his Nevada cattle ranch. While Cassidy is slowly creeping back from death's door, Mesquite takes on the task of vengeance, wearing a deputy sheriff's badge. One by one, he eliminates the odds against him, killing or bringing them in prisoner to the ranch. Plenty of "blood and thunder" and hero worship, with right and justice having a hard struggle at winning out in the end. Bower's story has Native American superstition as the keynote, with the remaking of a supercilious Eastern tenderfoot girl into a fine pioneer woman as the minor theme. Her misunderstanding of Laughing Lew Wheeler and his scorn of her cold and critical attitude build a wall between them which their youth and high spirits and loneliness and the dangers of the time finally break down, until in the end she braves the almost certain attack of the hostile Native Americans to go to him where he lies wounded, and they find that the encircling hills are not shutting them into the valley, but rather shutting out the world from their happiness. He is the "Black Thunder", on his magnificent horse, which the Native Americans blame for all the trouble that comes upon them - sickness, storms that cut them off from their food supply, the death of the chief, the landslide that shuts the pass, the hostility of the whites following the perfidy of their unsuccessful medicine man. It is a good story.

26 March 1926 - Headline: John Dickinson Sherman Passes Away in Chicago, Illinois. John Dickinson Sherman, Chicago, Illinois, newspaper man and husband of Mrs. Mary King Sherman of Chicago, Illinois, and Estes Park, Colorado, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs and internationally-known parliamentarian, died at St. Luke's hospital last Friday night. Mr. Sherman was feature editor of the Western Newspaper Union, was former managing editor and editorial writer of the Chicago [Illinois] Inter-Ocean and city editor of the Chicago [Illinois] Tribune, and was widely known in the American newspaper world. He was 65 years old. He was a graduate of Hamilton College, New York, and a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity. On 10 February 1887, he was married to Mary Belle King of Chicago, Illinois, who was destined to become one of America's foremost women, and a leader in the National Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Sherman was at her husband's bedside when death came to him. Besides his wife, Mr. Sherman is survived by his mother, Mrs. Penoyer [sic, article in 9 April 1926 Estes Park Trail spells it "Pennoyer"] L. Sherman of Chicago, Illinois, one son, John King Sherman of Estes Park, manager of the Longs Peak branch of the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company, and four brothers, Samuel S. Sherman of Denver, general manager of the Rocky Mountain News and the Denver Times, Lucias B. Sherman and Roger Sherman of Chicago, Illinois, and Penoyer [sic] L. Sherman, Jr., of Manila, Philippine Islands. John King Sherman received notice of the death of his father, and left for Chicago, Illinois, on the morning bus Saturday. The sympathy of the community is extended to the wife and son.

2 April 1926 - Headline: Some of the Community Obligations to the Newspaper. Most people have well-defined ideas of what a newspaper should do for a community, but, in a paper which he read before the California State Press Association at its San Francisco, California, meeting, G.F. Rinehart of the Covina [California] Citizen shows that the community also has obligations to the newspaper, and he enumerates them thus: It might be the occasion of more or less surprise to some people to even imply that the community has any obligation whatever to its newspaper. The average newspaper is regarded very often by the community as nothing more than a necessary evil, to be tolerated but not encouraged. As a veteran newspaperman who understands the delations [sic, suggest relations] that obtain between the newspaper and its community, having had experience from both angles, and, as one who does not hesitate to hold the newspaper to the highest ideals, I have no reluctance whatever in saying that, no matter what enterprises your community may contain, no matter what institutions it fosters, no matter what its opinions may be as to the relative values of various enterprises, the fact remains that the newspaper, sustained as it deserves, is very frequently far and away its greatest asset. The newspaper is the one institution that stands forever in the forefront, the trained scout forever on the alert for danger, the skilled pilot leading the way to civic righteousness and community culture. No matter what philanthropists you may have in your community, your newspaper excels them all in relative largess, and in the widespread distribution of its gifts. It is called upon at any and all times, for any and all purposes, to serve the public need, and it leads all others in giving its stock in trade freely and voluntarily, and often in response to unreasonable and impertinent demands. The newspaper is the vital center, the nucleus, the ganglion - the soul of the community. About it centers the activities, the interchange, the quickening thought and impulses that mean community uplift, social betterment. It is the abiding friend, the good angel, the public utility always on the job, boosting for civic progress and social righteousness. Naturally, with such ideals of newspapering, I am sensible of the duties and obligations that the community owes to such an enterprise as the newspaper. I believe in reciprocity. I believe in the doctrine of appreciation. I believe in giving flowers to the living rather than to the dead, and, so believing, I do not hesitate to say that the community owes decided obligations to its newspaper, and that these debts should be paid, not at a discount, but freely, fully, and openly, as a matter of simple duty, as a fifty-fifty proposition on the business principle of give and take. The first and last duty of the community to the newspaper is the obligation of support. Not in the sordid and contemptible spirit of the average man who thinks because he pays for a subscription that he owns the newspaper, but in the broad spirit of the man who willingly contributes his share to the support of his newspaper as a community investment which pays direct and measurable returns. The community is invariably measured by the support it gives its newspaper. This is the one yardstick, the one infallible rule by which every community is judged, and it happens to be the very best index to community worth. The man who measures a community by the support it gives its newspaper never makes a mistake. Dead communities, wondering what is the matter with themselves, will do well to recognize this obvious fact. You cannot build up a community by knocking its best booster down. You kill a community when you kill its principal asset. Not only should this support be financial, but it should be moral as well. The community should boost the newspaper which boost the community. It's just as easy to cultivate the habit of saying a word of encouragement about a newspaper as it is to sound a note of disparagement. The average individual prefers the latter. He is a dispenser of gloom. He has a grouch against the newspaper because it has not yet recognized his superior worth. Knowing nothing of the exactions of newspapering, he midjudges motives and is led into erroneous conclusions and rank injustice. If I were a minister, I would advertise in the local newspaper or I would resign my job. I would never ask an editor, struggling to pay his overhead, for free space to exploit my announcements. I should regard religion as a going concern, as fully solvent and able to pay dividends on the investment, and I would run the church on that basis, or I would not run it at all. Certainly I would not regard the church as a bankrupt concern depending for its publicity on the gratitude of the press. If I were a doctor, I would advertise my skill. If I had not skill to advertise, I would get a hoe and develop my muscles in manual employment. I would not raise the question of ethics on paid advertising and accept with delight advertising which is free. It is never unethical to pay for what you get. The doctor who cannot sense the inconsistency of his attitude lacks perspective. The press advertises the doctor free from the time he opens his office without a patient until he is planted in the local cemetery, and then gives him a free obituary, kindly refraining from mentioning the fact that his demise was due to taking, or not taking, his own medicine. If I were a banker, I should advertise freely in the local press. The banker deals in moneys and credits, and he knows that an editor with a deposit is preferable to one who is a chronic borrower. He also knows that without the newspaper, the weeds would grow in the city streets, and that the average community does not make its money out of weeds. If I were a merchant, I would either advertise or get off the street. There is no excuse for any man to settle down in a town which has been built up by the boosting of a newspaper and there absorb, like a sponge, the trade and patronage brought to town by the live merchants who do advertise. In these times of high pressure, no business can succeed without advertising. The man who neglects his publicity invites the sheriff and the spider. Sooner or later, both find the store of the man who does not advertise. This type of merchant is being relegated to the oblivion he deserves by the growth of the mail-order house which merely capitalizes the ignorance of the small-town merchant who refuses to advertise. If I were a member of the Chamber of Commerce, I would not ask the newspaper to do all the community boosting free of charge. The community ought to pay its way. It is a poor neighborhood that depends for its growth and development on the exploitation of the newspaper and the periodical raids upon its space. As space is the only thing the newspaper has to sell, I should insist on the Chamber of Commerce buying it and paying for it like any other going concern. If I were a club woman, I would see to it that my obligations to the newspaper were discharged with scrupulous regard to reciprocal balance. I would see to it that the newspaper which carried my propaganda, which exploited my wares with lavish disregard for the value of space, secured what little jobs of printing I had to bestow without entering into competition with the alley job printer who could by no possibility render me such service. If I were simply the resident of a community without profession or calling, I should first recognize the fact that the newspaper is my most hopeful ally, my community dependence, my civic partner, and I should make it a point to get acquainted with the editor, say a word occasionally, and let him know that as a member of the community, I appreciated his good work, recognized his difficulties, and sympathized with his efforts at community upbuilding. I should not regard the small amount I paid him for subscription as a mortgage on his plant, nor that the editor was under obligations to join my side in a local controversy. I should think twice before I stopped my subscription because I saw something in the newspaper I did not like, or because I received a notice that my subscription was in arrears. The obligations of a community to its newspaper are just as definite, just as fixed and immutable, just as imperative, as the obligations of the newspaper to the community. The relations are mutual and reciprocal. Let us give to our communities the sort of newspapers duty demands, and then let us insist, first, last, and all the time, not as a gratuity, not as a favor, but as a matter of right, upon receiving in return the obligations due to us.

9 April 1926 - Headline and byline: John Dickinson Sherman by Elmo Scott Watson. [Date of birth and date of death:] 30 August 1859 - 19 March 1926. [Note from Estes Park Trail editor Arthur B. Harris:] The Estes Park Trail feels its readers were so well acquainted with Mr. John Dickinson Sherman, who recently passed away in Chicago, Illinois, that we are pleased to publish the following article about him written by Elmo Scott Watson, editor of the Publisher's Auxiliary. Mr. Sherman spent many of his summer vacations in Estes Park, and we have published a number of articles written by him during the past three years. [signed] - Editor [end of note from Estes Park Trail editor Arthur B. Harris]. . . . John Dickinson Sherman, a veteran Chicago, Illinois, newspaperman, and for the last seven years special feature writer for the Western Newspaper Union, died in St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, Illinois, of acute stomach trouble Friday night, 19 March 1926, at the age of 67 years. Mr. Sherman was born in Chicago, 30 August 1859, the son of Pennoyer L. Sherman and Louise (Dickinson) Sherman. He was graduated from Hamilton College with the degree of bachelor of arts in 1881, and became suburban reporter for the Chicago [Illinois] Tribune the next year. He rose rapidly on the Chicago [Illinois] Tribune, becoming a special assignment reporter in 1886, city editor in 1889, and Sunday editor in 1896. In 1898, he became city editor of the Chicago [Illinois] Inter Ocean, and in 1902 was made literary editor. Four years later he was advanced to the position of associate editor and editor of the Weekly Inter Ocean, a position which he held until the year 1914, when the Inter Ocean and Record-Herald merged as the Chicago [Illinois] Herald. At about this time his health broke, and he was forced to take a long vacation. After the recovery of his health in California and Colorado, he returned to Chicago, Illinois, and in November 1918, became a member of the editorial staff of the Western Newspaper Union. Mr. Sherman was married in 1887 to Mary Belle King, who, with their son John King Sherman of Estes Park, Colorado, survive him. Mrs. Sherman is president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Other relatives are his aged mother, Mrs. Louise Dickinson Sherman, now in Ocean Springs, Mississippi, and four brothers - Roger Sherman, a Chicago, Illinois, attorney, Lucias Booth Sherman, vice-president of the Simmons-Boardman Publishing Company of Chicago, Illinois, Penoyer L. Sherman of Winnetka, Illinois, and Samuel S. Sherman, former business manager of the Inter Ocean, and now business manager of the Rocky Mountain News, Denver, Colorado. The funeral was held at Oak Woods cemetery chapel in Chicago, Monday, 22 March 1926, and he was buried in the Sherman family plot in that cemetery. At the time of his death, Mr. Sherman was the oldest active newspaperman in Chicago, Illinois, and he could look back upon a brilliant journalistic career of 44 years. He not only had trained young reporters who later became nationally known, such as Finley Peter Dunne, the creator of "Mr. Dooley", Victor Rosewater, until recently owner of the Omaha [Nebraska] Bee, E.S. Beck, the present manager of the Chicago [Illinois] Tribune, and James Keeley, former managing editor of the Chicago [Illinois] Tribune and of the Chicago [Illinois] Herald, and had been reckoned as a valued friend and co-worker by well-known newspaper executives, among them Joseph Medill, the founder of the Chicago [Illinois] Tribune, G.W. Hinman and H.H. Kohlsaat of the Inter Ocean, but he had also made a name for himself as a reporter, an editor, and a writer. As suburban correspondent, he with another suburban man, got the historic "public be damned" interview with William H. Vanderbilt in 1882, as star reporter on the Tribune he covered the Haymarket Riot and the trial and hanging of the Chicago, Illinois, anarchists in 1887, and as city editor of the Tribune, he covered the Chicago [Illinois] World's Fair in 1893 with a special staff of 15 men. He also took special staffs to cities in various parts of the country to cover big events of all kinds. As literary editor of the Inter Ocean, he had a free hand, and made the Inter Ocean's literary page a model for newspaper literary reviews. As associate editor [Text interrupted by semi-ornately bordered cut-out half-tone head-and-shoulders documentary image of an older John Dickinson Sherman, posed 3/4 right profile, wearing a light-colored hat and dark suit jacket with a dark bow-tie. He has a white, close-cropped beard and moustache and wears round wire-rimmed glasses. Caption: John Dickinson Sherman] of the same newspaper, he wrote the "graft" articles which defeated the Busse city administration for reelection in 1910. But John Dickinson Sherman was more than just a skilled newspaper man. From the background of a pure American ancestry - as a Dickinson, he was an eight-generation American, as a Sherman, a ninth, and he was related by blood to the four men of that name who loom so large in American history - and the culture which a classical education in a school of the Hamilton College type gives, there emerged in him a rare personality, a man of broad human sympathies and a deep understanding of all that the word "American" means. For him, American history, American traditions, and American ideals were a passion, and American citizenship a high privilege. But, student of American history and American institutions that he was, he was not an academician. Although the greater part of his life was spent in a big city, he was essentially an outdoor man, an athlete, a hunter, a fisherman, a horseman, and a hiker. He was a baseball star at Hamilton College, and upon leaving college, received a professional offer, which he promptly turned down. He played every game but polo, and he spent his vacations in camping, mountain climbing, sailing, canoeing, and fly and bait casting. As one of the earliest exponents of "See America First", he himself saw America from Canada to Panama, and from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific Ocean, but his happiest hours were spent in his summer cabin in the shadow of Longs Peak in the Colorado Rocky Mountains. If he had one interest which came nearest overshadowing all others, it was his devotion to the cause of our national parks. He was one of the little group of enthusiasts who brought about the establishment of the Rocky Mountain National Park, Grand Canyon National Park, and Mount McKinley [Denali] National Park, the creation of the National Parks Service, the organization of the National Parks Association, and the official recognition by the federal government of scenery as one of the nation's greatest resources. The esteem in which he was held by high government officials and the bulk of his correspondence with them testified to the value of his services in preaching his gospel of the out-of-doors to this generation and in making possible public playgrounds for future generations of Americans. It was this wide experience as a metropolitan newspaperman, a traveler, and a student of American life that made John Dickinson Sherman one of the outstanding newspaper feature writers of the country, and made the special feature articles which he wrote for the Western Newspaper Union outstanding among those supplied to its clientele. In many respects, his work on these articles was nothing less than remarkable. Faced by the necessity, because of the mechanical factors involved in their distribution all over the United States, of planning them weeks in advance of their publication in the newspapers served by the Western Newspaper Union, he showed an almost uncanny knowledge of the newspaper reading public interest, and his features yielded nothing in timeliness to the product of features writers on the big city dailies who had to plan only a few days ahead of publication, where he had to plan for weeks. Neither did they yield anything in quality to the work of other writers. For John Dickinson Sherman was a literary craftsman who took pride in everything he wrote. Handicapped by poor health, which repeatedly hindered his efforts, he was an indefatigable worker, and it is no idle platitude to say that he himself was his severest critic. He spent long hours in the Chicago, Illinois, libraries in researching for the material which gave his writings their high degree of authenticity of fact and conclusion, and he spent equally long hours in revising, rewriting, and carefully molding the articles which came from his typewriter before he was satisfied to allow them to be put in type. To the friends who knew him best and who protested against his self-imposed hard work, he replied somewhat in a spirit of apology that he was "afflicted with a literary conscience" which he "regretted but which he could not disobey". So John Dickinson Sherman spent himself freely in satisfying the demands of that conscience, in preaching a healthy doctrine of the out-of-doors and a deep and abiding belief and faith in American history and American institutions, and he asked only the reward of the newspaperman's knowledge of work well done. One incident in his career is typical of his literary honesty. He wrote occasional magazine articles, short stories and verse, and once he wrote a full-length novel. He sold the serial rights, then thought of a better ending to the story, sent back the check to the publishers with a request that the manuscript be returned to him - and then never found time to rewrite his story! Such was John Dickinson Sherman, journalist. Although he would have been the first to disclaim the right to that title - his own characterization of himself was "a hard-working newspaperman, old enough to know the game" - it could be applied to him in its truest sense. He was not only a writer, but he was also an interpreter, and to the millions of newspaper readers throughout the United States, who know his work, that line "by John Dickinson Sherman" was a trademark of interesting, well-written, impartial, and honestly-given information. Of John Dickinson Sherman, the man, the same integrity, the same human qualities were characteristic. The highest praise he could bestow upon a friend was embodied in a homely phrase "He's real folks." Those who knew him could apply the same term to him. Unlike so many metropolitan newspapermen of long experience whom the swift pace of big-city journalism has made prematurely old, hard, cynical, and "burned out" in those human qualities which attract and hold friends, this 67-year-old veteran was as youthful in his outlook, as keenly alive and interested in men and the affairs of the everyday world, as he was in the days when as a cub he covered his first assignment for the Tribune. To sum up the career of a man of such wide interests and attainments is beyond the power of a few words. If it could be done at all, it might best be done in the words indicative of that in which he took the greatest pride - "John Dickinson Sherman, American". [signed] E.S.W. [Elmo Scott Watson]

9 April 1926 - Headline: Body of Horseshoe Inn Caretaker Found in Bed. Sunday afternoon, National Park Ranger Jack Moomaw went over to Horseshoe Inn from his station to visit with Charles R. Hupp, caretaker, and upon getting no response to his greeting knock, opened the door and found the body cold in death. Mr. Moomaw at once notified Rocky Mountain National Park Superintendent Roger W. Toll, who telephoned the Larimer County coroner in Fort Collins, and accompanied by Rocky Mountain National Park Assistant Superintendent Tom Allen, left at once for Horseshoe Inn. The body was brought down and taken to Loveland, where interment took place Tuesday. The coroner pronounced death due to neuralgia of the heart, and expressed the opinion that death had occurred several days previously, and perhaps without warning. Mr. Hupp came to Estes Park about 1875 with his parents from Otterville, Missouri, and has since resided in this section. He was 54 years of age at time of death. He is survived by a brother, Henry Hupp of Loveland, and a sister, Mrs. M.M. Ely of Jackson, Wyoming. Mr. Hupp was well and favorably known to all of the Estes Park people, and a large number attended the funeral services in Loveland Tuesday afternoon.

16 April 1926 - Column title: The Month's Best Literature - A selection from the Reader's Digest. Headline and byline: Where American Justice Fails by Lawrence Veiller. Condensed from the World's Work (March 1926). As one contemplates the rising tide of crime, one would despair of our civilization and of the future of America, were it not for the consoling fact that England - a country with institutions very similar to our own - 75 years ago had become the most crime-ridden country in the civilized world. From this situation England has come to have the most perfect enforcement of criminal laws in the world. England has not changed the character of her population. She has merely changed the administration of her criminal laws. In 1923, the latest year for which statistics are available, there were in London, England, only 42 murders. In 1921, there were 260 murders in New York City, New York, and 137 in Chicago, Illinois. Nor was there an unsolved murder in London, England, in 1922, nor again in 1923. The reason for the lesser amount of crime in England is, that in that country punishment for crime follows swiftly and surely. Punishment is a deterrent there. There are no delays. Trials last but a few hours, even in the most serious cases. The facts are fully presented. Justice is done. In America, the administration of the criminal law has departed from its original purpose of the ascertainment of the facts and the doing of justice, and has become involved in a maze of technicalities. All of these conditions existed in England 70 years ago, but England roused herself and freed the administration of the law from this serious handicap. How great a change has been brought about is at once realized when one contrasts the form of indictment in the case of murder, prescribed under present rules, as compared with the long-winded, involved and verbose form of indictment used in the past. The present form reads: "A.B., on the ___ day of ___ in the county of ___, murdered J.S." The avenue of escape through technicalities, which affords so excellent an opportunity for escape to the criminal in America, has been closed in England. Nor are there long delays in the trial of criminal cases. It is a rare instance where a trial is had more than three weeks after the offender is arrested. In the United States, trials are delayed for long periods, with the result that witnesses disappear, false defenses are framed, testimony is lost, and the public forgets the circumstances of the crime. One reason why there are no delays in the trial of criminal cases in England is that the criminal has no desire to have his case prolonged, because the professional criminal stays in jail until his case is tried. He is not set at liberty on bail, free to continue his criminal career. Moreover, the English courts would not tolerate the dilatory motions that are permitted in America. How expeditious justice is, is evidenced by the report of a murder trial in the highest criminal court in London, England, in 1923, that was witnessed by a committee of the American Bar Association. Their report states: "The trial took place three weeks from the time of the crime. The jury was accepted within ten minutes. Not a single question was asked a juror by counsel on either side, although both sides had the right to do so. We were informed by the judge that only one challenge had occurred in this court in three years. The examination of witnesses proceeded with extraordinary rapidity. The judge conducted a large part of the examination, he controlled, limited, and directed the examination. Cross examination was short and to the point. The jury returned a verdict of guilty within 20 minutes. Immediately, the judge sentenced the defendant to death. There is but one punishment for murder in England. The whole trial lasted about six hours.” Contrast this with the practice in this country, where it often takes an entire week to obtain a jury, and where there have been in some murder trials as many as 25 different continuances, and it becomes apparent why crime is so much less prevalent in England, for the administration of justice there is both swift and certain. One of the factors which makes for speedy trials in England, free from technicalities and without attempts on the part of counsel to confuse the issue and perplex the jury, is that the trial judge is in full control of the investigation. He does not sit silent as in America, unable to direct or control the course of events. As Chief Justice Taft puts it: “The power that makes for dispatch and thoroughness in the English procedure is the power which the court exercises to sum up the evidence to the jury. He winnows out the chaff, and enables the jury to see clearly what the evidence is.” Mr. Taft adds that this participation in the case by the judge has been forbidden in this country in the courts of all of the states, but not in the federal courts, and that it is this element that has helped federal courts to prosecute so much more successfully than state courts. In England, the professional criminal is not bailed. The fingerprints of all persons arrested are taken at once. Such prints are promptly destroyed if a conviction is not had. And if it develops that a man has a criminal record, the court does not grant bail, as the prisoner will go to trial almost immediately. The practice, which has become so flagrant in America, of releasing professional criminals on bail and setting them free to ply their nefarious careers through weeks and months, while their case is pending, does not prevail in England. In America, a criminal has generally a chance at three trials, his original trial and two appeals - sometimes even three appeals. In England, every man is entitled to only one appeal - and that appeal is final. Final decisions are not delayed from one to three years through numerous appeals. Nor do the appellate bodies in England reverse the decisions of the lower courts on technical grounds. Applications for appeals on such grounds are not even considered. There are no second trials in England. The powers of the court of criminal appeal are almost unlimited. The court may increase or reduce a sentence, or quash it and set the prisoner free. In practically every case the decision is rendered from the bench. Under these circumstances it is not strange that there are comparatively few criminal appeals. One of the means by which the criminal in the United States manages to escape the consequences of his criminal deeds is his ability to retain lawyers who have little scruple in resorting to any means to get their client off. It is not so in England. One reason is, that the personnel of the criminal bar in England is of much higher caliber than in the United States. The condition which exists in America of a criminal bar devoting itself entirely to criminal practice, the members of which spend their entire time in seeking to get their citizens off, does not prevail in England. There, the barristers who practice at the criminal bar practice also in civil cases. Moreover, members of the criminal bar in England spend as much time in prosecuting criminals as they do in defending them. This is due to the system which prevails there under which there is no public official corresponding to the district attorney in American practice, and consequently no district attorney’s staff. Thus the members of the criminal bar in England are not constantly spending their entire time in defending criminals, and getting the criminal’s point of view. On the contrary, they divide their time between prosecuting and defending criminals, as well as practicing in the civil courts. This gives them a balanced outlook upon their professional responsibilities. The criminal in England is thus deprived of his chief aid in escaping the consequences of his misdeeds - the criminal lawyer with low standards of professional ethics who avails himself of every technicality, every device, every trick in the game to set his client free. One reason why there are comparatively so few crimes of violence in England is that almost no pistols are carried. The law prohibits the possession and sale of pistols, except to a few persons authorized to have them, and the practice of carrying pistols is almost unknown. No citizen thinks of carrying a pistol or having one in his house for protection. The criminal himself as a rule does not carry a pistol, for he knows that he will meet an armed policeman. It is the rare circumstance, even when a police officer goes to get a dangerous criminal, that he will arm himself with a weapon. In England, one of the great factors in the prevention of crime is the efficiency and integrity of the police force. It is entirely dissociated from politics. It is a splendid body of men, physically and morally. In English courts, the testimony of a policeman is regarded as of equal value with that of a citizen, with the additional advantage that prima facie his character is good, and he is credited rightly with the desire to tell the truth and to avoid any bias against the prisoner. This is practically the reverse of the situation in the United States. Here the courts are unwilling often to believe an officer under oath. The American Bar Association committee in their 1923 report said: "Scotland Yard deserves its high reputation. Its officers are selected only after the most careful investigation. A policeman chooses the force as a life profession. He is trained scientifically. His only chance for advancement lies in the fearless, intelligent performance of his duty. He is absolutely independent of political or any outside influence. At the head of the police are men of great force, of lifelong experience, and always of high standing in the community. The department's skill in unraveling crime and in arresting criminals is remarkable. The attitude of the press in the United States in glorifying crime and the publicity connected with a criminal trial have without question the effect of breeding a morbid interest in crime and criminals. In England, this is very far from being the case. While it is true that the press often does print the facts about some spectacular crime before the trial, they are extremely careful not to discuss a pending criminal case. It is contempt of court in that country to make any such comment as is made in the United States. The writing up of the case in sensational fashion, the description of the prisoner, of counsel, the taking of photographs of the court room, all these things are as a rule absent in England. The result is that the courts over there still maintain the atmosphere of a dignified tribunal of justice, and not that of a theatrical performance. . . . England 75 years ago found herself enmeshed in the same difficulties that now confront the United States. Through a series of practical measures, which have been described, she has completely emerged from these difficulties, until she stands as the country in which crime is at its lowest and the enforcement of the criminal law at its highest. What England has done, America can do.

16 April 1926 - Headline and byline: From Estes Park to Long Beach, California, and Return by Automobile by J.E. Macdonald. A good many persons have inquired of me about road conditions as we found them on our recent trip to the Pacific coast, and possibly there are others to whom such information might be of value. We found the roads as a rule, but going and coming, in excellent condition. I should say that fully two-thirds of the way from Denver to the Pacific coast, the roads are either paved or graveled, and the dirt roads, with one or two exceptions, are comparatively smooth and well kept. Of course, road conditions are dependent on weather conditions - we were very fortunate in having almost perfect weather during the entire trip. There are a few stretches of dirt road which I imagine would be pretty bad after a hard rain, but these are being gradually paved or graveled and every year a noticeable improvement is made. For instance, the road from Trinidad to Las Vegas [likely Las Vegas, New Mexico] (more particularly, from Springer, New Mexico, to Las Vegas, New Mexico), when we went out was very rough, but when we returned five months later, we noted a 50% improvement - it had been widened, leveled, and graveled. From Colorado Springs to Denver the road is partially paved, and will probably be paved the entire distance inside of another year. One or two of the detours are rather rough. Going out, we followed the old Santa Fe trail as far as Ash Fork, Arizona, with a side trip to the Grand Canyon. From Ash Fork, Arizona, we branched off, going directly to Prescott, Arizona, and from there to Phoenix, Arizona. The road from Ash Fork to Prescott, Arizona, is a fine, wide, graveled boulevard. From Prescott, Arizona, to Phoenix, Arizona, the main road was under repair, and we were compelled to make a detour through the White Mountains, and the road was rough to Congress Junction, Arizona [now a ghost town], but from there on was fine. We stayed in Phoenix, Arizona, one month, leaving for California 5 December 1925. The road from Phoenix, Arizona, to the Pacific coast by way of Yuma, Arizona, and El Centro, California, is all good, with the exception of the 6-1/2 miles of so-called plank road across the sand dunes in the desert. From Brawley, California, about 17 miles from El Centro, California, the entire road was paved. We went from El Centro, California, by the way of Salton Sea, through Indio, California, to Riverside, California, and through the Santa Ana Canyon to Long Beach, California - two days from Phoenix, Arizona. We were in Long Beach, California, three months, and enjoyed every minute of our stay. Our apartment in the St. Anthony was the corner one, commanding a fine view of the Pacific Ocean and looking directly down Ocean Boulevard, and we were fortunate in having as neighbors on the same floor Mr. James D. Stead and family, with whom we enjoyed many fine trips about southern California. We started on the return trip Saturday morning, 6 March 1926, by the Pacific Coast route to San Diego, California, passing through Santa Ana, California, San Juan Capistrano, California, San Clemente, California, San Onofre, California, Ocean Park, California, Carlsbad, California, El Cerritas [sic, El Cerrito?], California, Cardiff by the Sea, California, Solono [sic, likely Solana] Beach, California, Del Mar, California, Torrey Pines, California, La Jolla, California, and Pacific Beach, California, to San Diego, California, arriving there at 11:00 a.m., 125 miles from Long Beach, California. This is all fine paved road. After lunch at the General Grant Hotel, we left San Diego, California, at 12:15 p.m. for El Centro, California. The road is paved for 27 miles out of San Diego, California, from there on dirt or graveled road. About 30 miles of this is through a mountainous region, the picturesque Carriso [sic, likely Carrizo] Gorge. Arrived at El Centro, California at 4:35 p.m., 238 miles from Long Beach, California. Left El Centro, California, at 7:00 a.m., the first ten miles over a dirt road under repair. Forty miles from El Centro, California, is Grays Wells, a collection of five or six buildings, including garage and filling station. Here the 6-1/2 miles of plank road begins across the sand dunes. This is a tough piece of road to drive over. It is very rough and bumpy and extremely narrow, not over two feet wider than the wheel track, and if you car goes off the planks you are there to stay until pulled out. The road is anything but level, some of the dunes are 30 feet high, and the road goes up one side and down the other, speed limit about 5 miles per hour. There are turn-outs just long enough and wide enough to hold a car every quarter mile. If a wheel should go off of one of these, your car would roll over into the deep sand 10 feet, 20 feet, or 30 feet as the case might be. It is not a pleasant piece of road to travel, and we breathed a sigh of relief when we were safely over. This will all be replaced by a concrete road next season. A gang of 50 men were making a camp to begin construction at once, and one big steam shovel was already at work leveling the dunes. When this is finished, the road will be all pavement across the desert. Arrived at Yuma, Arizona, at 11:00 a.m., had state inspection for fruit here and parted with six or eight oranges out of our box. Road from Yuma, Arizona, to Phoenix, Arizona, excellent except for a short piece near the Gillespie Dam [in Arizona, constructed in the 1920s]. From Hassayampa, Arizona, into Phoenix, Arizona, 45 miles, the road is paved. Stopped at Buckeye, Arizona, for supper, and reached Hotel Arizona at 8:30 p.m., 261 miles. Left at 7:50 a.m. in the morning for Tucson, Arizona. This road is paved for about 30 miles, balance of the way gravel boulevard. We left the main road about 20 miles from Florence, Arizona, to call on Mr. and Mrs. Way [L. Claude Way, former Rocky Mountain National Park superintendent], who have a ranch eight miles from Mammoth, Arizona. Stopped at Oracle, Arizona, 12 miles from main road for lunch, and then drove on to the ranch, about 20 miles further, and found that the Ways had gone into Tucson, Arizona. Waited several hours in hopes that they would return, and then retraced our way to the main road into Tucson, Arizona, arriving there at 9:00 p.m. From Tucson, Arizona, to Tombstone, Arizona, 78 miles, is a good graveled road. From Tombstone, Arizona, to about 25 miles from Bisbee, Arizona, the road is paved. From there to Bisbee, Arizona, the road is steep, 6035 feet to the top of the divide. Bisbee, Arizona, is an important copper mining town, the huge smelters of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation being located there. The town is located in a narrow gulch, the copper producing mines on each side and houses perched along the roadsides. There is a fine paved road from Bisbee, Arizona, to Douglas, Arizona, 25 miles. Douglas, Arizona, is another large copper mining town. From Douglas, Arizona, through Rodeo, New Mexico, and Lordsburg, New Mexico, the road is hard dirt to Deming, New Mexico, 290 miles from Tucson, Arizona. This was our longest day's run, and we reached Deming, New Mexico, at 5:30 p.m. Left Deming, New Mexico, at 7:00 a.m. over a dirt road, not very smooth. Around Deming, New Mexico, was formerly a cattle country, but that industry is dead, and they are now turning to growing cotton. 42 miles from Deming, New Mexico, is Spring Valley, New Mexico, an abandoned mining camp of about 40 cottages to 75 cottages and two or three stores.

At Hillsboro, New Mexico, 16 miles further on, we were told that recently another strike was made at this camp, and out of one hole (which we noticed as we came by), one shipment was taken of gold and silver ore estimated to be worth $1 million. Mining is to be resumed here very shortly on a large scale. For five miles out of Hillsboro, New Mexico, the road was rough. 65 miles from Deming, New Mexico, we stopped at a new placer mining camp called Gold Dust to repair a tire. Las Palomas, 85 miles from Deming, New Mexico, is a cluster of dilapidated adobe huts. Hot Springs, New Mexico [now Truth or Consequences, New Mexico], 92 miles from Deming, New Mexico, is quite an attractive little town, and a good many tourists stop here for the baths. Elephant Butte Dam [constructed in 1912] on the Rio Grande River is within a few miles of here. Road good, but full of surprises. You will be running along swiftly on a perfectly-level road which looks as if it would continue to be level for miles when suddenly the road will dip down and wind around until you are several hundred feet lower. Then there will be another level stretch for several miles, and the road will climb and twist around narrow shelves until the top is reached, and then down you go again. This sort of thing is repeated many times between Hot Springs, New Mexico [now Truth or Consequences, New Mexico], and Socorra [sic, suggest Socorro], New Mexico. As we came around a particularly sharp curve on a high ledge of mountains, we came upon a Native American in a perfectly new Ford car. His wife and half-a-dozen kids were packed in the back seat, and he had evidently stalled his car and was so paralyzed with fright that he didn't dare try to start it. We had barely room to squeeze by, and when we reached the top of the winding road several hundred feet above, he was still there, and he may be there yet. (To be continued.)

(copyrighted) (Conducted by Miss Alice L. Webb)...Headline: Notable Dates. Abraham Lincoln died 61 years ago on 15 April 1865 at Washington, D.C., after his assassination by John Wilkes Booth, and President Andrew Johnson took the oath of office that same day. 14 April 1965, when Abraham Lincoln was shot, is also the anniversary of the comic-tragic death of the English poet genius Thomas Otway, choked by a mouth full of bread eaten ravenously when he was starving. Another celebrated writer, Matthew Arnold, died 15 April 1888. The first Englishwoman to make her living by writing, Mrs. Aphra Behn, died in London, England, 16 April 1689. Our own Benjamin Franklin died in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 17 April 1790. Another date to which the children's attention should be called by mother or father is that of Paul Revere's ride, 19 April 1775, the same day the British were repulsed at Concord, Massachusetts, and Lexington, Massachusetts.

23 April 1926 - Headline: Loveland People Hurt as Car Goes Over Embankment. Four Loveland people had a remarkable escape from death Sunday afternoon when a car in which they were riding went over a 35-foot embankment in Big Thompson Canyon near the Big Thompson School, the car turning over several times. Three of the four persons were injured. The accident is said to have been due to the steering gear of the automobile locking, causing the driver to lose control. Kenneth Ayres, aged about 18, suffered a broken wrist, and Richard Madson, about the same age, had four ribs broken. Both were riding in the front seat of the automobile. H.C. Madson, aged 32, and little Helen Ayers, aged 3 years, were in the rear seat of the automobile, and when Mr. Madson saw that an accident had occurred and the car was about to go off the road, he seized the child and jumped. He sustained an injured back. The girls was not hurt. The car was almost a complete wreck. It narrowly escaped rolling into the Big Thompson Rive, being halted on the rocks.

23 April 1926 - Column title and subhead: This Month's Best Literature. A selection from the Reader's Digest. Headline and byline: A Klondike in the Tropics by John W. Vandercook. Condensed from the World's Work (March 1926). El Dorado and its golden dreams has become simply a synonym for empty legendry. It is not realized that El Dorado still exists, and that the gold which Sir Walter Raleigh and the Spanish gallants failed to find in 1595 is still there. But it is true. And today, American businessmen are off for the same old legendary shores. El Dorado was, of course, a definite locality, but geographers have let that title disappear, and have substituted the name Surinam for the same land. (Surinam is the correct name of the country which is commonly but erroneously called Dutch Guiana.) Surinam is Holland's most important New World possession, and lies just above the equator, between British Guiana and French Guiana, on the northern coast of South America. Its area is about 54,000 square miles, and its population more than 100,000, a large part of which is in the capital, Paramaribo, Surinam. Along the flat coastal plains are a series of rich plantations where sugar, coffee, and other tropical stuffs have been grown uninterruptedly and without fertilizer for 300 years. But behind the farthest fields there is only a vast area of dense, almost impassable, and enormously rich jungle. When the Dutch, with a singular error of judgment, ceded, by the Peace of Breda in 1667, Manhattan Island to England in exchange for Surinam, the far-away colony sank into a dark and disappointed obscurity. But now, Americans are proving that Surinam is, in its potentialities, a wonderfully wealthy place. El Dorado is on the eve of a belated justification. Gold is the first thing one associates with the Guiana region, and rightly. Surinam is believed, on excellent authority, to conceal the richest deposits of gold that are to be found anywhere in the two hemispheres. Experts who have made careful surveys assert that the deposits of Surinam compare favorably with the Yukon and with California. For 50 years, Surinam has shipped to Holland about 2000 pounds of gold ingot yearly. The work of mining in the malarial clearings, however, far back in the jungles, has not attracted capital, or even highly-skilled prospectors. Most of the gold has been found in gravel deposits in the form of small nuggets and coarse dust. This is gold washed down in past ages from mother lodes higher in the hills. Promoters are dreaming now of finding some mother lode back in the impenetrable jungle. A rush to a tropical Klondike would be filled with suffering and death, as the trackless jungles are full of malaria and disease. While in the Surinam interior, I was invited by a black man to visit a little mine. He led me through the sweating, gloomy jungle to a tiny ravine in the hillside. My guide waded into the mud, hacked at a gravel bank with a pick, filled his gold pan, and began the painful business of swirling it under water. Then it began to rain. In an instant we were drenched. The gloomy ravine became so dark that one could scarcely see 20 yards. But the black miner kept on. In an hour, he had found about $40 worth of gold. But never was such an amount more arduously earned. Gold is but one feature of the wealth of El Dorado. A group of American businessmen have organized a company in Surinam to exploit a 2,000,000-acre concession for the cultivation of Sea Island cotton, one of the rarest crops known to the textile industry. In former years, the southeastern United States held a practical monopoly on its production, but the boll weevil changed all that. American fields yielded 117,559 bales of Sea Island cotton in 1916, and none in 1924. Two crops of the staple can be reaped each year in Surinam, the number of cotton bolls per plant at each reaping are from five to six times greater than the best yield ever achieved in the United States, moreover, the boll weevil is not indigenous to Surinam, and, even if it does appear, it can be exterminated immediately and cheaply by the simple expedient of flooding the cotton fields - the one perfect means of wiping out the boll weevil. The temperature, which ranges between 74 degrees [Fahrenheit] and 85 degrees [Fahrenheit] during the year, is ideal for this crop. Land need not be bought. It may be rented from the government for a few cents annually per acre for any specified purpose. The government welcomes foreign capital. Future industries in the colony can be supplied on demand with any number of Javanese laborers who will work efficiently and faithfully for 30 or 40 cents a day! Holland's richest colony, Java, is overpopulated. Many Javanese families are therefore delighted to go to Surinam under a five-year contract. At the end of that period, they are privileged either to return to Java at no cost to themselves, or to receive an allotment of land in Surinam. Few of these hardworking Javanese ever take a ticket home, and there are now nearly 20,000 in Surinam. Another commercial venture has been established by Americans - the quarrying of bauxite deposits. Bauxite is the ore from which aluminum is derived. The company built a town in the jungle, populated it with 800 engineers and laborers, shipped a miniature railroad and mining machinery to the spot, and started work. The plan is also to harness the powerful current of the Maroni River, and erect factories in the very midst of the jungles to reduce the bauxite ore to its final commercial forms of pure aluminum, with the usual byproducts. The aluminum concern will also export timber. Surinam boasts the most beautiful hardwoods to be found anywhere in the world. They have been almost wholly neglected. Mahogany, snakewood, green-heart, brown-heart, purple-heart, and innumerable other exotic trees grow in rich and magnificent profusion. When they are cut and seasoned, no price in any world market is held too high to pay for them. One difficulty has always been that of transportation. Hardwoods sink in water like rock. But in Surinam live a tribe of jungle black people who, alone among mortals, have developed a skill that enables them to bring down from the interior great cargoes of hardwoods through even the most raging rapids, with never the loss of a beam. The timbers are buoyed up by outrigger canoes lashed to them, and the black men shoot the rapids with the unwieldy raft by sheer perfection of knowledge of the ways of the river. Last year, the department of forestry of Surinam made a discovery. A pier built 125 years ago had to be removed. The original wooden piles were still in almost perfect condition. Not one borer in more than a century had worked its way through even the outer bark of the pile logs. In northern waters, the average life of the best piling seldom exceeds eight or ten years. The old piles proved to be bassra locust and mamberlak - trees that grow in profusion all over Surinam. Both timbers have an unusually high content of silicon, the element of which common sand is composed. The wood is literally like rock. Mamberlak, in fact, resists the edge of any power saw that has ever been invented. But it seems highly likely that the permanent qualities of the timbers will recommend them for extensive waterfront use. Gold mines of many sorts are indigenous to El Dorado, and the country has become again a destination for adventurous dreams. New galleons will soon carry new cargoes.

23 April 1926 - Headline and byline: Clatworthy Writes Interesting Letter about Hawaiian Islands by Fred Payne Clatworthy. My dear Harris [Estes Park Trail editor Arthur B. Harris]: Bet you can't guess how I got to read the only number of the Estes Park Trail I saw in the Hawaiian Islands. When I returned to Hilo, Island of Hawaii, from Kilauea - biggest active volcano in the world - it was handed to me by the clerk, having been sent down by Superintendent Boles of Hawaii National Park. I was sure glad to see it, and hear the good news about the big crowd at the Estes Park winter sports. Thought you might like to hear about my interesting trip to Kauai, called the "Garden Island", and northmost of the group [in the main Hawaiian chain]. On Monday, 8 March 1926, I had the pleasure, at the request of Alexander Hume Ford, of speaking before the Pan Pacific Union at the Alexander Young Hotel, Honolulu [territory of Hawaii]. This is the biggest thing in the islands counted by personnel and aims. The latter no less than the bringing together for progress and goodwill, all the nations bordering on the Pacific Ocean. President Warren G. Harding was honorary president of the organization at one time. Mr.

Ford, however, is its heart and soul. Next to me, on either side, sat [a] well-known representative of Japan. Second party to my left was Colonel Birdseye of Grand Canyon fame, and chief United States topographical [sic, suggest topographical] engineer. Across from me sat Judge Dole, former president of the Hawaiian Republic, and called the "Grand Old Man of Hawaii". Nearly a hundred others prominent in the island affairs sat around the tables. I did my darndest in the five minutes allotted to impress them with the big future of their tourist business, and how jealous they should be of allowing their natural scenery being injured by poles, wires, pipes, etc., etc. Told them of their famous Pali which already was seriously injured by the same. Thought possibly I had injured their feelings, but they seemed to take it good naturedly, as a representative of the Honolulu [territory of Hawaii] Ad Club immediately asked me to repeat it before their body, and the evening newspaper featured it on the front page. We all know what has been done to our own Big Thompson Canyon by an unsightly irrigation pipe. Had to decline Honolulu [territory of Hawaii] Ad Club invitation, as we left that evening for Kauai. I saw we, because at a meeting of the Honolulu [territory of Hawaii] Trail and Mountain Club at which I spoke a few days previously, had the good fortune to be asked to go with them on a five-day outing to the Garden Island. Seven of us left on S.S. Kilauea. The Honolulu [territory of Hawaii] Trail and Mountain Club's big twin six Packard was hoisted aboard with provisions, bedding, and tent. Reaching port of Ahukini next morning at 6:00 a.m. in a glorious tropical sunrise. We had a hasty breakfast and were off over a fine pavement headed for the end of the road 35 miles to the north. En route, we photographed rice paddies with patient Chinamen driving the big horned water buffalo, native Hawaiian grass houses, the largest kukui or candlenut forest on the island, a wonderful row of hibiscus trees in full bloom, and beautiful bits of sea coast. We slept that night on the ground near an immense sea cave where we could hear the boom of the surf. Next morning we were up early for a sunrise, and after breakfast left the car for a five-mile tramp over a trail on the side of the cliffs which here jut into the sea with no beach or chance for a road. It is called the Napali Coast, and the 15-mile trail finally ends in a wonderful valley entered only from the sea. A little farther on is the valley where Jack London wrote the story of the leper. Along the way, we passed an old Hawaiian temple built of lava rocks in the dim past. The view of blue-green ocean dashing breakers hundreds of feet below and deep tropical green of cliffs will long be remembered. Back to the car and a return for 15 miles on same road, then a 10-mile detour to a famous native water slide worn by the water out of solid lava, and ending in a pool 20 feet deep, of course we had to test the slide, at beautiful Hanalei beach donned bathing suits and had a plunge in the warm ocean. This is said to be the finest bathing beach in all the islands. That night, we camped on the edge of an immense coconut grove. Coconuts by the hundreds lying under the palms. We were so dry we walked five miles to get a Japanese man to open up a drug store and sell us some ice cream. Next day we passed our starting point, and after visiting the famous spouting horn, a hole in the top of a lava sea cavern where the confined waves spout through to the height of 50 or more feet with a terrific roar, drove to an exquisite little coconut bay where a former Hawaiian queen used to live. Here we photographed a mass of purple bougainvillea 500 feet long and nearly 200 feet high covering the entire side of a hill, by far the biggest I have ever seen. Latter part of afternoon we started up grade over a hard red lava dirt road for Olokele Canyon. For miles we climbed steadily up grade through endless fields of sugar cane. Just a few miles ahead is what is said to be the wettest spot on earth, with an average annual rainfall of not 40 inches, but 40 feet. The last three time the rain gauge was visited, it has been found full. Understand the last gauge installed registers 700 inches. Moisture-laden northeast trade winds traveling unobstructed over 200 miles of ocean and then coming into contact with mountain tops 5000 feet high is the cause of this deluge. About 4:30 p.m. in the afternoon, we reached the edge of this rain belt, and with a slippery road and no chains, we had to anchor the old Packard until 9:00 a.m. the next morning. We were in the middle of a 6000-acre sugar cane plantation, not a habitation in sight except the coast towns miles away. It was still raining and too wet to spread our beds, so seven of us, three women and four men, had no choice but sleep in the car overnight. Mosquitoes soon began to hum and a netting over our heads made it too warm to sleep. Finally, the rain slackened, so five of us, part in low shoes, started up the dark slippery road to see what we could discover. A mile ahead, we roused [sic, roused?] a Filipino out of bed, but he had no eatables we could eat or drinkables we could drink. We slipped along another mile with no better success, so went back to car, pulled our partly wet blankets off of its side, and leaving Mr. Baker and wife [likely Ray Jerome Baker] in charge, the rest of us climbed up through the cane to the top of a hill, spread our blankets on a lava flow, and slept until the brief tropical dawn. And a wonderful dawn it was, with the last of the old moon just above the rising sun, the blue Pacific Ocean 2000 feet below us and miles away the coast with its fringe of surf and coconut palms. One of the boys declared our backs must look like waffles from the rough imprint of the lava. By 9:00 a.m., roads were dry enough to travel over the remaining four miles to Olokele Canyon. Left car and walked a mile and a half up the canyon. The latter is eight or ten miles long and a couple of thousand feet deep. Remarkable for its nearly perpendicular sides almost entirely covered with the most beautiful deep green verdure you ever saw. A luxuriant green color one could only see in the tropics where there was an enormous rainfall. It was a sight well worth our efforts to reach it. By noon we were on our way to the Barking Sands, and ate our lunch where the surf was breaking against an ancient lava flow. The Barking Sands had temporarily lost their bark. They are moving mounds of sand which when perfectly dry and atmosphere just right, emit sounds like a distant barking dog, when one tries to climb them. A recent rain had stopped the bark. We were now 40 miles west of our seaport and at the end of the pavement at west end of island. Waimea Canyon we reached the latter part of the afternoon. Waimea was left until last, as it was finest sight on the islands, the "Grand Canyon" of Hawaii. It can be compared to nothing else by the Grand Canyon of Arizona, the world's sublimest spectacle. It is much smaller, yet in some ways surpasses its big sister in Arizona. To the vivid reds of the latter it adds the wonderful rich greens of the tropics. It is a canyon of red lava soil instead of sandstone rock. It appears much as I imagine the Arizona Canyon might 10,000 or more years from now when age has softened its outlines and time has turned its stone to dirt. At the point where we saw it, the bottom was 2500 feet below us. To say the least, it was far beyond my expectations, and I believe when better known, people will come from all over the world to view its majestic beauty. Certainly the only objection to making it a national park might be its similarity to its big sister on the mainland. We were loath to leave entrancing Waimea Canyon, but our steamer 40 miles away left for Honolulu [territory of Hawaii] at 5:00 p.m., so must. En route, we stopped a few minutes at Nawiliwili Bay, where Rogers [Commander John Rogers, who flew a seaplane from San Francisco, California, to Hawaii in August-September 1925, although the final 500+ miles of the trip was made "sailing" on the Pacific Ocean after running out of fuel] and his aviators made port in their famous flight. Our steamer we made with a few minutes to spare, and after dinner on steamer with music by a Hawaiian orchestra as an aid to digestion, we lingered on deck through a beautiful tropical evening listening to the splash of the waves against the boats' prow, and watching the flash of the lighthouses on the island promontories. [Arrived at] Honolulu [territory of Hawaii] at 6:00 a.m. Sunday, and the end of a long-to-be-remembered trip.

23 April 1926 - Column title and byline: From Estes Park to Long Beach, California, and Return by Automobile by J.E. Macdonald. (Continued from last week) We reached Albuquerque, New Mexico, at 6:00 p.m., 269 miles from Deming, New Mexico. Left the Alvarado Hotel at 7:00 a.m. Roads fine. The La Bajada Hill, 23 miles from Santa Fe, New Mexico, might cause an experience driver a thrill or two. The last 20 miles into Las Vegas, New Mexico, were muddy, due to a slight fall of snow the night before. From Las Vegas, New Mexico, to Watrous, New Mexico, the road was fine, having been widened and graveled since we passed over it in the fall. From Watrous, New Mexico, to Springer, New Mexico, through Wagon Mound, New Mexico, not so good, but this piece has also been improved. From Springer, New Mexico, to Trinidad fine road. Reached Trinidad, 279 miles, at 7:00 p.m. From Trinidad [where they likely stayed with their daughter] to Pueblo, the road was excellent, except a short stretch out of Trinidad. From Pueblo to Colorado Springs good road. The road from Colorado Springs to Denver is all paved or being paved, and will, when completed, be a fine piece. From Denver to Boulder and on to Estes Park roads excellent. Total mileage from Long Beach, California to Estes Park [not sure if this includes the detour down to San Diego] 1829.7 miles. A drive to the Pacific coast is well worth taking, and under ordinary conditions between the months of November and May should be free from danger or inconvenience. There are filling stations and garages at frequent intervals, and a first-class hotel can be reached easily in a day's run. I predict that within 10 years, a large portion of both the California desert and Arizona desert will be well populated. Already large real estate developments have started around Phoenix, Arizona, and El Centro, California, and all through the Imperial Valley. Most of the rivers in Arizona and California run upside down [sic], and anywhere on the deserts, water can be obtained by drilling a well from 40 feet to 60 feet.

It is a curious fact that just as soon as these desert sands are supplied with irrigation, they will grow practically anything from "soup to nuts". With a closed car, one can travel as comfortably as in a Pullman, and see interesting country which cannot be seen from a train. There are high spots in the scenic line which can never be forgotten. The inspiring majesty and beauty of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River, the marvelous and exquisite coloring of the Painted Desert, the thrilling wonder of the Apache Trail, the Roosevelt Dam and the Globe Phoenix [Arizona] Highway, the fascinating novelty of the desert, the Native American pueblos and quaint Mexican towns, the Turnbull Canyon, Topanga Canyon, and Santa Ana Canyon, Laguna Beach, and the Ocean Boulevard at San Diego, California, the Mission Inn at Riverside, California, the Mission Play at San Gabriel, California. All these and the many pleasant side trips we took around Phoenix, Arizona, and Long Beach, California, will be pleasant memories for a long time.

23 April 1926 - Column title and byline: On the Trail of Good Books by Alice Lindsey Webb...I want to call your attention particularly to seven books tonight, all "jolly good ones", too. Three of them treat of different phases of justice, one is a strange and strong character-development novel, two are adventure tales, and the last a group of folk tales. The first three are Arthur Train's "The Blind Goddess" (Scribner, $2), "Valor of the Range" by Laurie York Erskine (Appleton $2), and Harold Bindloss' "Pine Creek Ranch" (Stokes, $2). Mr. Train, out of his own rich experience in the criminal courts of New York as assistant district attorney, has built up for us a most convincing picture of what procedure there is, using as his vehicle the adventures of an idealist of a young lawyer from upstate, Hugh Dillon, who begins at the bottom, and has his ups and downs of fortune as a result of the attentions - friendly and hostile - of politicians and their satellites. While pleading the cause of justice for a poor client, Hugh had the good fortune to attract the attention of Moira Devens, daughter of the wealthy Irish political boss. She had gone to the court out of curiosity, as guest of the judge who was an old friend of her father. She was a warm-hearted, bright girl, and Hugh inspired her with an ambition to help the unfortunates she saw at the bar of justice. He did not know, though, that her interest was really in him, and that he would go to jail to protect her from learning facts that would break her heart. He defends her pitiful old mother from a murder charge, and, of course, finally marries the girl. The meat of the book, however, is not the story, but the expose of the way in which justice is bound hand and foot, too often, by selfish political ambitions of the attorneys, judges, and minor officials of the courts...Erskine's novel is a melodrama in which a gentle-minded but greatly courageous boy, David Parmalee, defies his sternly domineering old father to save a cattle rustler from a private lynching party the old man had planned. David believes in letting the law handle those things, and his father, a holdover from the old days, when there was no law but the strong hand of the man who could force his will on the community, tries to break the boy's will, and sets in motion retributive forces that come near to causing the lad's death. Naturally, there is a girl in the tale, daughter of the owner of the rival ranch, who takes David's part and insists, in a most unconventional manner, in running off to share his peril in a cave among the rocks. His father's hired gunman acts as chaperone, however, and everything comes out all right in the end, after much shooting and fast riding...Bondloss' novel takes us up into Canada, out on the Manitoba prairies, and shows us the struggles of the homesteader, the difficulties of climate and labor and finances, and the schemes of those who would take advantage of the bad years to get ranchers into debt, charge excessive interest, take their crops and, at last, their land. The story revolves around two young couples. One man is a discouraged Englishman who, in the clutches of one of the extortionists, has begun to drink, and in his cups sends to the old country for a wife. She is a poor but plucky little milliner with a good business head and a loyal soul. She sees where the difficulty is, and determines to pull him through. And she does, though he has his lapses from grace. The other couple are on neighboring ranches, Larry Elliot and his childhood playmate, Margaret Ogilvie, grown into a beautifully and rather coldly proud woman. Her father is trying to get control of the entire countryside, believing that the small ranchers should be crowded out by the big ones in the interests of more efficient farming. His daughter does not share his hard-hearted philosophy, and is secretly ashamed of his cruel selfishness, but is intensely loyal to the last. Larry champions his homesteading neighbors, and gets into considerable trouble for that reason, but finally sees justice done all around and wins Ogilvie's respect and consent to his marriage to Margaret.

23 April 1926 - Column title and "byline": Estes Park Trail Homemakers' Page (copyrighted) (Conducted by Miss Alice L. Webb)...Headline: An Interesting Week. The week of 22 April to 29 April is a particularly interesting one, and mother or father should call the children's attention to the various anniversaries coming within its range. It was 135 years ago, 22 April 1791, that President James Buchanan was born at Stony Batter, Pennsylvania. The same day, in 1918, the notable surprise raid of the British on the submarine base of the Germans at Zeebrugge was made, undoubtedly shortening the war materially. 23 April is St. George's Day. He should be the patron saint of all boys and girls with their own little dragons of temper and selfishness to conquer. This day, too, is the anniversary of the birth and death of William Shakespeare. He has been dead just 310 years, and he was exactly 52 when he died. The same day, 75 years ago, the next greatest English poet, William Wordsworth, died at Rydal Water. 25 April is St. Mark's Day - and you know tradition makes Mark the founder of the Christian church in Alexandria. If John Keble, author of many hymns, were still alive, he would be 134 years old 25 April 1926. Another noted English poet, William Cowper, died in Norfolk 25 April 1800. The next day is celebrated as the Southern Memorial Day in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, and Mississippi. 26 April 1926 to 2 May 1926 is International Boys' Week. General Ulysses S. Grant was born 104 years ago, 27 April 1822, at Pleasant Point, Clermont County, Ohio, the same day that Samuel F.B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, was born at Charlestown, Massachusetts, 27 April 1791, and Louis Kossoth, the young Hungarian patriot who led the insurrection of 1848, was born on 27 April 1802. That day, too, is the one on which our New England poet philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson died, on 27 April 1882, at Concord, Massachusetts. 28 April 1926, it will be the 173rd anniversary of the birth of President James Monroe in Westmoreland County, Virginia.

30 April 1926 - Column title: Scissorettes. Reprinted from the Boulder County Miner and Farmer: The scenic picture and lecture tour undertaken by the Denver and Interurban railway in the southern states, with Passenger Agent Richards in charge prior to his death, and which was continued by Mr. McGuckin, his assistant, was extremely well received wherever exhibited, and company is receiving many calls for the lecture in other cities of the south. It seems quite likely that this form of publicity of the tourist attractions is the most effective of all forms of advertising. Pictures speak a language that all people understand, and the pictures of the mountains are more eloquent than any man.

30 April 1926 - Headline: Estes Park Man with American Fleet at Manila Bay, Philippines. E.B. Johnson of Estes Park is very proud of the distinction that was his alone of the 1482 men who comprised the battle crew of the American fleet at the battle of Manila Bay, Philippines, in that the battle was fought on his birthday. This coincidence was later the cause of his being called to the flagship Olympia by Rear Admiral Dewey, who extended his personal congratulations [photograph interrupting text: Unframed half-tone head-and-shoulders documentary image of E.B. Johnson, approximately 40 years old, boxy and blandly distinguished, posed 3/4 right profile and wearing a dark suit and tie and dark cap. The photograph is uncredited.] in these words: "I wish to commend to your mind the fact that you had a greater salute fire on your birthday than the Queen of England, the Czar of Russia, or the Kaiser of Germany. Mr. Johnson joined the American navy shortly before the declaration of war with Spain, and served three years and eight months before being mustered out, as many others did on this particular fleet since they could not sooner return to this country following the expiration of their terms of enlistment. The battle of Manila Bay, Philippines, was fought on the morning of Mr. Johnson's 27th birthday with him in command of one of the gun crews on the cruiser Boston. During this engagement, in which the large Spanish fleet was entirely destroyed by the seven American battleships and hundreds of Spanish were slain and wounded, not a single American life was lost. Mr. Johnson was born in Stockholm, Sweden, and came to America with his parents while still a boy. They made their home in Bristol, Connecticut. His first experience on the sea was obtained when he became a member of a whaling crew on a vessel bound for the waters of Greenland. Upon his return, he shipped with a Nova Scotia, Canada, vessel, to South America, and from there, on another vessel to Africa. From here, he shipped to other points, and before his career as a seaman was completed, he had visited practically every country in the world with salt-water communications, and had been several times around the world. In China, he joined a British police vessel, and was engaged in several fights with Chinese pirates. At the age of 55, Mr. Johnson finds himself about as far from salt water as it is possible for one to get, but quite content to spend his time in Estes Park, the garden spot of the Rocky Mountains, and the playground of the nation, where he engaged in the profession of house painter and decorator.

30 April 1926 - Headline: Pioneer Coloradoan and Native American Fighter Dead. Daniel Osborn, pioneer Colorado Native American fighter and joint owner with his sons of the first automobile stage into Estes Park, via the Big Thompson Canyon from Loveland, passed away Saturday evening at the home of his son, Will Osborn, in Denver. Mr. Osborn was born in Iowa, 9 August 1841, and left there in an ox train for Colorado when 19 years of age. He arrived in Denver with the family of his father in 1860, when that city was a town of less than 2000. Shortly after coming to Colorado, he came to Boulder, where he married, and in 1895, moved farther north to the town of Loveland, where he farmed a small tract just west of the town. In 1903, he and his sons, Will Osborn and Estes Osborn, purchased the Estes Park Stage Line, and in 1904, established this as an automobile bus line [both of these dates may be a little early], using the famous Stanley Steamer, which then was the most powerful automobile built. This line was operated for several years by the Osborns, and disposed of to the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company at the time they purchased the Stanley Line from Lyons to Estes Park [in 1916, although they later purchased their Block 3 building back from the Rocky Mountain Parks Transportation Company]. Shortly after coming to Colorado, the Native American disturbances broke out and Mr. Osborn was a member of several parties to engage them in hostilities in the northeastern part of the state. Mr. Osborn was one of the owners of the [current] Patterson garage building at the time it was built. He was a Mason and a member of the Grand Army of the Republic (GAR), and these organizations assisted in the services, which were conducted by Albin Griffith, formerly a pastor of the United Brethren church of Loveland, of which Mr. Osborn was a member. He leaves to mourn his going four sons, W.A. Osborn of Denver, Otto Osborn of Denver, Ralph M. Osborn of Portland [presumably Portland, Oregon], and Estes Osborn of Estes Park. The funeral occurred in Loveland Tuesday afternoon, and was attended by many of the Estes Park residents.

30 April 1926 - Joke: "Little boy," asked the well-meaning reformer, "is that your mamma over yonder with the beautiful set of furs?" "Yes, sir," answered the bright lad. "Well, do you know what poor animal it was that had to suffer in order that your mamma might have those furs?" "Yes, sir - My papa."

30 April 1926 - Headline: Elk Farms Supply Meat for Market. Percy Jones has realized his childhood ambition. "When I'm a man," he told his playmates of years ago, "I'm going to raise elk. See if I don't." Percy stuck to his word, and today he is raising elk on the Newmasket [sic, suggest Nemasket] Range, 16 miles outside of Plymouth, Massachusetts, on the road to Middlebor [sic, suggest Middleboro, Massachusetts]. To him, and his older brother Maurice, the United States has sold all but 30 of the herd of nearly 1000 Wapita [sic] deer, or elk, which, up to recently, roamed the national range at Dixon, Montana. On a range of 1200 acres on Cape Cod, these animals are now running wild. When they have become plentiful enough, the surplus animals will be killed for meat and shipped to the markets of Boston, Massachusetts, and New York. Because nobody else in the country was prepared to round them up, ship them in freight cars, and take care of them as a herd, the government awarded the animals to the Jones brothers. All through his yearly years, Percy Jones talked in earnest about he raising of elk, while his neighbors laughed at him, and advised him to raise vegetables for the summer trade. They continued to ridicule his idea in 1905 when the brothers quietly began buying up land after reading a Department of Agriculture pamphlet in which experts called attention to the raising of elk as food-producing animals. Recently, the scoffers were forced to laugh on the other side of their mouths. On one eventful day, a long train of special express cars pulled into Middleboro, Massachusetts. Gathered at the station was the entire town. The elk had come. Through the heavy wooden bards of their freight car cages, the great, soft eyes of the Wapita [sic] looked out, surveying the strange scene. This was the country from which their ancestors had been driven by the Native Americans many years before the Pilgrim fathers had come to settle in Plymouth, Massachusetts. Larger than the ordinary deer of the eastern forests, the elk has a shaggy reddish mane about his neck, his back is lightish brown, with a large shaggy circle of white hair over his hind quarters, which he raises up as a danger signal to his followers when he runs. The horns of these animals had been cut off before they left Montana, they are sometimes as much as four feet high. The first shipment consisted of 400 head, and it was with no little effort that the shy beasts were detained. Great, wooden ladder like shields were used to prod and urge the Wapiti [sic, previously Wapita, although Wapiti is now the preferred spelling] from the cars to the trucks, which carried them to their new home. At the range, the trucks were backed up to a dirt ramp, and the tailgates were drawn. But instead of leaping out, the frightened animals went right on pushing each other and stamping around inside the truck. Sometimes, it took as much as five minutes before one of them would raise her beautiful head, look out across the ramp, and then, suddenly, with one desperate lunge, bolt for liberty. Soon the others followed. "The reason we chose Massachusetts for our elk-raising is that conditions are perfect there," said Maurice A. Jones, in explaining the venture. "Then, too, it is one of the best states without laws against selling the meat. The elk is not so tame as the ordinary deer. The deer will live where there are people, and come and steal a bit of food off the back porch when the winter is rough. But the elk won't stay where there are people. So he was driven west. Massachusetts made her game laws after he had disappeared, hence she didn't say anything about selling elk venison. The western states made their game laws while there were still wild elk left, so it is against the law to sell the meat there. Elk meat is a delicious and profitable sort of food. We calculate that we can raise elk at from 6 cents to 8 cents a pound, production cost. That's about what it costs to raise beef. Elk, however, are much easier to raise than cattle. The elk thrives on less food than any other member of the deer family, or any other animal near its size, and is almost immune to disease [sic]. It puts on weight faster than the reindeer, which is grown in Europe, and which our government is growing for meat in Alaska. Elk will browse on the young tips of trees and bushes, which acts on the bushes as pruning does on apple trees. They do well in pasture land, and also in land covered with scrub growth, as is the case. White oak tips, of which they will find plenty here, give a peculiarly delicious flavor to the meat. The meat is not so gamy as deer meat, and it is peculiar in that the fat is as good as that of the buffalo's hump, which is regarded as a delicacy in the west. Elk meat has one-third more nerve-building and energy-building qualities than beef, mutton, or pork, and one-third less fattening qualities." After the fence is put up, Mr. Jones explained, there is nothing else to do except see that the elk are kept inside of it. They feed and take care of themselves. They will dig down to get at grass under the snow, or stand on their hind legs and browse eight feet from ground. The cows breed at two years of age, bringing forth their first calves on their third birthday, and one a year from that time on. The Elk Breeding and Grazing Association, which is the name of the Jones Brothers company, hopes to increase the herd to 2200 head, the numbers that could be raised on their 1200 acres. A year ago, they bought nine elk from Rushville, Illinois [actually they bought 10, but one died in transit], which are now much at home on the Nemasket Range, and proved the feasibility of importing more. This year, the government decided that the National Bison Range of 18,000 acres would soon grow too crowded if the 900 to 1200 elk there were kept along with the 500 buffalo. The opportunity that the Jones boys had been looking for had arrived at last. It was not long before Percy Jones and Maurice Jones and Ike Milton, on their cow ponies, had rounded up the first 400. The cost of the work and the carfare from Montana to Middleboro, Massachusetts, Mr. Jones said, had made the elk worth about $85 a head. Jumping over to Pennsylvania, we find the deer here making a nuisance of themselves. The state's game protective measures have been too successful, and have resulted in the accumulation of a large number of half-tame does frequenting settled areas. These animals have made inroads on farmers' crops and orchards, and, as a result, a law has been passed giving landowners the right, under certain rules of the game commission, to kill such animals when injuring their property and use the carcasses. In this connection, the following statement by the Pennsylvania State Game Commission, Seth E. Gordon executive secretary, is enlightening. "Last winter, a committee representing sportsmen and farmers sponsored legislation to relieve farmers and fruit growers from inroads on their crops and orchards by deer in various sections of the state. The Department of Agriculture then reported that material damage had been done by deer in about 20 counties of the state, and urged relief from these depredations. The legislature provided several methods of relief. The old law permitting landowners to kill deer to send to charitable institutions when material damage was continued, and, in addition, the state game commission was required to designate the sections of the state where deer are committing serious depredations, in which designated areas the law allows landowners, under certain stipulated conditions, to retain and use in their own households all edible portions of the carcasses of deer killed, instead of sending them to charitable institutions. The game commission, after deciding upon a constructive plan of action, on 13 July 1925, took the first step toward relief, and designated 17 counties and parts of three counties as having within their borders segregated or scattered areas in which deer are doing sufficient damage to warrant allowing landowners, whose lands are open to public hunting, and whose crops are actually being injured, to retain the carcasses of deer killed as provided by law, the district game protector to be the judge in the matter of damage. This action of the board does not authorize killing deer anywhere else in said counties, neither does it authorize the killing of any other kind of game to be retained for food. During a period of about a month prior to 13 July 1925, nine deer, four bucks and five does, were killed, and the carcasses either sent to charitable institutions or buried because they were unfit for food.”

30 April 1926 - Column title and byline: Estes Park Trial Homemakers' Page (copyrighted) (Conducted by Miss Alice L. Webb)...Subhead: Other dates to remember. Here are a number of other dates it might be interesting to remember. 1 May was Admiral Dewey's victory at Manila Bay, Philippines, in 1898, and also the birthday of Joseph Addison, whose English essays we all study at school. He was born in 1672. That same day, in 1700, the poet John Dryden died at Soho, and was buried with great pomp in Westminster Abbey. 5 May 1896, the first airplane [sic, in any event a heavier than air machine] flight [sic, technically a catapult launch] across the Potomac River was made in the trial flight of Professor Samuel Pierpont Langley's machine. That same day is marked by the death of two noted men - The naturalist writer Henry D. Thoreau in 1862 at Concord, Massachusetts, and Real Admiral William T. Sampson at Washington, D.C., in 1902.

30 April 1926 - Column title: State Briefs...During January 1926 and February 1926 in Washington County, Colorado, 60,658 jackrabbits were slaughtered. In one year, these rabbits would have destroyed 120,000 bushels of corn. This would fill 84 freight cars and make a train 3/4 of a mile long.
